GERMAN TERMS NEXT.

It is regarded as entirely probable that when these aims have been stated Germany, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey will announce the conditions upon which they will make peace.

When the declaration of all the powers engaged in the world struggle have been made public, it will be possible, according to the Germans, for the belligerent peoples to determine how far apart they are in connection with the establishment of a just peace.

In his communication to the provisional government at Petrograd, President Wilson has shown the unselfish motives actuating the United States. This government wants nothing tangible. It desires no territory and no indemnity. It merely wants the world made safe for democracy, which includes the rights of small nationalities to govern themselves.

The President's principal desire is to see the abolition of autocracies such as the imperial German government and the imperial Austro-Hungarian government. France, in the communication she made to Russia, declared her purpose to insist upon the evacuation of French territory and Belgium, reparation for the damage she and Belgium have suffered and the cession of Alsace and Lorraine.

TREMENDOUS MINE EXPLODED; THEN ALLIES RUSH GERMANS.

English Offensive that may Lead to the Decisive Battle is Started Along Nine-mile Front in Belgium—Fate of the Keystone City Hangs in Balance.

BY ARTHUR S. DRAPER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, June 7.—Field Marshal Haig today started one of the most tremendous drives of the war. This morning he struck the biggest blow of the Allied offensive since the Canadians charged successfully up Vimy Ridge.

On a line nine miles long Haig sent his men forward to the attack. The front he chose was the Messines-Wytschaete Ridge, running almost due south from Ypres, held by the Germans since October, 1914.

"Everywhere," says the official report "we captured our first objectives." The number of prisoners taken is already more than a thousand and the town of Messines, the entire ridge and a score of other important points are in British hands.

NOT A SURPRISE.

There is no element of surprise in the resumption of the offensive at this time. Since May 27 the official reports from Berlin have been carefully keyed to prepare the German public for a terrific blow from the Ally forces. During the lull on the front which has continued for the past three weeks scarcely a day has gone by on which the German reports have not made reference to the violence of the artillery fire from Ypres down through the Arras front. If the German expectations are well founded one of the decisive battles of the war is now raging furiously.

LILLE THREATENED.

At 3:10 o'clock this morning Haig's forces started their advance. Throughout the day he has carried on his attack on a tremendous scale. The fate of Lille hangs on the result of the battle. The British lines are now within five miles of that important industrial center and continued pressure will threaten it seriously.

EXPLODE GIGANTIC MINE.

What was probably the greatest explosion the world has ever known heralded Haig's attack when dawn broke this morning and the engineers touched off more than a million pounds of mine explosives under the German forward positions. This work, the product of many month's hard labor, went off with an effect which could hardly be equaled by any earthquake. The surrounding country was literally blown to pieces, and the explosions must have caused the death of many thousands of Germans who have been brought recently into this area in vast masses in order to withstand the expected British attack.

For a week past the Germans must have endured the tortures of hell, for apart from the actual effect of the heavy artillery fire on their lines, the bombardment must have prevented the bringing of either food or water near the front for days.

It is worthy of note that the official German communique avoids all reference to the results of today's fighting. It still emphasizes the heavy artillery duel.

WORK OF AIRMEN.

In the past few days the British gunners and airmen have surpassed themselves. The latter swoop fearlessly down over the German lines, spotting the enemy batteries and signaling back to the gunners, who generally put them out of commission forthwith.

The battle just begun between enormous forces on both sides is the sequel to frequent local actions recently, as well as the perpetual bombardment of the German aerodromes and munition bases at Zeebrugge, Bruges, and other places in Belgium. It is likely to last for a considerable time, for it is impossible to regard it in any other light than as a deliberate trial of strength between the British and German forces. In addition it gives the lie directly to the Kaiser's recent assertion that the British offensive on the west front had ended. As the attack pushes on to the German second lines the material results of the drive will multiply. Hope of a great success, possibly greater than any that has yet attended the Allied arms, is strong in London.

ROME REPORT.

Today's communique from Rome reports the repulse of an Austrian assault in force along the Bachre Valley in the Trentino. It is only through the Trentino that there is any danger of an invasion of Italy and the Austrian diversion begun there in the early stages of the Italian offensive failed promptly. However, now that the Italians have suffered a serious reverse on the Carso, which must have considerably disturbed their plans, it may be the Austrian purpose to strike again along the northern frontier.

Accounts of the battle of the Southern Carso, as issued from the two capitals, are extremely contradictory, but it is clear that Italy has lost some of the fruits of her first success. However, as long as Cadorna holds Jamiano and the trenches running northeastward to Castagnavizza the potential menace to the Austrian left flank remains. And north and east of Gorizia is the mountainous territory within the Isonzo bend where the Italian gains seem secure.

Continuous.

LOSS ADMITTED BY GERMANS; BATTLE CONTINUES VIOLENTLY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN (via London) June 7.—"In the Wytschaete salient, the enemy has broken into our foremost positions zone," says the German official communication this evening. "The fluctuating battle still continues violently."

BRITISH VERSION.

LONDON, June 7.—The British troops made a second drive and carried the village of Oosttaverne and the German positions east of the village over an extent of five miles, it is officially announced tonight.

The German casualties were very heavy and the British took more than 5000 prisoners, many guns, trench mortars and machine guns.

The text of the statement reads:

"Our operations south of Ypres have been continued methodically throughout the day and have been attended by complete success.

"The Messines-Wytschaete ridge, which for over two and a half years has dominated our positions in the Ypres salient, was stormed by our troops this morning. In this attack we captured the villages of Messines and Wytschaete and the enemy's defense systems, including many strongly-organized woods and defended localities on a front of over nine miles from south of La Douve brook to north of Mont Sorrel.

"Later in the day our troops again moved forward in accordance with the planned operation and carried the village of Oosttaverne and the enemy's rearward defense system east of the village on a front of over five miles.

"In the course of this advance an attempted counter-attack against the southern portion of our new positions was completely broken up by our artillery fire.

GERMAN CASUALTIES.

"The enemy's casualties in today's fighting were heavy.

"In addition to his other losses, up to 4:30 in the afternoon over 5000 German prisoners passed through the collecting stations. Others are still to be brought in. We also captured a number of guns, many trench mortars and machine guns, which have not been counted.

"There was again great activity in the air yesterday, with many fights. Five hostile formations, one of which consisted of over thirty machines, were attacked and dispersed with heavy casualties. In the course of the fighting, nine German airplanes were brought down. At least nine others were driven down out of control. Six of our airplanes are missing."

Supremacy.

BRITISH ARTILLERY TRIUMPHS; COMMANDING RIDGE CAPTURED.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT IN FRANCE WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES, June 7 (via London, June 8.)—The British armies struck today on a new front and won a victory which supplements the successes at Arras during the last two months. The Germans, though apparently aware that the blow was coming, and seemingly prepared to meet it, were driven from their nearly three-years' hold on Messines Ridge, opposite "poor old" Ypres, the last remnant of an important Belgian town, which, with the help of the French and British in turn, has held out against all the massed attacks which the Germans could fling against it, including the first great surprise of poison gas as a means of supposed civilized warfare.

Ypres in a sense was avenged today, for Messines Ridge was but the vantage point from which the Germans have poured torrents of shells into the stricken city. The British also wiped off an old score against the Germans, for they held the ridge in October, 1914, and with very thin forces and virtually no artillery, fought bloodily, but vainly, to hold it when Prussian troops massed their modern and overpowering weapons of war against it.

GERMANS PREPARED.

Today's attack lacked many of the elements of surprise which accompanied the battle of Arras and the successful storming of Vimy Ridge. There has been no doubt for three weeks past as to the intentions of the British. The Germans knew that a big push was to be made against Messines and they had plenty of time to prepare for the defense of that place. Prisoners taken today, however, declared that the bombardment of Vimy was child's play compared with the gunfire turned upon Messines Ridge.

This fire reached its climax just as dawn was graying the eastern skies and while the full moon was still suspended high in the heavens. Today's successes along about a ten-mile front from Observatory Ridge, southeast of Ypres, to Ploegsteert wood, just north of Armentieres, proved another triumph for British artillery supremacy. As the fighting was wholly on Belgian soil, however, the Belgian artillery stationed some distance north of the actual line of attack, lent aid with a violent bombardment of the German positions within range of its varied-calibred weapons.

MESSINES RIDGE.

Messines Ridge is a low-lying promontory extending along the greater part of today's fighting front. At its greatest height it rises barely seventy meters above sea level. The surrounding country is so low and flat, however, that Messines had an observation value virtually incalculable. It was a position which dominated the northern half of the British line in the West, and no operations of a large character could be planned without its possession.

Seventy meters is not a great height, but when you have been sitting at twenty or thirty meters with the enemy looking down at you and pouring shot and shell incessantly about you, possession of the higher ground means a victory of supreme importance.

Today's attack was accompanied by all the arts and deviltries of latter-day warfare. The enemy guns and gun crews had been bathed for days in gas shells sent over by the long-range British guns. The night was filled with red incendiary flames. Shells that spurted molten

RAISE MORE, EAT LESS.

A New Appeal to Americans.

Food Dictator Urges that We be Put on Rations for Sake of Hygiene.

Declares United States Must Use Every Effort to Feed the Allies.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Food Director Hoover, in a statement today, appeals to the American people to assist the food administration in its efforts to increase production and to conserve American supplies.

"We are at war," it says. "We must do what success in war demands. He also fights who helps a fighter fight. That is the way we can all help in the war, and if we don't help the war will not be won."

The situation abroad was outlined by Mr. Hoover as follows:

"Great Britain normally raises about one-fourth of the grain she needs for her bread, France about one-half. The additions necessary to make up the total quantities needed are brought in from various other countries. But in these abnormal times the native production of the fighting Allies is greatly reduced by the withdrawal of man power from the farms to the army and munition factories; also by reason of late frosts this year's crop in the United Kingdom, France and Italy is a partial failure. Opportunity to import from certain grain-raising countries, as Russia and Rumania, is entirely lacking and from certain others, as Australia, South America and India, is greatly lessened on account of the long haul for which ships cannot be spared.

"In addition, the actual cereal and meat consumption of the Allied countries is increased by the transfer of millions of men from sedentary occupations to those of great physical activity and by the wastage incidental to the feeding of the great armies in the field. There must also be recognized the greater demand for seed grain to maintain the dairy and meat supplies and the cavalry horses of the armies."

AMERICA'S DUTY.

America's duty is set forth by Mr. Hoover thus:

"All these conditions throw on North America the brunt of the burden of supplying our co-belligerents with the human and animal food necessary to maintain their great armies in fighting condition, as well as to keep alive and efficient the families of the fighters and the great industrial army at home.

"The exports from America necessary to meet these needs, which absolutely must be met if the war is to be won, or even is to be carried on at all during the next year, must be immediately greater than they have been in normal times.

"The requirements in cereals alone for the next year of the Allies, and the few neutrals whose needs must be given some consideration, are 1,000,000,000 bushels. The needs of meat, fats and sugar also are enormous. Native production and imports from other countries can meet but a part of these requirements; what is left must come from us, yet this amount is far beyond any surplus that we shall have if we try to maintain our normal consumption. Our wheat prospects for this year are not encouraging. A reasonable forecast would indicate a crop of between 650,000,000 and 700,000,000 bushels. We have never exported more than 500,000,000 bushels of cereals in a year, yet the needs abroad are for twice that.

"The moral is clear: our consumption must be reduced. This can be done, first, by elimination of waste; second, by the substitution for the kinds of food needed by the Allies of food not so needed, but which we can just as well use, as corn for wheat, poultry and eggs for red meat, and so on; third, by voluntarily restricting ourselves to a sufficient and sensible ration, which, rather than being hurtful, will be of advantage to us physically, and if done at a little sacrifice of preference of taste or inclination for a feeling of over-repletion, will be of advantage to us morally."

BEATEN TO DEATH; ASSAILANT ARRESTED.

Frank Rivera, a painter, was found beaten to death in the rear of the Cannon buffet, No. 525 Central avenue, early this morning. Half an hour later John Griffen, a concrete worker, was taken from his room in the Hotel Francis, No. 747½ Central avenue, by Detective James and Sergt. Wallace and charged with manslaughter.

Griffen admitted to the officers that he had engaged in a fight with Rivera in the Cannon buffet. Rivera, he said, had challenged him to fight six times during the evening, but he ignored them all until Rivera attacked him.

ROW OVER WOODEN SHIPS IS REACHING A CLIMAX.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Chairman Denman of the Shipping Board, who has been represented as opposing Gen. Goethals's plans to restrict wooden shipbuilding, said tonight:

"None of the members of the Shipping Board had any knowledge of the statement attributed to the engineers, Mr. Eustis and Mr. Clark, intimating a refusal by Gen. Goethals to build as many wooden ships as he might, nor had they the slightest intimation that they were to be issued. Gen. Goethals, as head of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, in the service of which they have been acting, has entire responsibility for the shipbuilding programme, wood and steel. That power was given him when the board was organized April 16, 1917.

"The board has not insisted that either wood or steel be given preference. All that we desire is the maximum of quickly-conferred tonnage, for immediate war necessities. Gen. Goethals has not requested any assistance from the Shipping Board and any request for assistance he might have made or will make would have been and will be given immediate attention.

"I have previously indicated my opinion as to places where discussions of such a serious character would be initiated. Apparently these gentlemen do not agree with me."

BOTH EXPECT TO QUIT.

Mr. Eustis and Mr. Clark are serving the fleet corporation without pay. Both indicated tonight they expected their resignations would be asked, but declared they felt it to be their duty to put the situation before the American people and show them that ships can be built to overcome the German submarine campaign. Mr. Clark explained tonight the tangle over commitments for wooden ships. When first employed he and Mr. Eustis, he said, directed some shipbuilding companies to go ahead with wooden shipbuilding, leaving the form of contract to be determined later. The builders, he said, were given to understand that they would get at least 10 per cent. on their work. Gen. Goethals, he said, on taking charge, stopped all work and the prospective builders had been unable to obtain any satisfaction as to whether they would be given contracts.

CLARK'S STATEMENT.

Mr. Clark's statement said:

"As far as we can learn, the present programme contemplates about 3,000,000 tons of shipping in eighteen months. This amount was sunk in the first four months of this year and the shortage is already appalling. The wooden-ship programme has been cut to one-fifth of its original size—apparently to make room for steel ships. It is possible to build of wood 2,000,000 tons more than are at present contemplated without in the slightest degree interfering with the steel construction.

"A crisis in shipping will arise about December and our allies and our success depends on our ability to begin to produce ships by that time. Very few steel ships can be produced in time.

IS NOT ENOUGH.

"Even if we build all the wood ships we can in addition to the steel, we can only hope for a total of 5,000,000 tons in eighteen months. This is not nearly enough. In deliberately neglecting 2,000,000 tons of wooden ships we are taking terrible chances. The construction of wooden ships has been limited in many ways. The standard design is difficult to build, requires a high percentage of skilled ship carpenters, large timbers and much hand labor. This ship is too large for the Welland Canal locks, eliminating a large number of ships which would be built in the Great Lakes. Many of the old Maine builders are willing to build a slightly different ship than the standard design, but will not build the standard, as it represents a radical departure from their established practice.

"We have another design which it is believed can be built much more easily and much more rapidly—which has been accepted by the American Bureau of Shipping and by Mr. Ferris, the board's consulting architect, and which many builders much prefer. The original form of contract called for payment on the basis of cost plus a flat fee. This is the form used by the Canadian government and by our own navy.

THE PRESENT POLICY.

"The present policy is to insist on contracts on a flat price, putting all the risk on the contractor. In view of the uncertainty as to how the war will affect business conditions, most of the contractors are unwilling to take this risk and are withdrawing their offer to build. Further delay in starting construction would be ruinous. Civilization looks to us to create the tonnage which may prevent the submarine from winning the war. In this race of construction against destruction we can afford to overlook no material nor design which will increase our output of cargo-carrying craft."

Gen. Goethals would not comment tonight on the statements, but said he probably would have something to say tomorrow.

OFFICERS TO BE PAID SOON.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7. — Men at the reserve officers' training camp at the Presidio will receive their pay as soon as the pay roll can be prepared, according to records received here today by Lieut.-Col. Frederick W. Sladen, camp commander, from the War Department. The men will be paid at the rate of $100 a month and will be entitled to pay from the day they entered the camp until May 31. They will be allowed transportation at the rate of 3½ cents a mile.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] (30)

SEATTLE, June 7.—Lieut. Kenneth Heron, U.S.N., superintendent of new work at the Puget Sound navy yard, Bremerton, was found dead in bed with a gunshot wound tonight, in his room in a Bremerton hotel. A naval board tomorrow will investigate the death to determine whether or not the wound was self-inflicted. Heron was 34 years old and a native of California.

Military Necessity.

MANHOOD OF AMERICA TO FILL ALLIES' BREACH.

Revelation of Campaign's Failure is Made by the London Times.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 7.—To compensate for what amounts temporarily at least to a truce between Russia and the Central Powers nearly 2,000,000 American troops are needed in Europe, a recognized authority here declared today in commenting on the situation. He estimated that exactly 1,815,000 are needed by the Allies to raise their strength against the Teutonic powers to a point equivalent to that held four months ago. This developed in commenting upon the remarkable discussion, attributed to the London Times military correspondent, of the failure of the Allies' campaign in 1917.

This authority asserted that there could be no doubt that the military critic was not the author of the article, but that it was written with the authorization of the British General Staff, if not a member of the General Staff himself. The article contained information, he asserted, that was not available to any civilian or other person not connected with the British War Office. He characterized the article as England's explanation of the failure of the Allies, occasioned by their inability to assert a superiority of force over the Central Empires, to maintain an effective offensive. He said:

"The critic placed the blame for the Allied failure upon Russia. The provisional government of Russia has not been able to hold the Russian troops up to the butchery of war. They are tired of fighting, and, lacking discipline, they are not moved by pleas for national honor, for their Slav brethren, the Serbs, or for the Allies. They want peace and unless they can be overcome they will have it."

SUBMARINE DEFEATED BY CALIFORNIA STEAMER.

Silvershell, Owned by Shell Oil Company of this State, was Vessel Reported to Have Destroyed German Diver Several Days Ago in Running Battle in the Mediterranean.

PARIS, June 7.—The American steamer Silvershell has had a battle with a submarine in the Mediterranean. After an exchange of sixty shots the submarine disappeared.

Details of the fight were made public today by the Minister of Marine. The Silvershell, commanded by Capt. Tom Charlton, sighted the submarine on May 30. In the running fight which followed the American boat proved speedier than its enemy and seemed also to be the master in gunfire. The disappearance of the submarine was sudden.

The Silvershell is a steamship of 5405 tons owned by the Shell Oil Company of California. She sailed from America early in May with a crew of forty-three men, of whom fifteen are American citizens. Her commander comes from New York.

Rear-Admiral Lacaze, Minister of Marine, said it was unknown whether the submarine was sunk by a shot from the Silvershell or submerged voluntarily to avoid further punishment. News of this occurrence was received with immense satisfaction by the French public, coming after the announcement that an American squadron had arrived at a French port. Admiral Lacaze referred to the value of this co-operation and laid emphasis on the multiplication of patrols with the assistance by hydroplanes as the quickest way of disposing of submarines.

WASHINGTON STATEMENT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The Silvershell is the steamer referred to in yesterday's State Department announcement as having sunk a German submarine after an exchange of sixty shots in a running fight of an hour and a half.

The State Department did not announce the name of the steamer because it has been this government's policy not to disclose the names of ships having engagements with submersibles, because officials feel it marks the ship for further attack, as they believe was the case with the Mongolia. That vessel, after having once been identified with a submarine encounter, has repeatedly been attacked as though the submarine flotilla had set about especially to destroy the vessel which had the temerity to engage it with such persistence. It has been the policy also not to identify the gun crews on merchant ships so as not to add to their hardships in case of capture.

lead in streams crashed in appalling numbers about the heads of the defending soldiers. High explosive and shrapnel fire was carried out with such rapidity that the earth writhed under the force of the attack.

"DAY OF RETALIATION.

Mines that had taken two years to dig and fill with an overwhelming explosive broke into an avalanche of flaming destruction in the half light of dawn. This was indeed an Ypres day of retaliation and victory for the vicious sufferings of two years and eight months.

Hill 60, of evil renown, always the nearest menace to Ypres, went up with other strong points under the impulse of hundreds and hundreds of tons of high explosives. The mining plans had been so great and so carefully made that the British knew that even if they did not effect the strategy of the situation they would at least materially change geography. However, both strategically and geographically, the assaults were victorious.

All the corps and divisions employed reported tonight that their objectives had been reached and maintained.

There has been good fighting throughout the day, although the artillery successes had made the infantry assaults comparatively easy. Late tonight the Germans were reported massing in two flanking positions apparently for heavy counter-attacks. The British meantime, however, had brought their guns far forward on the ridge and were prepared.

DAY OF INTENSE HEAT.

It was a day of intense heat and the gunners worked stripped to the waist. The attack went forward with clock-like regularity. At noon 3200 prisoners had been counted and it was fully expected that they would reach 5000.

The British casualties were slight. Three out of four of the casualties were reported to be walking cases who would return to duty in a few days.

Today's victory was a tribute to the British army commanded by Gen. Sir Herbert C. O. Plumer. This army has had the defense of the famous Ypres salient ever since the salient was created. The army has sat in the shadow during the brilliant phases of the Somme and Arras offensives, but at last has come into its own.

The preparations for today's show had been made carefully and deliberately. Everything was worked out down to the last minute detail of the itinerary of each of the tanks. The tanks, by the way, had a field day.

The attack began at dawn and the setting was as picturesque as can well be imagined. The day before had been hot and sultry. Toward evening there was a series of thunderstorms which extended well into the night, the lightning mingling with the flashes of the guns, but the thunder being virtually unnoticed amid the din of the cannon. A full moon struggled continuously to break through the heavy clouds which scudded across the velvety night sky.

The Germans had been completely dazed by the most gigantic mining operation yet carried out in the world war.

More than 1,000,000 pounds of high explosives had been placed under the German forward positions during the last twelve months, and the upheaval of a score of separate mines spread panic among the troops, already harassed as they were to the point of distraction by seven days and nights of fire from the greatest concentration of guns on a given front since the war began. The battle of Arras apparently had reached the ultimate in this respect, but today's bombardment was carried out by 20 per cent. more guns, especially guns of heavy caliber.

FAMILIAR PICTURES.

On the way to the front were all the familiar pictures of the war, endless trains of motor trucks, all varieties of horse transport, including old timbers and wagons which should be handed down from Civil War days. The British soldiers marching to battle, light of heart and singing songs familiar in every American community. The steel shrapnel hats are uncommonly hot, so in last night's humidity most of the soldiers were tramping along bareheaded, loath to don this impediment until compelled to do so by proximity to exploding shells.

From within the shadow of an old mill which has withstood the storms of a century and been undaunted by nearly three years of war, the correspondent witnessed the last phases of the seven-day preliminary bombardment and the final outburst of the guns which sent the British infantry confidently on their way to new successes in fighting the greatest military nation the world has ever known. The guns were flashing all along the ten-mile front at midnight, just as they had been flashing for a week past.

ROCKET SIGNALS.

From the German line the same lazy looping rocket signals were ascending to illuminate the treacherous bit of ground between the trenches known as no man's land. This nightly "strafing" had been going on so long that the enemy considered it entirely normal and took no alarm. Occasionally blue and yellow rockets would be flung into the air by Germans holding the front line. The Germans are always so prodigious in their use of illuminants that the British never bother about such details in the trenches, leaving all this very necessary, but somewhat boring work, to the enemy.

The nights are very short in these northern European latitudes and dawn comes at a very early hour. It was just after half-past 3 o'clock that the British guns began to cease to fire, as if the nightly demonstration of "hate" was ended. To those who knew, however, this sudden and strange silence had the same meaning as a similar period of quietude just before the battle of Arras broke into flaming fury two months ago.

One by one the guns became silent. There was the old "grandmother" howitzer of enormous caliber, which kept breaking the peace at five-minute intervals, the shock of each succeeding explosion and the shriek of the heavy shells being emphasized by the silence which lay over all the surrounding country. In this silence could also be heard an ominous sound which hitherto had been completely submerged in the roar of the British guns. It was the spiteful swish and spit of the German shrapnel breaking in the open.

After the British guns had been still twenty minutes or so, even this sound ceased, the German gunners evidently considering they had effectually silenced all the opposing batteries. For about ten minutes the silence became intensely oppressive. In the east streaks of dawn were showing pale through rifts in the storm clouds which lurked along the horizon in all directions.

High in the heavens the full moon struggled for supremacy over the thin veil of clouds which all but hid the less brilliant stars. Somewhere in the distance a cock crowed, a strange sound to be heard in the very storm center of the world. Then followed the clang of the triangle—an alarm that enemy gas shells were about. The old grandmother howitzer was again maintaining at least a semblance of "hate."

MINES EXPLODE.

Day was scarcely breaking when from the dimly-visible ridge a score of fierce volcanoes seemed suddenly to spring from the earth. The night had been filled with strange noises, and still stranger sights, but these masses of flames, leaping from the ground, had a meaning all their own. They were the spectacular outward and visible evidences of more than 1,000,000 pounds of high explosives which had been buried deep in mines below the enemy's positions for months.

All the world appeared lurid and horrible under the sinister glow. The earth shook, as if torn by a great seismic disturbance. It was not a single shock. The force of the explosion actually set the earth rocking to and fro, and under the influence of giant guns, which immediately began to roar from far and near, the trembling continued indefinitely. It was ten minutes past 3 o'clock as this final, terrific bombardment began.

It had seemed that the battle of the Somme attained the ultimate in the close assembly of war weapons, but this sudden outpouring on Messines ridge was beyond all calculations. The lighter field guns far forward set up a perfect curtain fire, under which the assaulting troops trudged confidently to their allotted goals. Farther back, the deep-throated heavies began to pour out torrents of high-explosive shells on the German trenches and communications, while still other guns—enough to win any ordinary battle—confined themselves solely to the task of deluging German guns and gunners in baths of gas fired in shells of every conceivable caliber.

BATTERY WORK.

The effect of this counter-battery work was not appreciated until later in the day, when the infantry sent back word that their progress had not been hampered by the enemy artillery and that their casualties amounted to virtually nothing.

Great black observation balloons had stolen skyward during the din of the newly-begun battle. In the wood back of the windmill, spring birds, awakened by the deadening clamor, had begun to sing joyously. Like so many children who have come into the consciousness of being in the midst of the war, these birds regarded the appalling noise of the battle as a normal condition of life.

The smoke of the giant mines exploded along the battle front meantime rose in great, curling plumes toward the sky and was punctuated by red signals for help from the stricken Germans in the front and support lines. Never was the air filled with more frantic notices of danger. The entire horizon glowed with red balls of fire sent up by the nervous Germans. British airplanes began to make their appearance. One flew over the lines, the flashes of the guns being reflected brilliantly on its highly-glazed wings.

GERMANS DAZED.

Under this appalling fire trudged forward on the ten-mile front Gen. Plumer's army. At many places the men found German troops utterly dazed by the mine explosion and the ordeal of the artillery fire. Many of these troops had but recently come from Russia, where they had spent eighteen months, and knew nothing of what actual warfare was like on the western front. They had bolted at the first mine explosion and had only been gathered together in groups by their noncommissioned officers when the British appeared out of the smoke and shells and made them prisoner. Their surprise at what a modern battle is like was no greater, some of the prisoners said to the correspondent, than the fact that they were not killed immediately by their captors.

They said they had been given to understand by their officers that the British always killed their prisoners. It was really pitiful in some instances to see the manner in which these prisoners cringed to their captors.

As a matter of fact, the British soldier, when the fighting is done, is inclined almost too strongly to treat the German prisoners as pals. Some of the prisoners taken today had only gone into the German lines last night and had made their way forward under a galling fire and had lost heavily. But the troops already in the line were calling for relief in such a manner that their appeals could not be denied. In view of the fact that the attack had been expected, the German commanders were endeavoring to get their best units actually into the fighting front, but had underestimated when the British would strike. The troops in a strange line were utterly bewildered when the attack began and fell easy prey to the advancing British.

"SHOW" REHEARSED.

The Irish, New Zealanders and Australians, who had been rehearsed in every detail of "the show," knew just what to do from the moment the word to advance was given. The battle today was far more visible during the first uncertain moments than later, when the sun gradually burned its way through the eastern bank of clouds. By that time the smoke of exploding shells and the vapor from the blinding barrage, which had been part of the artillery duty, obscured the more distant landscape to such an extent that the roaring guns could not be seen at all, though the firing was almost at one's feet. The brilliantly-leaping shrapnel shells, breaking far above ground, appeared through the thick smoke only as brief and brilliant electric sparks.

With the coming of day, however, the air began to fill with British fighting planes, which had already done so much preparatory work toward the success of this assault on the time-worn German positions. For a month past, but especially since June 1, the airplanes on this front have been indefatigably at work during every possible flying hour. They had brought down nearly fifty machines in six days as a means of blinding the enemy. Lately the Germans have endeavored valiantly to obtain airplane observations for their artillery, but their observing machines have seldom been able to direct more than one or two shots before the British fighting scouts had pounced upon them and either sent them crashing to the earth or had driven them to cover at break-neck speed.

Today the British planes flew far and low over the enemy's retreating lines and were only challenged by some very bad shooting anti-aircraft batteries. These batteries appeared so harassed by the British shells which must have been falling about them that their efforts at the flying planes were almost ludicrous at times. What they lacked in accuracy, however, they made up in quantity and by the time the sun shone forth in summer splendor the sky was completely dotted with black shrapnel puffs.

Peace.

signs upon the Pacific islands which she wrested from Germany.

Belgium, Serbia, Rumania and Montenegro want to regain control of their own territory. They also want indemnities.

Avowedly on the same principle that France desires to regain Alsace and Lorraine, Italy is insisting upon Austrian cession of the so-called Trentino territory.

The war aims of the Central Powers have not been defined. Turkey is anxious to be let alone. Bulgaria wants the Dobrudja, from which she was driven in the second Balkan war, and which she has reoccupied, and certain Macedonian territory.

Austria-Hungary purposes to see, according to her claim, that she is not again menaced from the Balkans, which means that Serbia is to be annexed or left under Austrian suzerainty.

Germany has expressed a willingness to withdraw from Belgium and France but she will not pay indemnities. She will insist upon the restoration of her colonies and also has designs upon the Belgian Congo.

There are several points upon which the belligerents are in agreement:

(1.) Establishment of the kingdom of Poland.

(2.) Disarmament.

(3.) The need of some scheme to prevent future wars.

When all the war aim notes to Petrograd are made public doubtless agreement will be found to exist as to other points. However, there are certain fundamental differences which will remain, such as the establishment of a German and Austrian democracy.

It would be giving a false impression to say that any one in Washington believes that peace is at hand. Indeed, the President and his advisers resolutely have set their faces against anything of the kind and are preparing for a long war—a war of years. If it were believed that peace is imminent, it is certain the country would not be arranging to order men to the colors; expending hundreds of millions of dollars in preparation for and prosecution of the war; devising a law for placing burdensome taxes upon the people, etc.

The government at Washington is pursuing the wise course of straining every nerve to fight Germany, of mobilizing all the resources and all the man-power of the nation to bring the imperial German government to terms and to end the war. In this course, the government is and must be sustained by every patriotic citizen. Moreover, the danger to the United States has become the greater as the result of the practical withdrawal of Russia from belligerent operations. Freed from a serious attempt at invasion on their eastern front, Germany and Austria-Hungary can transfer their men to the west and against Italy and either make a tremendous drive at one point or the other or meet with calmness the British, French and Italian assaults.

Germany is nervously anxious to have the war terminate before the United States will be ready. She figures that six months hence, 1,500,000 Americans will be available for service in France and that a few months after that time another million men will be equipped for combat. It is fully expected by the military authorities of the Entente, therefore, that the Berlin government will do its best to deliver a knockout blow to the Allied cause and, in the meantime will use every means in its power to bring about peace negotiations.

The Socialist conference in Stockholm unquestionably is controlled by the Germans. There is little doubt that German agents are actively behind the peace movement in Russia and that once the terms of the Allies are made known they will seek to convince the Russian people that they conflict with the provisional government's declaration of opposition to territorial annexation and indemnities.

The Great War.

ITALIANS FAIL TO WIN GROUND

Fruitless Attacks are Made in Vipacco Valley.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

VIENNA (via London) June 7.—Efforts made by the Italians to win back the ground the Austrians had taken from them on Monday were fruitless, the War Office announced today. A total of 27,000 prisoners has been taken by the Austrians on the Italian front since May 12, it is declared.

The official statement reads:

"On the Isonzo last evening the enemy continued his attempts to recapture the positions we wrested from him on Monday.

"The Italian mass attacks collapsed everywhere with heavy losses. Thirty officers and 500 men remained in our hands, making the total of prisoners captured since May 12 exceed 27,000.

"In the Galle Valley an Italian battle biplane was shot down, and both the occupants captured uninjured.

"Our assaulting troops successfully penetrated enemy positions in the Dreizennen region. Yesterday there was livelier firing by the Italian guns in the Sugana Valley and on the plateau on the Seven Communities.

"Southeastern war theater: In the region southeast of Berat (Albania,) our covering troops drove back enemy detachments in the Osun Valley."

ITALIAN STATEMENT.

ROME, June 7 (via London.)—Repulse of an Austrian attack in force on the Trentino front is announced in today's statement from the War Office. In the sector above Trieste the Austrians, heavily reinforced, made violent attacks. After an all-day battle they were repulsed completely.

AUSTRIAN CLAIMS.

LONDON, June 7.—The capture of more than 10,000 Italians in three days is claimed in the Austrian official statement issued Wednesday. The statement says:

"Italian theater: The enemy exhausted himself in fruitless attacks between the Vipacco Valley and the sea intended to wipe out the defeat he suffered in the last few days on the Carso plateau. His assaults were shattered. Our troops, by storming a height near Jamiano, enlarged their success, and in fierce battles maintained all ground won.

"According to preliminary reports, the prisoners in the last three days have been increased to 256 officers, including four staff officers and 10,000 men. Some Italian regiments fell into our hands unwounded, with nearly the whole of their effectives. For instance, the Eighty-sixth Regiment with 2636 men, the Sixty-ninth Regiment with 1932 men and the Seventy-first Regiment with 1631 men. The brigades of Verona, Syracuse, Puglia, and Taconna, in whose ranks these units fought, were annihilated. In a tunnel near San Giovanni a large field hospital was captured. The battlefield is covered with Italian corpses.

"On the moonlit night of the fifth Italian airmen visited towns and places far behind our front. In the Austrian interior they came as far as Laibach, in the Tyrol, as far as Bozen, in addition to raiding the coastal district and Corinthia. Some inhabitants were killed, but there was no material damage."

MACEDONIAN FRONT.

SOFIA (via London) June 7.—The official statement issued by the War Office on Wednesday reads as follows:

"There was weak artillery fire on the whole Macedonian front. On the right bank of the Vardar and south of Huma an enemy attack against Bosilkova was repulsed. There was aerial activity in the region of Barichaden and an enemy airplane was brought down.

"On the Rumanian front there was rifle firing near Isakcha, Tultcha and Mahmudie."

FROM PARIS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, June 7.—The official statement issued by the War Office tonight reads:

"The artillery action was quite violent during the day on the Chemin-des-Dames, especially in the region south of Filain. Everywhere else the cannonading was intermittent.

"Eastern theater, June 6: The enemy artillery was very active on the right bank of the Vardar. British aviators bombarded Furka, while French aviators bombarded Voli and Pogradets."

CHICAGO SALESMEN MAKE BOND RECORD.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Liberty Loan bond salesmen in the business district sold a total of $4,168,000 worth of the securities in the week the force has been at work, it was reported today. The "million-a-day" mark was made on Wednesday, when a total of $1,047,000 worth of securities was sold.

BULL CALF SELLS FOR AMAZING SUM.

WORCESTER (Mass.) June 7.—D. W. Fields of Brockton, Mass., paid $53,200 for a five-months'-old bull calf at the Holstein Friesian Association convention auction sale here today.

The bull is named King Ormsby Jane Ray Apple. The previous record price for a bull calf was $35,000.

Germans Seem to Think War will be Over by Next Year.

BERLIN, June 7, 10:34 p.m.—The ceremonies which it had been purposed to hold at Eisenbach and Wittenberg next fall in commemoration of the four hundredth anniversary of the Evangelical Church, have been postponed until 1918, owing to the war-time conditions preventing any observance of the occasion commensurate with the importance of the event. The ceremonies planned for next fall throughout the empire, therefore, will be of a local nature only.

HOUSE REJECTS OLD JAMESTOWN SITE.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The House today rejected the conference report on the $2,261,294,641 war budget bill because of a $2,000,000 appropriation inserted by the senate for the purchase of the old Jamestown Exposition site and buildings and the construction of a naval base and training station there.

The bill was sent back to the conferees with instructions to eliminate the exposition site provision. This probably will be done promptly in order not to further delay the great war measure, which now has been the subject of conferences for about two weeks, with disagreements over various provisions.

What shall become of the Navy Department's request that the site be acquired for an urgently-needed naval base and training station at Hampton Roads will be left to the naval committees. They probably will report a separate bill later.

DISPUTED MONEY IN GOOD USE.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Federal Judge William C. Van Fleet of the United States District Court today ordered the release of $2,290,000 impounded in seven San Francisco banks for the purchase of Liberty Loan bonds. The money represents a sum in dispute between the city of San Francisco and the Spring Valley Water Company over rates, settlement of which is now before the courts.

OFFICIAL AIDES FLAY GOETHALS

Say He Halted the Building of Wooden Vessels.

Virtually Charge Impossible Form of a Contract.

Emergency Fleet Construction are at Loggerheads.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Differences over the government's wooden shipbuilding programme came to a head tonight when F. A. Eustis, assistant general manager of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, and his assistant, F. Huntington Clark, issued statements virtually charging Maj.-Gen. George W. Goethals, general manager of the corporation, with halting building of the vessels by prescribing an impossible form of contract.

The statements reveal that the fleet corporation has just received offers from ten firms to build wooden ships within twelve months or 786 within eighteen months. Goethals has turned the proposals down because the builders would construct the ships on a cost plus 10 per cent. profit basis instead of contracting for a flat price for the ships.

Mr. Eustis and Mr. Clark are mining engineers who originated the wooden shipbuilding plan adopted by the Shipping Board and indorsed by Gen. Goethals as practicable. When the board formed the fleet corporation and put Goethals at its head, with full powers to build ships, the two engineers were assigned to the corporation as the general's aides.

After taking charge of the building programme Gen. Goethals switched to steel construction and limited the wooden programme to not more than 250 ships in eighteen months. Mr. Eustis and Mr. Clark say the corporation can build the wooden ships within that time without interfering with steel construction.

Gen. Goethals could not be reached tonight for comment on the statement.

Enthusiast Interest Shown All Over the Nation.

Will Help Turn Tide in the War, Expert Declares.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Assistant Secretary Vrooman said in a statement tonight that while the agricultural department's campaign for a million backyard gardens had been "over-subscribed" plans must be made now to triple or quadruple them during the coming year. "Behind our splendid army of gardeners," said Mr. Vrooman, "that is fighting Kaiserism along with our troops in France. In March the government called upon the people of the United States to plant at least a million back yards and vacant lot gardens this spring. According to our reports, it will not be surprising if the returns should show that there are two million town gardens now producing food for their owners.

"Our reports show the widest and most intelligent interest in canning surplus foods for winter use. The extension office of the Department of Agriculture is working hard in an attempt to supply the demand for information. Exactly what effect all this will have on the nation's food supply is hard to say. It is going to help, and it is enough to turn the tide to victory sooner than we expected or hoped."

SUPPLIES FOR OUR TROOPS SAFELY LANDED.

Provisioning of American Army is Well Under Way, Camp and Aviation Parks Already Being Established—Preparations Being Made for Reception of Soldiers.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, June 7.—A large American transport containing wheat for American troops which are to come later has crossed the Atlantic under the protection of an American warship, the Matin announces. The transport is now being unloaded at a French port, the newspaper says.

Preparations are being made for the reception of American troops, the newspaper says further. A number of bases similar to those of the British army have been organized.

Camps have been laid out for infantry and artillery, and aviation parks have been established for American aviators.

The Matin says the arrival of the transport means that the provisioning of the army is well under way before the arrival of the troops and that accordingly the American forces will make no call on the French stock of food.

The announcement adds:

"The French navy greets with joy on their arrival these new brothers in arms who, under the flag of the great American republic, have come to participate until final victory in the struggle against the common enemy."

DANIELS'S ANNOUNCEMENT.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The naval collier Jupiter has arrived in France, Secretary Daniels announced today, laden with 10,500 tons of wheat and other supplies. The ship sailed from an American port without any intimation of her voyage having been given out in advance, and is now at anchor in a French port.

The Jupiter is one of the navy's largest colliers. She was the first electrically-propelled steamer ever built, and her performance was so good that it led to the adoption of electric drive for all new battleships and battle cruisers, the American Navy being the only one in the world to adopt this type of propulsion. The Jupiter was built at Mare Island navy yard, San Francisco, and she has high speed for an auxiliary naval vessel, which would enable her to escape submarine attacks under any but unusual circumstances.

Secretary Daniels did not specify what supplies besides wheat the big ship carried.

"LOAN" AVIATORS BOMB NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—Spectacular Liberty Loan campaigning by United States Army aviators conveyed through air channels today urgent appeals to the people of New York to purchase the bonds. Ten machines, taking wing at a government aero training field on Long Island and at Governor's Island, went aloft carrying 500 pounds of circulars. These they dropped from under rain-filled clouds.

"It might have been a German bomb," was the warning printed in red across each appeal. "To avoid bombs, buy bonds."

RAILROAD BOARDS PLEDGE THEIR AID.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The co-operation of State railway commissions in maintaining "effective control over operation of railroads to meet military and industrial requirements" was pledged to President Wilson in a resolution adopted today by the Executive Committee of the National Association of Railway Commissioners. The President, the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Defense Council were invited to call upon the association for any active aid it might render.

JAIL IOWA FARMER FOR DRAFT EVASION.

DES MOINES (Iowa) June 7.—Pleading guilty to a charge of "wilfully evading registration," John M. Jenkins, a farmer residing near here, was held to the Federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Fitzsimmons today, and committed to jail in default of $5000 bonds. This is the first anti-registration prosecution in the Southern Iowa division of the Federal Court.

STAMP TAXES FOR CHECKS.

Revenue Bill Added to by Finance Committee.

Rate on Raw Cocoa Reduced to Three Cents a Pound.

Measure will be Ready by Middle of Next Week.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 7. — New stamp taxes of 2 cents on bank checks and drafts of more than $5 to raise from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 were written into the war tax bill today by the Senate Finance Committee. The provisions would require persons drawing checks and drafts for more than $5 to affix the stamp so familiar during the Spanish-American War.

All other documentary stamp taxes of the House bill, estimated to raise $33,000,000, were adopted except those on surety and indemnity bonds, which were exempted. The committee decided, however, to reduce the House tax of 5 cents a pack on playing cards to 3 cents for decks costing under 15 cents.

COFFEE, SUGAR, TEA.

Consumption taxes on sugar, coffee, tea and cocoa were fixed finally as previously announced after reconsideration, except that the rate on raw cocoa was reduced to 3 cents a pound and that on prepared cocoa and products increased to 5 cents. The sugar tax of half of 1 cent a pound, 3 cents on coffee, and 5 cents on tea, will stand.

Reconsideration of the proposed repeal of the law giving sugar refiners "drawback" allowances on exports was discussed today, but a decision was postponed. Final settlement of the publishers' tax and possibly other important questions is looked for tomorrow.

SIMMONS'S STATEMENT.

Senator Simmons tonight said he adhered to his former estimate that the committee probably will complete the revised bill with an aggregate tax levy of around $1,500,000,000 on Saturday and present it to the Senate about the middle of next week.

The House tax on club dues of 10 per cent. was struck out with the understanding that some other form of tax may be later imposed.

PLEA FOR DOCTORS TO GO TO FRONT.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Col. T. H. Goodwin, ranking medical officer of the Balfour commission, today appealed to the American Medical Association convention to send 200 doctors and 200 nurses to the western front each month, declaring that human endurance can not stand much more than the surgeons of the Entente Allies are now undergoing.

"On a short line there are from 20,000 to 30,000 wounded in but a few hours," he said. "Shall we leave them there or get them to the hospitals? I think you will realize that the medical men must be on the firing line if the wounded are to receive proper care. Our losses of medical men have been considerable."

Among the speakers today was Dr. R. W. Corwin of Pueblo, Colo. Dr. Arthur D. Bevan of Chicago was elected president of the association for the years 1918-1919.

In addition to the election of Dr. Arthur Dean Bevan as president, the American Medical Association elected officers for the year 1918-1919 as follows:

First vice-president, Dr. Edwin H. Bradford of Boston; second vice-president, Dr. John McMillan of the United States Public Health Service; third vice-president, Dr. Lawrence Litchfield of Pittsburgh; fourth vice-president, Maj. Holman Taylor, U.S.A., Fort Worth, Tex.; secretary, Dr. Alexander A. Craig of Philadelphia; treasurer, Dr. W. A. Pusey of Chicago; chairman of the house of delegates, Dr. Hubert Work of Pueblo, Colo.

A committee of five was appointed to confer with Surgeon-Generals Blue, Gorgas and Braisted for the purpose of formulating plans to be submitted to President Wilson which would confer greater powers on army and navy surgeons in the building of military training camps and their equipment.

The council of public health and instruction of the convention adopted a resolution condemning the use of alcohol as a beverage and as a therapeutic agent.

GERMAN KILLS SELF WHEN NOT EXEMPT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Otto Jappen, age 34, was found dead in his room here today with the top of his head blown off and a shotgun by his side. Joseph Witt, his employer, said Jappen had been worrying because he was not permitted to claim exemption when he registered for the selective draft Tuesday on the ground he had a mother and a cousin in Germany.

Secretary of Treasury Tells Delegates at Closing Session if Germany is Victorious She will Combine Allies' Fleets to Conquer America.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS, June 7.—The annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World closed a four-day session this afternoon after electing officers, choosing San Francisco as the meeting place in 1918, and listening to an address by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo on the Liberty Loan.

At one of the sessions today President Houston read a list of fifty-two products, the cost of which to the consumer has remained unchanged despite a great increase in the cost of production. This unchanged price he attributed to the wider market obtained by advertising.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo told the clubs today that if Germany were victorious over France and Great Britain she would combine her own fleet with those of England and France and then put "the iron heel of the conquerer" on American shores.

Among the vice-presidential nominees who were presented to the convention were E. T. Meredith of Des Moines and Harold Powell of Los Angeles, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

William C. D'Arcy of St. Louis was elected president this afternoon. The men named for vice-presidents by the nominating committee were chosen.

FAIL TO REGISTER, ALIENS ARRESTED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

CENTERVILLE (Iowa) June 7.—Forty-one aliens, many of them Italian miners, arrested for failing to register Tuesday, were taken to Ottumwa, Iowa, today for hearing before a Federal commissioner. Several of the men, at a preliminary hearing, said they had been advised by "counsel" not to register, but refused to say who "counsel" was.

BOHEMIA REVOLTS AGAINST AUSTRIA.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Word that demonstrations verging on the proportions of revolution have broken out in Bohemia against Austrian rule was received here today by J. F. Smetanka, secretary of the Bohemian National Alliance, from Dr. Edward Benes, grand secretary of the Bohemian-Slovak National Council at Paris. The cablegram tells of riots at Prostejov, Moravska, Ostrava, Budejovice and Prague, before the Governor's Palace and continues:

"Address of the Czech Club, comprising all Czech Deputies not in jail, to the Reichsrat, says: 'We demand the union of all the Czech-Slovak lands into one democratic state, of which the Slovaks must be a part.'"

CONTEST PRIORITY OF FOOD SHIPMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The administration bill empowering the President to compel priority of shipment for foodstuffs, fuel and other necessities during the war will be taken up tomorrow in the Senate with administration leaders urging its passage determinedly, but with many Democratic and Republican Senators prepared to make a vigorous fight against it.

Opponents of the bill insist that such power would be unreasonably arbitrary and that preferential foodstuffs shipment is adequately assured by the present co-operative agreement between the roads and the defense council.

Hard Times for the Drinking Man

It is a well-known fact that during such "nerve-racking" times as the year 1917 high-class men take liquor as a stimulant or to "drown their troubles."

It is the "same old story" with every man who does this. His system demands more and more every day to overcome the effects of the poison "stored up" in his system. The Neal Treatment taken at home or at the Los Angeles Neal Institute, 945 South Olive Street (Phone Broadway 4602), will eliminate the poison, create a loathing for liquor and drugs and restore normal conditions in a few days. Rain and High Winds Prevail in Eastern and Midwestern States.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 7.—Rains continued today over Eastern and Middle Western States, but were much lighter than those of yesterday. High winds, however, prevail in all districts, but are diminishing tonight. Eastern Tennessee had nearly three inches of rain and Eastern Pennsylvania reports an inch and a half. The maximum temperature in Chicago was 64 deg. and minimum 58 deg., with a twenty-mile west wind and a trace of rain.

GERARD IS QUOTED BY GERMAN EDITOR.

BERLIN, June 8, 12 m. (via London, 8:50 p.m.)—George Bernhard makes the following assertions in the Vossische Zeitung this morning in reply to the denial of James W. Gerard, former American Ambassador to Germany, forwarded to the legation at the Hague, of a statement he is alleged to have made to the Berlin editor with respect to President Wilson's attitude on the restoration of Belgium and probable German annexations in the East:

"I can very well conceive that my statement is embarrassing to Mr. Gerard, but he cannot dispose of it with a mere denial. He not only once, but repeatedly, delivered himself of expressions which absolutely tally with the statements contained in my editorial of May 24, under the caption, 'Allies.'

"My conversations with Mr. Gerard were invariably very comprehensive, and frequently extended over several hours. I discussed in detail with him, as well as with Mr. Penfield, the American Ambassador at Vienna, during my visit to that city, the possibilities of a Wilson peace mediation. Mr. Gerard naturally endeavored to convince me that intervention on the part of President Wilson was bound to be favorable to us.

"In the course of these conversations I became more and more convinced that American and English interests were closely interlocked, and that, in view of the intimate financial relations between the two countries, Mr. Wilson's endeavors would lie in the direction of bringing about a peace favorable to England.

"Russia was to be sacrificed by England, if only for the purpose of keeping alive the animosity between Germany and Russia, the benefits of which were bound to prove a valuable political legacy in the future."

PLAN WEST'S SHARE FOR RED CROSS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DENVER (Colo.) June 7.—Plans for raising the West's share in the $100,000,000 sought by the National Red Cross Society were discussed today at a conference here participated in by representatives of ten States. The campaign for raising the fund is to start June 18. A message from President Wilson to Lyman L. Pierce, western executive secretary of the Red Cross, was read. It follows:

"You and the western members of the Finance Committee of the Red Cross War Council are about to undertake a great public service.

"The enterprise which you will present to the leaders of the business and professional life in the West at this time is one of the most important contributions to the country's welfare which any patriotic citizen can make.

"Will you not convey to the patriotic citizens of the West my very earnest hope that they will deny you no service which they can render? Cordially and sincerely yours,

"WOODROW WILSON."

WAR MAY HALT DE LUXE TRAINS

Elimination of the Non-essentials Called For.

Nation's Needs to Come First with the Roads.

President Elliott of New Haven Outlines Views.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—Elimination of non-essential commodities from freight traffic, curtailment of luxurious passenger service and the intensification of efficiency are called for in the American Railway Association war board's plans for making the transportation systems of the country best serve the nation's war needs, as announced today. Howard Elliott, former president of the New Haven Railroad, in making the announcement said:

"The public should willingly give up non-essentials. It is going to be a great deal more important for this country to move food, fuel, iron and the like than to move luxuries.

"One of the first and most important measures the railroad's war board has under way is to help move a greater quantity of fuel to the Northwest and at the same time to bring East the greatest quantity of iron ore possible from the upper lake ports. This will provide for industrial activity both East and West next winter and also insure a supply of domestic coal.

"There is a very luxurious passenger service in some places in the country which we would like to keep up but the country can get along without some of it.

"We are suggesting changes in the passenger schedules, not with the idea of saving money, but simply to save man power, all of which must be applied to the transportation of necessities."

Mr. Elliott estimated that, not counting the war board and the railroad officers devoting their time to its work, the railroads of the country are contributing the equivalent of $500,000,000 a year through the service of railroad men in the organization of the transportation system of this country and its allies on a war basis.

AUSTRALIAN VOTERS LIKE WAR POLICY.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

MELBOURNE (Australia) May 10.—The "win-the-war" policy of the coalition or national ministry headed by William M. Hughes, was given strong endorsement by Australia's voters in the Federal Parliamentary election held on May 5. The election was the result of the struggle over conscription last September and October. Conscription, which Mr. Hughes, the then labor party Prime Minister, championed, was beaten by a vote of some 60,000 in the referendum.

After the referendum, however, the situation in Parliament became so strained that an appeal to the country by the government was made. The election was for half Senate—three Senators from each of the six States—and the entire House of Representatives, numbering seventy-five members. Conscription was the chief issue of the campaign.

Having been expelled from the New South Wales labor ranks and being well aware that he could not even hope for success in his old electorate of Sydney, Mr. Hughes shifted to Victoria and sought reelection to the House of Representatives in the Bendigo electorate, which he carried by 3000 votes.

Although women had unsuccessfully essayed before this election to enter the Federal Parliament, there were three women candidates on May 5, but all were defeated.

SLAV RELIGIOUS COLONY STUBBORN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 7.—After a conference today with the State Council of Defense, the leaders of a Russian religious colony, all of whose members except twenty refused to register on Tuesday for the selective draft, decided that the rest would not register and would take the punishment prescribed by the act for refusal. They said in reply to the explanations of the act given by the Council of Defense, that they were aware of the terms of the army act and of the consequences; they were aware, too, of their right to claim exemption as conscientious objectors, and they knew that they would not be called upon to bear arms. But they said that they believed that to go through the form of registration would be to "condone" war.

Moreover, the leader said that the "holy ghost" as long as two years ago had told them that there would be a registration for war and had ordered them not to register.

The Council of Defense, at the conclusion of the conference, decided to refer the whole matter to the United States Attorney. In the meantime, Assistant United States Attorney Langston had sent a report of the affair to the Department of Justice.

STOCKHOLM AFFAIR LOSES PRESTIGE.

PARIS, June 7, 3:10 p.m.—"The Socialist conference at Stockholm, without the participation of American, Italian and French delegates, will lose a great part of its prestige," said Jules Cambon, general secretary to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, today. "It will not have the practical character its organizers expect. We appreciate that the United States has shown by its refusal to provide Socialist delegates with passports that the greatest democracy in the world will not consent to tolerate that any party should substitute itself for the regular government of the country."

GERMANY FINES CITY OF MONS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, June 7 (via London, 8:32 a.m.)—The city of Mons has been fined £20,000 because Belgian papers, published in Holland, announced that Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria was in Mons when the city was bombarded by allied airmen.

DOG SEES LION; GETS LOCKJAW.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHAMPAIGN (Ill.) June 7.—A farmer's dog barked so hard that he got lockjaw when he saw the mysterious lion which is loose in Champaign county is the only damage known to have been done by the wandering king of beasts. The dog, Scoop, had never seen a lion and made a terrible row over it. The posse of farmers which pursued the lion last night caught frequent glimpses of the animal but finally lost the trail and came home empty handed. The last tracks seen indicated that Leo was headed toward Urbana. Farmers are keeping watch over their stock. The latest theory to account for the lion is a recent circus wreck in Indiana.

DANBURY UNIONITES LOSE THEIR HOMES.

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) June 7.—A decree ordering the sale of the homes of 140 workmen in Danbury, Bethel and Norwalk to satisfy the judgment in the Danbury hatters' case was signed by Judge E. S. Thomas of the United States District Court today. Sidney E. Hawly is made special master to conduct the sales, which will begin July 16 and continue until August 9. The plaintiffs are D. E. Loewe & Co., who brought suit against a union boycott of the products of their hat factory. The judgment was for $252,130 damages. Nearly $60,000 has already been paid on account, but the accumulation of interest accounts is such that about $250,000 is still due. There are 130 pieces of property in Danbury and Bethel and ten in Norwalk. Their sale is expected to yield something like $200,000, leaving a deficiency judgment.

This decree marks the closing chapter in a remarkable case which had its inception in September, 1903, when the Hatters' Union entered into a written agreement with each of the defendants whereby it agreed that "it would pay all of the expenses of such defendants and save each individual from all liability."

Later the American Federation of Labor took over the defense and pledged "such financial support as may be necessary in the pending contention."

From that time on the federation was in charge until a judgment against the defendants was affirmed in the United States court in 1914, when it disclaimed further responsibility. Later the federation took up a voluntary contribution which is said to have totaled about $150,000.

Loewe & Co. announced that if the sum was paid over to the defendants it would discontinue all proceedings and give the defendants a release. The union declined to do this and the plaintiffs then took steps to obtain satisfaction of the judgments. It is said that the unions have declared that they will indemnify the defendants after their homes are lost.

KEY ROUTE ASKS TO RAISE FARES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway, commonly known as the Key Route, has asked the Railroad Commission for permission to increase its passenger fare for ferry and interurban service. The company contends the present fares are "unduly low, noncompensatory and confiscatory."

KRONSTADT REVOLT A CLOSED CHAPTER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, June 7 (via London, 10:35 a.m.)—The Kronstadt incident is closed. The local Committee of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates has recognized the authority of the provisional government.

The so-called Kronstadt republic surrendered unconditionally to the provisional government. The peace agreement says:

"In accord with the decision of a majority of the Petrograd Council of Deputies, which acknowledges that the present provisional government is invested with complete authority in the state, we on our side also recognize that authority."

The local Committee of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates at Kronstadt decided on June 1 to assume control of the great fortress and to refuse recognition of the provisional government. The government officials were removed. The secessionists put forward a programme of splitting Russia up into a great number of self-governing communities and sent missionaries out to try to persuade neighboring towns to join them. The Socialist ministers in the provisional Cabinet, M. Tseretelli and M. Skobeleff, went to Kronstadt from Petrograd and endeavored to persuade the seceders to abandon their plan. The present surrender is apparently a result of their arguments.

SWEDISH SOCIALISTS WON'T STRIKE YET.

STOCKHOLM, June 7 (via London, 7:10 a.m.)—The demand made by the Socialists of the Left that the Central Committee call a general strike throughout Sweden has been refused.

The committee conceded that the reply by Premier Swartz to the Socialist interpellations was unsatisfactory, but declared that present conditions did not justify a general strike as a response.

MOONEY TRIAL JURY COMPLETE

Elderly Men Predominate Among the Twelve.

No Union-labor Representative in the Box.

Taking of Testimony will Begin Monday.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The jury to try Mrs. Rena Mooney for murder growing out of a bomb explosion here last July which claimed ten lives was completed late today.

The jurors are Philip Maloney, a retired janitor, age 70; John T. Welby, retired merchant, 79; August Era, retired German newspaper editor, 62; Frank M. Channing, civil engineer, 60; Baptiste Joesten, optician, 70; Arthur Bryant, contractor, 65; A. C. Kropf, retired painter, 55; Thomas Brady, retired, 73; Orlando Boezio, retired liquor dealer, 71; William R. Hardwick, buyer; Charles L. Beal, retired accountant, and S. W. Holman, retired tanner. The three last named did not give their ages.

There are no union labor men on the jury. The two who had been temporarily passed were eliminated by the State's peremptory challenges.

A thirteenth juror ordered by the court to sit as alternative in the case of incapacity in the regular panel will be selected tomorrow.

The taking of testimony will begin Monday after an opening statement by Asst. Dist.-Atty. Ferrari, who has announced that four weeks will be consumed in presenting the State's case. The prosecution will have several witnesses who did not testify in the trials of Warren K. Billings and Thomas J. Mooney, both of whom were convicted.

The State will attempt to prove that Mrs. Mooney entered into a criminal conspiracy with four other defendants to stop the preparedness day parade, July 22, during the progress of which the explosion occurred.

In adjourning court Superior Judge Seawell admonished the jurors to be suspicious of any persons discussing the case in their presence and requested them to report such cases to him.

DENIES SUPPORTING CHINESE REVOLT.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Secretary Lansing today most emphatically denied reports published in the Chinese press that the United States was supporting the revolutionary movement there and had even furnished funds for it.

He said he had no idea upon what the charges were based, but that he deplored them for creating a false impression of this country's good will towards China.

It is thought possible, however, that the Chinese press may have become confused over the attitude of Minister Reinsch in Peking. Reports have come from there that he was instrumental in inducing the Chinese government to follow this country in severing relations with Germany and that resentment had been created against him in certain pro-German and anti-government quarters.

HASTEN ILLINOIS DRAFT TABULATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 7.—Officials of the War Department sent messages today to the thirteen counties and four cities, Chicago, East St. Louis, Rockford and Springfield, which have not yet reported their total registration under the draft law, urging them to hasten their tabulation. With these units unaccounted for the tabulation tonight showed the remainder of the State had registered 245,836. Of these 147,224 claimed exemption, approximately 55 per cent. of the registration.

JEREMIAH LYNCH DIES AT REDDING.

REDDING, June 7. — Jeremiah Lynch, capitalist, former State Senator, author and miner, died here today. He was stricken in Shasta, Cal., today, and brought here to a hospital. Physicians said he died from an aneurism.

He was born in Fall River, Mass., in 1849, coming to California in 1858. He was a member of the California Senate from 1883 until 1886, and is well remembered for his fight against C. P. Buckley, a former political power in California.

"I am not going to die," he cheerfully told friends at his bedside a few minutes before he passed away.

During his political life Senator Lynch was an exponent of clean politics. In 1899 he wrote a pamphlet entitled "Buckleyism," which has been credited with having driven the blind political leader out of politics.

In 1898 he joined the rush of gold hunters to the Klondike, where he remained three years. During the past twenty-five years he circled the globe many times. He wrote many books, and his "Egyptian Sketches" added to his fame.

DECIDES TO REGISTER AFTER NIGHT IN JAIL.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SEATTLE, June 7. — Seven coal miners, natives of Finland and employees of mines at Newcastle, who refused to register yesterday, changed their minds today after a night in the City Jail here and were enrolled today and released. A. Toboda, a native of Spain, arrested in Seattle yesterday after refusing to register, was enrolled and released.

AMERICA'S WARMTH PLEASES ITALY.

ROME (via Paris) June 7.—Warm appreciation of the welcome accorded the Italian mission to the United States was expressed to the Associated Press by Viertore Scolaiola, Minister without portfolio in the Italian Cabinet.

"In the extraordinary reception America has given the mission," said Minister Scolaiola, "and in the warm hospitality which is now enjoyed, we feel sure lies the promise of a close understanding and a permanent collaboration between Italy and the great overseas republic. Although our mission arrived at a time when it would seem the first moment of passionate enthusiasm always accompanying a declaration of war must have given place to the concentration necessary to the mobilization of all the nation's forces, is has had a reception so cordial, so spontaneous, so impressive, after that extended to the British and French missions, that our country feels profoundly touched.

"The alliance between Italy and America will lead to new and greater commercial relations, new sympathy in spirit and in common political actions with a view to realization of conditions of liberty for the peoples who still suffer from the violence imposed upon their nations by tyrannical governments. All this will be a solid basis for the relations of the future which can never be shaken, as it is impossible to see how even the slightest of differences could arise."

FARM LABORERS CALIFORNIA'S NEED.

SACRAMENTO, June 7. — First-hand information in regard to the farm labor situation in Central California counties, which this year will show increases of many millions of dollars in crop production, is being sought today by A. H. Naftzger, vice-chairman of the State Council of Defense, in a tour of San Joaquin, Stanislaus, Merced, Madera and Fresno counties. In each county visited conferences are being held with County Councils of Defense regarding the safeguarding of growing crops from fires, and on other matters pertaining to defense organization.

According to reports reaching the State Council of Defense and the Committee on Resources and Food Supply of that body, which is handling the State-wide farm labor problem, the five Central California counties named will present the most difficult of tasks in supplying an adequate supply of farm labor to harvest forthcoming crops. It is believed that not less than 20,000 extra laborers will be needed to help save the immensely-increased peach, raisin, grape, grain and other crops.

Military Census.

REGISTRATION RETURNS SLOW.

No Estimate of the Number Actually Enrolled.

Indicated Exemptions Show High Percentage.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Registration returns came in slow today and tonight from Tuesday's great military census, preventing anything approaching a conclusive estimate as to the number of men actually enrolled. An official statement today, however, said such partial returns as were at hand indicated that the 10,200,000 estimate of the Census Bureau for the number of men within the prescribed ages would not be equaled.

The feature of the few complete returns is the high percentage of the indicated exemptions, averaging approximately 50 per cent. of the total registration. Officials pointed out, however, that this did not mean actual exemptions, as the indicated figures include all married men and those in executive, judicial or legislative offices. Until exemption regulations have been promulgated it will be impossible to say how manw of these will be included in those to be marked off the military rolls.

The one conclusive result of the registration that cannot be altered in the slightest degree by any possible variation from the estimates is that millions of young Americans have put in their names claiming no exemption, and stating no reason for release from war service.

In regard to the married men, Secretary Baker said today that in all the letters he has received on the subject of exemption, not one even suggested that marriage should establish a class exemption. He added that individual cases would be dealt with on their merits, no matter what the reason for exemption might be.

BAKER ENTHUSIASTIC.

The Secretary was enthusiastic over the results of registration. He expressed his appreciation of the work done by Provost Marshal General Crowder, and by the State and municipal officials, declaring the day had been "a spectacular demonstration" of the solidarity of the American people and of their high patriotism, of which the enrollment was the best evidence.

Mr. Baker thinks it will be some time before the regulations governing exemption are issued.

The complete working out of these regulations and the appointment of exemption boards, the Secretary said, will precede the issuance of regulations to govern the selection of men for examination. He had no comment to make on the selection process beyond the statement that a fair system would be adopted.

Exemption boards will be localized as much as possible to make it easy for selected men to get to the place of examination without interfering any more than is absolutely necessary with their regular occupations.

Officials generally said tonight the fact that the few States which had sent in their complete figures at a late hour showed with two exceptions falling off from census estimates for total registration, should not be taken as indicating any great number of evasions. All reports from Department of Justice agents and others tended, on the contrary, to show that there was a surprisingly small number of skulkers.

Representative Park of Georgia sought further legal measures today to deal with slackers. In a bill introduced in the House he proposed that men who failed to register be disfranchised for the duration of the war.

MORE REQUESTS.

Additional requests for registration cards were received today from several consuls and the shipments were made promptly.

Provost Marshal Crowder issued this statement tonight:

"Some published press reports are to the effect that figures received in the office of the Provost Marshal indicate millions of claims for exemption. These reports consist of conclusions erroneously drawn and very unjust to the young men of the country. As a matter of fact no claims whatever have been called for or received.

"Registration cards contain some questions that were asked solely for statistical reasons. The answers to these questions are tabulated in such a way as to show how many registered men are executive, judicial or legislative officers of the State or nation, how many have wives or other relatives dependent upon them for support, how many are totally disabled and how many belong to religious sects, opposed to war in any form or are ordained ministers or are engaged in certain industries.

"Absolutely no statistics of this kind were extant before the registration and such statistics were necessary in drafting regulations."

SAVES SPRINGFIELD RIFLES FOR TROOPS.

WAR DEPARTMENT CONSERVES THE FIREARMS.

This Seriously Affects the Phoenix Club's Drill Command, Which Protested Promptly, but will Receive Order Already Paid for by the Organization.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) June 4.—Despite the announced intention to arm the new army with the English Enfield rifle, the War Department lately determined to save up, for the training of troops, the 500,000 or so Springfield rifles now on hand. Announcement was sent to civilian rifle clubs that no requisitions for ordnance would be honored. As this order was made retroactive, it was of serious importance to the Phoenix Rifle Club, which had forwarded payment for about 250 additional rifles a month before, and which was anxiously awaiting their arrival. The local club has about 530 members and embraces a drill command 100 strong. This drill company has to be equipped with Springfield rifles. Protest promptly was made to the War Department and continued until advices were received that the stoppage order would not be construed as affecting arms ordered and paid for before May 12. So the local club, at least, will receive full equipment, as ordered. Hereafter, only rifle accessories and ammunition will be sold rifle clubs, which, for the Southwest, make requisition on the San Antonio arsenal.

STRIP BELGIUM OF RESOURCES.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

HAVRE, May 20.—News received here shows that the gradual stripping of Belgium by the German troops of all its resources in provisions has brought about a critical situation. A semi-official communication issued from the office of the German commandant recounts the circumstances of an incipient riot at Saint Gilles, a suburb of Brussels. Provision merchants having demanded the equivalent of 15 cents each for eggs, the housewives revolted, overturned the baskets of the egg merchants and destroyed their stocks. The enraged public attacked vegetable merchants also because of their exaggerated demands.

The report of the commandant telling of the outbreaks is regarded by Belgians here as destined to create hostility between consumers and producers, and distract attention from the fact that the exorbitant prices of the necessaries of life in Belgium are due to the excessive demands of the occupying troops, that have not only devastated parts of the country, but have sent farmers to Germany instead of leaving them to cultivate their own land.

STILL FLEECE BELGIUM.

Germans Want to Confiscate Allied Bonds and Scrip.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

GENEVA (Switzerland) May 20.—The correspondent in Belgium of the Laus Anne Gazette writes that Gen. Von Falkenhausen, the new Governor-General of Belgium, has demanded all the scrip, titles and money deposited in the Belgian banks belonging to the Entente Allies and amounting to many millions of francs.

The Belgian bankers and the Belgian firms who constructed the bank safes refused to open them. Thereupon, according to the correspondent, Gen. Von Falkenhausen sent to Berlin for expert safe-breakers, who went to Brussels but failed to open the safes.

The Gazetta's correspondent suggested, "why not give up all the goods as, in North and South America, there are plenty of German bonds and scrip to cover many times this loss to the Allies in Belgium."

STATE REGISTRATION ONLY A FEW SHORT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, June 7.—Registration returns from the entire State of California were received at the State Registration Bureau headquarters tonight at 11 o'clock, just fifty hours after the close of the registration booths at 9 o'clock on Tuesday night.

The grand total of 297,482 names was just 2518 short of the official estimate of what the returns would be, based on the census.

Among the last counties heard from tonight were Trinity, San Bernardino and San Diego. Sacramento was late coming in, as well as Monterey.

San Francisco was one of the first cities to report, and Los Angeles was one of the last. The latter city, with a total of 42,278, and exemptions numbering 31,393, fell below the registration estimated by 17,000.

The total exemptions numbered 197,986, leaving a balance of 99,494 persons who claimed no exemptions. The friendly aliens who registered numbered 67,464, and the alien enemies reached a grand total of 3948 of those in California between the ages of 21 and 30 years.

Of the white persons claiming exemptions under the various headings of legislative, judicial and executive officers, persons totally disabled, persons having dependent relatives and those claiming vocational exemptions, the total was 124,695. The same exemptions in the colored race numbered 1881, with a total colored registration of 3148.

SWISS TO USE PEAT.

Germany's Failure to Provide Coal Causes the Action.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

BERNE (Switzerland) May 20.—So short is Switzerland of coal, thanks to Germany's repeated failure to live up to its contract for 253,000 tons monthly, that there has been founded in Berne a large company, backed by the economic department of the Swiss government, for the exploitation of peat wherever it may exist in the republic. There is probably not enough peat to make up for the coal shortage, but the authorities are going ahead on the basis that "every little bit helps." With a partial coal famine prevailing, no fuel of any kind that is available is to be overlooked.

CONFUSE AMERICAN NAMES.

Swiss Newspapers Spell Every Way but Correct.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

BERNE, May 20.—The difficulty of spelling American names is almost as great for the average Swiss paper as it is for an American paper to spell correctly a Russian name.

When Brand Whitlock, the American Minister to Belgium, came out recently on his way to Havre, the Journal de Geneve referred to him flatteringly as "Sir Brandt Chitlock." The mistake was called to the attention of the Bund of Berne, which in its next issue rectified the "ridiculous mis-spelling of the name of the American Minister to Belgium, Whitlock Brand."

GRAND SPANISH FIESTA PROGRAM IS ANNOUNCED

Among the performers of international reputation who will appear in the "Fiesta of Spanish Story, Song and Dance," to be given by the F. P. Newport company at the formal opening of Selvas de Verdugo (Verdugo Woodlands,) Saturday, June 9, and Sunday, June 10, will be Matildita conceded to be the foremost exponent of the Spanish dance in America, and who had charge of the Spanish dancing in the Mission Play; Estelle Heartt Dreyfus, well known not only in Los Angeles, but in music centers abroad, who has made a special study of the early Spanish life and of Spanish music, and has been called one of the most capable American singers of Spanish songs in the United States, and Senor Luis Ferrazzano, baritone, formerly star of the Buenos Ayres grand opera company, and whose singing has recently caused a sensation in Los Angeles music circles. Spanish dances will also be given by Pepito and Leola Ferrando, whose names are familiar to Orpheum theater patrons. They will dance their charming "La Malaguena y El Torero," never before danced in the United States. Mme. Matildita will present her company of Spanish dancers—some twenty-six or more—which will render a number of the vivid and tuneful dances of old Spain.

Addresses will be made dealing with the interesting early history of Southern California, by ex-Senator R. F. Del Valle, father of the charming Lucretia Del Valle; Dr. Charles F. Lummis, president of the Southern California Landmarks Club; J. S. Thompson, Mayor of Glendale, and J. McDowell Mathewa, well-known lecturer. A delightful musical programme has been arranged by the Selvas de Verdugo band, under the direction of J. W. Havener. Programme begins at 1 p.m., Saturday and Sunday.

RIOTING IN ILLINOIS STATE PENITENTIARY IS RESULT.

Radical Revision or Abolition of Honor Privileges will Follow and Warden Forbids Indiscriminate Correspondence with Feminine Moral Uplifters.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

JOLIET (Ill.) June 7.—Rioting in the Illinois State Penitentiary, attributed by some officials to an "overdose of the honor system," will result in a radical revision or perhaps the abolition of honor privileges within the prison.

A. L. Bowen, acting warden, said today that among the things which will be forbidden are indiscriminate correspondence with women and visits from women not relatives of the prisoners.

To prove that correspondence with women on the outside had done much to demoralize prison discipline, Warden Bowen made public excerpts from letters received at the prison and confiscated by the authorities. They were from women who had been put in communication with prisoners through a league organized for uplift work. The women varied in ages from 70 to 15.

"I fell asleep and dreamed of my hero—you," wrote one woman. "The dream was really a continuation of my thoughts; love's sweet dream."

"Tell me my letters make you happy, or I shall squeeze you until you squeal—oh, you baby," was the message to another convict.

Apparently some of the women had more than one correspondent, but whether in different prisons was not made clear.

"I have a counterfeiter on my list, a kid about 20, but some smart kid and sweet boy," said one letter. "But don't get jealous, he's in for two years longer than you are, and you won't ever meet."

Warden Bowen said the letters came from all parts of the United States and from all degrees of social rank. One woman's stationery was elaborately crested.

It was the order curtailing the correspondence and visiting privileges which precipitated the recent prison revolt in which one man was killed.

MISSES MORGAN TO WED.

Elder Daughter of Financier also to Become Bride.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 7.—Miss Jane Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Morgan, is to be married to George Nichols of this city. The engagement became known today, more than a week in advance of time set by Mr. and Mrs. Morgan for the formal announcement, which was to have been made at the wedding of Miss Morgan's younger sister, Miss Frances T. Morgan, to Paul Geddes Pennoyer of Berkeley, Cal., Saturday, June 16, at St. John's Church, Lattington, L. I.

Since her introduction to society two years ago, Miss Morgan has shown an inclination to take an interest in the serious things of life rather than in society.

ANOTHER CHANCE FOR COMMISSIONS.

SECOND SERIES OF CAMPS TO OPEN IN AUGUST.

Applicants Must not Write for Blanks Before June 15—Adjt.-Gen. McCain Hopeful of Obtaining Older and More Experienced Men for the Army.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Only about 15,000 mn will be tried in the second series of eight officers' training camps to be held August 27 to September 26, Adjt.-Gen. McCain announced today. Forty thousand entered the first series of camps, but the War Department has reduced the number for the full encampments in the hope of obtaining older and more experienced men.

The department today also announced the quota allowed each State in the camps. Application blanks may be obtained after June 15 from commanding generals of the six military departments or from examining officers to be appointed in various States, and applications must be sent to these examining officers before July 15. Applicants are cautioned not to write for blanks before June 15.

M'CAIN'S STATEMENT.

Emphasizing the department's wish to obtain men above 21 years of age or men of special ability, Gen. McCain said:

"Since the special object of these camps is to train a body of men fitted to fill the more responsible positions of command in the new armies, every effort will be made to select men of exceptional character and proven ability in their various occupations. While it is desired to give full opportunity for all eligible citizens to apply, no man need make application whose record is not in all respects above reproach, and who does not possess the fundamental characteristics necessary to inspire respect and confidence."

California's quota is fixed at 457, and applications should be sent to the examining officers at the Presidio, San Francisco; Arizona is allowed forty, and applications should be sent to Whipple Barracks.

Gen. McCain says that only those men who give definite promise of being efficient officers with additional training will be encouraged to repeat the course and enter the second camp.

All others who are not selected for the first 500,000 army, for the reserve corps or for additional training, will be discharged. Members of the regular army and the National Guard, who fail to qualify in any case, will be sent back to their regiments.

"Immature, weak-looking or unpresentable officers are absolutely out of the question," says the Adjutant-General. "The other requisite is military efficiency."

In conclusion Gen. McCain states that during the period of organization of the first 500,000 men, officers for the second 500,000 must be trained and selected. Many of these will be selected from the reserve officers, from the ranks of the regulars, National Guard or the selective forces in the first increment and also of the second series of officers' training camps.

"Thereafter," he adds, "officers will be obtained by promoting officers and men already in the service, thus giving those who have volunteered or have been drafted for military service full opportunity to earn promotion to the exclusion of those not in actual military service."

RIFLES FOR HOME GUARDS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 7. — The House today passed the Senate bill to authorize issue of rifles and other equipment for organization of Home Guards.

OREGON STRIKERS READY FOR WORK.

OREGON CITY (Or.) June 7.—Five hundred striking employees of the Crown Willamette Paper Company will return to work tomorrow morning, under an agreement signed tonight by their representatives and officials of the company. The strike has been in progress one week and the mill has been shut down during that time.

The agreement provides that the plant will remain an open shop, although the company will allow its employees to continue to organize. It will, however, refuse to treat with the unions, but will deal with its men as individuals.

It was understood between the men and the company that there would be no discrimination between union and nonunion men, and that intimidation of nonunion men would result in the discharge of the organizer.

Roy Ott, president of the Paper-makers' Union, whose discharge for alleged intimidation resulted in the strike, will not return to work tomorrow. B. T. McBain, manager of the company's mills, will act as referee in the case. If Ott is exonerated in ten days he will return to work without loss of pay.

The five hundred strikers were paid yesterday and turned in their passes without the slightest disorder.

DAMAGE IS HEAVY IN MICHIGAN STORM.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DETROIT, June 7.—Damage amounting to about $750,000 was wrought and four lives were claimed by the terrific windstorm which swept across Central Michigan yesterday. The district, which includes Battle Creek, Ann Arbor and Jackson, sustained most of the damage. A score of persons were injured.

Wire communication was restored today to all cities in the storm area. Battle Creek reported about $300,000 damage. No one was killed there. Seventeen persons were hurt.

Springport, Jackson county, and the vicinity, were in the path of the storm. Ten houses were destroyed and one woman died of heart disease.

Three persons were killed in Washtenaw county near Ann Arbor.

ENGLISH ENLIST IN NEW YORK.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—More than 500 Englishmen, including a number of actors who had been appearing in this country, applied for enlishment in the British army when a recruiting station was formally opened here today under command of Brig.-Gen. W. A. White. Ninety per cent. of them wereadopted, it was said.

THE ESPIONAGE BILL.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The conference report on the administration espionage bill, with its export embargo provision and drastic additions to existing laws against spying, but shorn of the newspaper censorship feature, was passed by the House today, 54 to 23.

TOTALS FOR SEVEN STATES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Seven States and the District of Columbia had made complete reports on Tuesday's war registration, showing 516,407 men registered, compared with the census estimate of their aggregate quota of 648,917, when the Provost Marshal-General's office closed tonight at 11 o'clock. Tabulation of returns will be resumed tomorrow.

Britten Reports Co[illegible] He Finds T[illegible]

[BY A. P. WIRE.]

CHICAGO, June 7.—Fred A. Britten of Chicago, member of the House Committee on Naval Affairs, with a party of physicians, inspected sanitary conditions at the Great Lakes naval training station today.

Only 200 men out of 5000 are fully equipped. Two companies were without any uniforms whatever. Only 2500 pillows for 5000 men.

A detention camp to accommodate only 500 men is being enlarged to accommodate between 800 and 1000.

A kitchen supposed to serve 5000 men has but one range. Even when there should be 10 ranges, only two stoves and enough boilers to cook the food hot.

A mess of cold food is being served on boards over empty flour barrels.

Mr. Britten said the party was surprised to find that the medical department permitted such conditions to exist. When Capt. McCrea, commandant of the station, has been repeatedly calling for money and supplies for months.

BEAVERS JOIN SPOKANE TEAM.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND, June 7.—George Helfrich and Bill Stumpf, the two Portland ball tossers released to Spokane, have repented of their resolve not to report to Nick Williams and left today to join the Indians at Seattle in time for tomorrow's game.

Helfrich said he had a job awaiting him in the International League, but perhaps this was merely talk to scare a more lucrative monthly stipend out of the Spokane club.

Both players should bolster Spokane. Helfrich won four and lost four for the Beavers in the Coast League and ranked second to Penner on the Beavers' slinging corps. Stumpf is a good hitter and a versatile big fellow, able to hold down almost any position with credit.

In an effort to strengthen his squad, Williams is combing the entire Coast. In addition to Helfrich and Stumpf, a young infielder named Taaffee, of San Francisco, is slated to join the Indians immediately. It is also barely possible Sepulveda will also go to Spokane if Williams sends "Red" Baldwin to Portland.

JOHNNY DUNDEE TRIMS WELLING.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 7.—Johnny Dundee, the New York Italian lightweight, tonight decisively outpointed Joe Welling, the Chicago lightweight, in their ten-round bout at the St. Nicholas Athletic Club. The Italian boxer, fighting with all the fury that he has ever shown, carried the fighting for the greater part of the journey and with his aggressive style, which almost bordered on the reckless, earned the honors in seven of the ten sessions.

The second and seventh went to Welling and in the third honors were about even. The physical advantages of the bout were all with Welling, who was much taller than Dundee and in addition had a much longer reach. As in their previous meeting Dundee set these advantages at naught with his never ceasing rushing aggressiveness and when he was not carrying the fighting successfully he was drawing the Chicagoan into leads which were cleverly turned to the advantage of the Italian boxer, Dundee frequently stepping inside of or just out of range of Welling's efforts, outboxing the boy from Chicago at long range.

OLD-TIME FUN WITH CORBINA.

Finest Sport in Years Now Offers Clam Casters.

By long odds the biggest "killings" of corbina and croakers yet recorded this season ushered in the month along the San Diego county coast line below Oceanside. The fish are apparently moving northward and they are present in schools fully equal to the wonderful sport experienced when this shore first was opened up by the Los Angeles anglers over ten years ago.

Those of the clam-carving fraternity who stared their week-end trips about Oceanside, and particularly the beach anglers from Carlsbad to Encinitas, made some historic catches Saturday and Sunday. No one not personally familiar with the way they "get 'em" during these big corbina and croaker runs would credit the stories; but Charlie Creciat brought in several washtubfuls Tuesday night and was giving away the proceeds over the counter of his fish market all yesterday to whoever displayed an interest. Verily, that man does love fish; fish are his business and for a change he seeks fish!

Frank Kling and wife are staying at Oceanside, and, with Creciat and his better half, George Barnett, accompanying, they drive down to Encinitas Saturday night to warm up Kling's new "fivver." They never moved from the first spot. Somebody had one on from the first cast until about 9 o'clock they called it quits and left the corbina still biting as if possessed.

The beach at Encinitas is full of a thin, red worm several inches long, soft in texture, something entirely new even to these veteran surf anglers; and the croakers and corbina were fairly filled with this favorite food, too soft to keep on a hook or even dislodge intact from the sand. The usual clam tenderloins were used for bait; mussels did not take well at all.

Sunday the party filled sacks, tubs, back ends of Ford automobiles, etc., with corbina and croakers. Monday night, at the third slough below Oceanside, they had a croaker party in the light of a bonfire on the beach, with hot coffee which everybody was too busy with the spotfins to drink. It was a "Roman holiday" right, and nothing but croakers. The Sunday catch they brought to the wharf and distributed among the less fortunate pier anglers at Oceanside. All of which explains some of the wonderful Oceanside catches detailed on the return. Monday the Creciat-Kling-Barnett combination accumulated another great mess.

Oscar Lane and party, at Sycamore Canyon, had a fine catch over the week-end. Farther toward Los Angeles fish ran smaller and scarcer; evidently they have not come up very far this way yet.

Creciat states than never once did they have to hunt fish or move from the first place pitched upon. In a long experience with the best surf fishing to be had hereabouts Charles said he never had seen the like. The fish were medium in size, one to three pounds the corbina, and Mrs. Creciat got the biggest croaker Monday night, an eight-pounder. Evidently the forerunners of the big spawning run, as they were male fish. The big four, five, six-pounders, heavy with ripe roe, will be coming on any time now, and the next two weeks should see the greatest surf fishing in years.

The breakers seem to be alive with these medium-sized fish. Sportsmen believe the great increase is another proof of the "propagation and protection" policy, as the Fish and Game Commission several years ago, realising the greater value of the surf species for sport than for commercial use, succeeded in retiring them from sale. Prior to that time they had been given protection by law limiting their catching to hook-and-line methods in the manner commonly known as angling.

So, to the man who knows this game or wants to learn it, the best word of advice is, go get an angling license—it's still necessary—and make reservation for clams early to avoid the rush, as bait will be scarce for those who wait until the last minute. The time to "go surfing" is when they are biting, and that is right now.

Sport may let up with the turn of the moon; probably will. But all reports indicate it could slow down considerable and still be warmly interesting.

Good boulevards await the motor angler, and the Santa Fe's San Diego line runs right along the beach for miles, letting anglers off at any number of convenient stations. One can walk easily to good fishing below Oceanside, using that as headquarters. Hunt up the editor of the Oceanside Blade and get the latest "dope" from the shore line.

General approval has greeted the announcement that the Fish and Game Commission proposed to triple the capacity of the Bear Lake egg-taking and hatching stations, which seems to have scored an instantaneous hit with everyone familiar with the local conditions there. This year the situation for the first time became urgent, hence the quick action.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

For West Virginians.

At Patriotic Hall.

Stanton Post, G.A.R., and Relief Corps, will offer a programme of music and dances at an open meeting this evening in Patriotic Hall, No. 1816 South Figueroa street.

To Transportation Men.

Rev. George Davidson will speak on "Social Unrest Needed for World's Progress" at a meeting of the Transportation Association at noon today at Jahnke's Tavern.

New Club Counsel.

It was announced yesterday that John C. North, formerly of the County Counsel's office, has become counsel for the Automobile Club of Southern California, vice Edward G. Kuster, who has formed a law partnership with Stuart M. Salisbury.

For Desert Signposts.

George W. Parsons received a telegram from Congressman Osborne yesterday that the sundry civil service bill has been passed, carrying an appropriation of $10,000 for the erection of desert signposts. Mr. Parsons was the originator of the movement to erect boards to point the way to desert water holes.

Will Elect Delegates.

Two delegates to the National Jewish Congress in Washington in September will be selected by the Jews of this city, Sunday. Dr. D. W. Edelman, Maurice Salzman, Dr. Leo Blass and Aaron Shapiro are the candidates. The following are the polling places: Congregation Agudas Achim, No. 1321 East Twenty-first street; Congregation Beth-Israel, Olive, near Temple street; Congregation Poalo Zedek, Santa Barbara and South Park avenues; Congregation Sinai, Twelfth and Valencia streets; Federation of Jewish Charities, No. 425 North Beaudry avenue; Hebrew Sheltering Home, No. 121 South Boyle avenue; Jewish Consumptive Relief Association, No. 207 South Broadway; Talmud Torah, No. 221 North Breed street; Temple B'nai B'rith, Ninth and Hope streets.

Formality.

BUILDERS RATIFY EXCHANGE MERGER.

FORMER SEPARATE BODY TAKEN INTO MEMBERSHIP.

Directors at a Meeting in Near Future will Act on a New Code of Procedure Being Drawn up by a Committee from the Various Crafts.

The merging of the Master Builders' Association with the Builders' Exchange of Los Angeles was formally ratified at a meeting of the board of directors of the latter organization, held at its headquarters in the Stimson Building yesterday afternoon. The Master Builders were accepted into the General Contractors' Association, which is one of the twenty or more crafts having representation in the exchange directorate.

The suggestion was made that the name of the General Contractors' Association be changed to that of the Master Builders' Association in order that the latter name may be perpetuated under the new arrangement by which all branches of the building business have been brought together. This suggestion, it is understood, will be acted upon and made effective in the near future. The craft into which the Master Builders have merged is comprised of general contractors exclusively and includes most of the large and well-known firms of this character in the city.

At a meeting to be held in the near future the directors of the Builders' Exchange will act upon a new code of procedure that is now being drawn up by committees from the various building crafts. This code will incorporate the policies and ethics of the building profession and is expected to be a model for members of the building profession throughout the country. It will be based on similar codes adopted in many other cities.

WAR QUESTION IN SCHOOLS.

National Education Association Will Consider.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

NEW YORK, May 25.—Questions that the United States' participation in the war has raised regarding American boys and girls will be considered at the meeting of the National Education Association to be held at Portland, Or., July 7 to 14. In this connection an announcement says:

"The president of the association has prepared a programme devoted to those questions. Experience has but slightly prepared teachers and parents for the kind of problems that during the war must be met in the school and the home. The great education body of this country should gather in large numbers at Portland July 7 to 14 to analyze these problems and, in some measure, be prepared to meet them."

B.P.O.E.

HERD TO ROMP IN THE FIELD.

Elks' Annual Two-day Outing will Begin Tomorrow.

Great Exodus of Antlers to Festive Site Expected.

Military Doings are to Put Ginger into the Frolic.

The greatest exodus in the history of local Elkdom will begin tomorrow when nearly 3000 members of the order will leave Los Angeles for Elks' Canyon, thirty miles northwest of the city, for the annual two-day barbecue. "The event will be different from any held before," is the promise of Exalted Ruler C. G. "Deacon" Pyle.

The merrymakers will start to leave the clubhouse at Third and Olive streets tomorrow soon after noon, and autos will be leaving all day. The trip can be made in about one and one-half hours.

The programme in the canyon will begin about 3 o'clock with athletic events, a painting contest, turkey shoot and drill by Co. A of the Patriotic Legion. Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock. After a concert by the Elks' fifty-piece band, the elaborate ceremonial of the evening will be held in the natural amphitheater. Lights out will be sounded before midnight. An open-air hotel with 750 double cots will be maintained.

Sunrise gun and flag raising will come at 6 a.m., and after that the athletic events will begin, and last till the dinner horn blows for the big barbecue at noon. Baseball will occupy the remainder of the day.

General chairman—Charles Morgan.

General Store—Jim Foyer, overseer.

WONDERFUL STUFF!
GEE! YOU'LL LIKE IT

Apply a few drops then lift corns or calluses off with fingers—no pain.

No humbug! Any corn, whether hard, soft or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift out, without a particle of pain or soreness.

This drug is called freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a quarter ounce of freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This drug freezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses, but shrivels them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Fear Prevents Fat People
From Reducing Weight—The Fear is Needless When

Arbolone Tablets is the Treatment To Be Proven Safe and Sure.

Hundreds of thousands of tubes of Arbolone Tablets have been marketed in the past five years and not a single case has ever been reported of their being deleterious in any way. On the contrary, many are grateful and write letters similar to this one, which was received from Mrs. Lilla Richards, Pittsfield, Maine:

"Dear Sir: Two years ago I tried Arbolone Tablets. It not only reduced me, but cured my headache and heart palpitation, and removed that bloated feeling. Recently my weight again increased. I began Arbolone again and one box reduced me from 199 pounds to 182 pounds, and I feel so much better. I shall continue until my weight is again normal, etc."

Buy Arbolone Tablets of druggists in sealed tubes with full directions. It is the one safe, sure, dependable obesity medicine. A genuine guarantee of entire satisfaction accompanies every package.

Don't Fuss So About Your Complexion

The more you massage, steam, manipulate and fuss about your complexion with so-called skin foods, creams, lotions and what not, the chances are the worse it will become.

Away With Beauty Fads

Make Cuticura Soap and Ointment your everyday toilet preparations. Bathe with the Soap and hot water on rising and retiring, using plenty of Soap, best applied with the hands which it softens wonderfully. Smear any signs of pimples, redness or roughness with the Ointment and let it remain five minutes before bathing. Nothing better, purer, sweeter or more effective. Then don't overdiet, overexercise, lose sleep or fret.

Sample Each Free by Mail with 32-p. book on the skin. Address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. 2S, Boston." Sold everywhere.

REMOVES WRINKLES

Lady Kiarbrook's "Skin Tightener" has been tested for ten years, is perfectly harmless and painless, makes a woman look from 15 to 20 years younger. By mail, $2.06. Lady Kiarbrook's "Pollucs" positively removes superfluous hair, cures faces that have shaved for 10 years. By mail $2.60. 614 S. Hill street, Los Angeles.

McBurney's Kidney and Bladder Medicine

MR. W. M. McBURNEY, Los Angeles, Cal.
Dear Sir: It affords me pleasure to testify to the efficiency of your kidney and Bladder Cure. I have been troubled with my kidneys and bladder for over four years. I have been treated by Dr. A. A. Purdy and Dr. Frank Wells, the latter being my son. I regret to say they did me no good. I was advised to go to the winter in Los Angeles, which I did. On the night before I left for home I got a bottle of your medicine. The first dose did me good and I was well when I reached home, and I can say in conclusion that I am grateful to you. If this letter is of any use to you use it. THOS. WELLS.
Price $1.75 per bottle. Send 15c to W. F. McBurney for five days' treatment. 2007 S. Vermont ave., Los Angeles. Sold by all druggists. Est. 1895.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, June 7.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Meteorologist.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.97; at 5 p.m., 29.93. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 58 deg. and 66 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 86 per cent.; 5 p.m., 64 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 4 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 8 miles. Highest temperature, 71 deg.; lowest, 53 deg. Rainfall for season, 15.26 inches; last season, 19.92 inches. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—Wednesday's prominent area of low barometer is now centred over Lake superior. This depression caused heavy rain in Buffalo and Washington, 1.52 inches falling at the national capital. Light rains were general north of Tennessee, east of Wyoming and south of Montreal. Aside from a sky obscured by fog, the weather in Southern California is generally fair. Mt. Wilson reported the fog to be 1,500 feet thick Thursday morning at 4 o'clock. The area of low pressure over the valley of the Colorado will give parts of Southern and Central Los Angeles county Friday morning, but otherwise the coming thirty-six hours will be fair.

MUST PASS ORGANIC DAW.

Government May Take Over Idle Mining Properties.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

MEXICO CITY, May 25.—The organic law based on the new Constitution must be passed by Congress before mining properties which have been idle for more than two months at a time are taken over by the government, according to a ruling by the Department of Commerce and Industry. All mine owners who have been unable to work their mines for a period of two months were ordered by a previous decree to show cause why they were unable to work under pain of forfeiture of title, but it has been decided to withhold action on these properties until Congress shall formulate a statute covering such cases.

TRENCH SALAD NEW RATION.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONDON, May 26.—Troops at the front are soon to be provided with an additional ration known as trench salad. It is a special "trial issue" of fresh vegetables, including beets, carrots and turnips. A salad grater will also be supplied to enable the soldier to make his own salad on the spot. The idea is indorsed by the medical authorities, because it is hoped the salad will reduce the number of cases of such diseases as dysentery, rheumatism and trench fever.

ON TRANS-SIBERIAN RAILWAY.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

PEKING, May 20.—Russian Consuls in China have published notices in prominent Chinese newspapers announcing that only war supplies will be hauled hereafter on the Trans-Siberian Railway. Shippers desiring to obtain space for war materials are required to furnish affidavits proving that their freight is required for war purposes.

COLLEGE LIBRARY WORKERS CONFER

STATE ASSOCIATION ... ARE TO END TODAY.

Officers are to be Elected This Morning and Visitors from All Over California are to Participate in the Annual Luncheon at One O'clock.

The California Library Association continued its sessions today in the Hollywood Woman's Club House, the college section being presided over by Charles V. Park of the State University. During the morning there were papers on kindred subjects by Ellen Hedrick of the University of California library; Miss Voge of the Mechanics' Institute Library, San Francisco; Miss D. Malcom of the University of Southern California, Jason Rhoades, librarian of the Los Angeles Public Library and Mary Frances Isom. A discussion was opened by Miss Van Deusen, librarian of the Los Angeles High School.

"Club Work with Older Children" was presented by Miss Riddell of the Vermont avenue branch library and the discussion which followed was led by Miss Tyler of the Vermont avenue library. Then followed a round table on "Shortcomings and Failures in Work with Children," with discussion opened by Eleanor Hall, librarian of the Yolo county library.

The afternoon was devoted to visiting various libraries, including George T. Clark, librarian of Stanford University, giving a lecture on "Recent Library Progress in California," illustrated with lantern slides.

The sessions will close with a business meeting and election of officers will be held at the close of this session. This will be followed by a programme of papers and discussions, and the annual banquet will follow at 1 o'clock at the Hollywood.

...ssured one of the cantonment sites for the Western Division of the Army is the opinion of those who accompanied the officers in their tour of inspection yesterday. "We know what they want," said Capt. J. D. Fredericks, "and we can give it to them. We have everything that they need, and all they have to do is ask for it."

The army officers who composed the board of inspection sent out by Maj.-Gen. Hunter Liggett arrived in Los Angeles from San Francisco yesterday morning. They were met at the station by L. D. Sale, president of the Chamber of Commerce; E. G. Judah, president of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, and a committee of the Chamber of Commerce. These accompanied the officers on a trip to the Centinela during the forenoon, and to the Domingues, Huntington and the Palos Verdes during the afternoon.

"PRACTICALLY ASSURED."

"What the government intends to do is to train three army divisions on the Pacific Coast," said Col. William D. Kenly, one of the inspection officers, "and we have already secured two sites, the Linda Vista ranch of 50,000 acres near San Diego and American Lake, Wash., in the North. If we can get about 50,000 acres near Los Angeles, with the facilities for travel, near a large city, you are practically assured the camp. But we need that size of a site for training purposes and artillery practice. You have the land here. The Palos Verdes Hills are just the thing we want, and they are useless for you."

Col. Joseph P. O'Neill, another of the inspection officers, spoke in the same vein. "Although I speak now as an individual," he said, "still I believe I can interpret the views of the War Department. The smallest possible grounds that we need is between seven and eight thousand acres, and this could only be used for rudimentary training purposes. After the boys have reached that state they need expansion, and such a tract would be practically useless."

THE SITUATION.

The situation as it stands at the present time is as follows: The Centinela tract of 11,000 acres is satisfactory as far as it goes. The officers were outspoken in their praise of this ranch, particularly as a parade ground. The Dominguez and Huntington properties of 6000

Penalty.

BELLIGERENT SOCIALIST SHOT TWICE BY SOLDIER.

REFUSAL to evacuate the Los Angeles River bed at a sentry's command ended painfully yesterday afternoon for "Bill Smith," a squatter, for he was shot twice by the soldier, H. J. Winegor.

Smith, as he prefers to call himself, recently "homesteaded" on railroad property which had been closed to trespassers. He built himself a dugout, in which he established his home. A United States soldier, on sentry duty in the vicinity, called upon Smith and told him to move.

The squatter began to quarrel with the soldier and refused to move away from the private property. When the sentry threatened to use force in ejecting him, Smith is alleged to have drawn a long knife, with which he was peeling potatoes, and attacked the soldier. The sentry then drew his .45 Colt automatic revolver and shot twice at Smith.

The University police were notified and Officers Henderson and Aiken went to the scene and arrested Smith. It was not known then that he had been shot. As his actions were suspicious, the officers thought that Smith was insane and took him to the Receiving Hospital. As they were conducting him into the hospital, Smith revolted and planted several vicious jabs on Officer Henderson's jaw.

He was strapped to an operating table and examined. Two bullet wounds were found, a flesh wound in the abdomen and a hole through his thigh. When asked for his history, the wounded man said his name was Bill Smith, his home was nowhere, that he had lived there for two years, and his occupation was a "bum."

Smith said that he had battled with the sentry because he was a Socialist and nourished hatred for law and order. He was later removed to the County Hospital.

Winegor said he intended to fire in the air.

Council Tombstones.

FUNEREAL HALO FRAMES EULOGISTIC BILLBOARDS.

WHEN the billboards go, those that are blazoned with the names of the late lamented "solid five" of the City Council will lead the hegira. After the voters had finished their good job last Tuesday, a lot of the sign-fences ceased to be only offensive, and began to look foolish, as well. There is a sort of "morning after" appearance to those once merry posters proclaiming that former Councilwoman Lindsey and Councilmen Wheeler, Roberts, Langdon and Wright have, at the people's behest, shielded the poor little billboards and boldly battled the naughty newspapers. Very soon Mr. and Mrs. Citizen will be relieved of this brand of reading matter, now lying in wait for them wherever they look. The Council voted yesterday to take up the Conwell ordinance in earnest Tuesday.

One of the worst things about the billboard is that it conceals much the people would like to see. But it failed entirely to conceal the little nigger in the municipal election woodpile. Mr. Voter apparently saw right through every one of those posters that sang the praises of the "solid five."

There is that sixteen-sheeter: "These are your fearless public servants — Councilwoman Lindsey, Councilmen Wheeler, Roberts, Langdon and Wright. They refused to take orders from the newspapers or be intimidated by them. Vote for them June 5."

This monument to the friends of the billboard trust was not designed to be a political tombstone, but it somehow gives a rather funereal aspect, these days, to otherwise perfectly cheerful city streets and vacant spaces. The voters have revised the list of public servants in a rather large, sweeping way.

Then, there is something crestfallen about this bit of literature, spread on many billboards soon to be no more:

"The wishes of home owner, business men and workingmen were crystallized in the Civic Bodies Billboard Survey Committee's report. The Council adopted this report and voted to prohibit billboards in residential districts. Because the members of the City Council refused to also prohibit billboards in the business district, certain newspapers are trying to defeat them."

It has been estimated that some $10,000 worth of billboard space usually devoted to hams, cigarettes, soap and skid-chains now bears reading matter of this peculiarly obsolete sort. But nobody has tried to estimate the number of acres of perfectly good California landscape that will become visible when the new Councilmen go into office and the sign-fences bearing this sort of rubbish go into the discard.

The householder in many an otherwise attractive neighborhood still finds himself flanked and assailed front and rear by the names of the "solid five," flung across the scenery in letters the size of a side of bacon. But all this will pass away. One fair day, not so distant, he will learn just how his neighborhood

COLLISION MARS VASSAR STUDENT'S HOMECOMING.

THE homecoming of Miss Lucille Phillips, daughter of L. A. Phillips, third vice-president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, verged on tragedy Wednesday.

Mrs. Phillips had driven to San Bernardino to meet her daughter, who has just graduated from Vassar. The train was met, the mother and daughter reunited after seven months of separation, and the party was proceeding homeward, when, near Covina, an automobile was backed swiftly out of a side road directly into the path of the Phillips touring car.

The second machine was struck side-on by the heavier car, and so hard was the impact that the lighter machine was upset.

Mrs. Phillips and her daughter escaped practically unhurt. The most serious injury was concussion of the brain received by Dr. Morrison, the family physician. The driver of the second machine was uninjured.

Mr. Phillips was called on the telephone and advised of the collision, and in another automobile drove to the scene of the accident. The front axle and the frame of his touring car were broken.

OIL GOES UP TEN CENTS A BARREL.

AVERAGE PRICE MADE EIGHTY IN LOCAD FIELD.

All Producing Regions Affected by the Advance, the Second Within a Month—Market has a Steadily-growing Strength Revealed by Latest Statistics.

Oil is up 10 cents a barrel.

This is the second advance within a month, the last having been May 11. All fields are affected by the advance, which was rendered effective yesterday, according to announcement made by the Standard Oil Company.

This latest rise makes the average price 80 cents plus a barrel in the valley fields, Whittier-Fullerton and Santa Maria. Some grades, of course, are selling at considerably more than $1 a barrel.

Figures on the production and shipments in the industry in California have revealed a growing underlying strength in the market. Statistics on the output and consumption for last month are not yet available, but it is probable that a shortage similar to the average for the first four months of the year—over 1,000,000 barrels a month—will be revealed.

From the first of the year until the end of April stocks of petroleum at the wells and in pipe-line systems were reduced nearly 5,000,000 barrels. April shipments of oil amounted to 8,907,847 barrels, a daily average of 296,928, compared with daily average shipments for the year 1916 of 255,780 barrels. The April shipments were about 5000 barrels daily average less than in March.

CANVASS COMPLETED.

The official canvass of election returns was completed late yesterday afternoon by the Council. No material changes were made in the results announced Wednesday by City Clerk Wilde. Some of the candidates were given a few additional votes, but no one received enough to affect the standing of the winners.

OUR SHARE OF FEDERAL FUNDS.

Small Los Angeles Items in the Civil Appropriation Bill as Passed.

The House of Representatives yesterday adopted the conference report on the civil sundry appropriation bill, which is final approval of the measure. It contains these items affecting Los Angeles directly:

Los Angeles postoffice and courthouse, for mail-conveying machinery, $5000; Los Angeles Harbor, postoffice and customhouse for continuation, $10,000; Pacific Branch Soldiers' Home, Sawtelle, total of $441,500, as follows: For current expenses, $46,000; for subsistence, $215,000; for household, $61,000; for hospital, $53,000; for transportation of members, $2500; for repairs, $43,000; for farm, $12,000; for enlargement of sewage disposal plant, $10,000.

For a geological survey for developing and locating water holes and erecting signboards on the desert, $10,000 is appropriated.

City and County.

SUMMARY OF REGISTRATION.

Sixty-two Thousand Five Hundred Our Total.

Fifth Exempted; Two-thirds of Rest Claim It.

Canvass Completed and Rolls Sent to Sacramento.

Total Registered:
City	42,278
Pasadena	3,554
Outside county points	17,673
Automatically Exempted: (Officials and aliens)
City	9,247
Pasadena	326
Total for county	13,109
Claiming Exemption: (Does not include foregoing)
City	22,146
Pasadena	1,472
Outside county points	9,396
Not Claiming Exemption: (For any reason)
City	10,885
Pasadena	756
Total for county	16,382

Complete registration returns show that 62,505 persons enrolled last Tuesday in Los Angeles city and county for military service. Of this total, aliens and alien enemies totaled 13,013, while the exemptions claimed and automatic exemptions, such as officials, totaled 33,110.

Those in this city not claiming exemption for any reason numbered 10,885; in Pasadena, 756, and in other outside points 4741, a total voluntary service of 16,382 in the county.

This city registered 42,278, Pasadena 3554 and all other points in the county 17,673. In Los Angeles there are 8736 aliens and 415 alien enemies, a total of 9151. Pasadena has 326 aliens and alien enemies, while other county points show 3536 of both classes.

In Los Angeles city 21,470 whites and 772 negroes claimed exemptions, the number pleading the support of dependents aggregating 18,590. Pasadena's exemption claims amounted to 1472, while other points in the county and outside of Los Angeles totaled 9396.

If all exemptions were to be allowed, and aliens and alien enemies excluded, this city would lose 31,393 of its enrollment, Pasadena 1798, and other outside county points 13,932, a total loss of 46,123.

These figures then would mean only 16,885 in the city are willing to go to war, 756 in Pasadena, and 4741 in other points of the county—a total of only 16,382. However, disallowed exemptions probably will bring up this total to about 25,000.

The city figures were forwarded by the City Clerk last night to Washington. The County Council of Defense yesterday forwarded to Gov. Stephens the figures for this entire territory, exclusive of Los Angeles and Pasadena, which are enumerated above, and which were forwarded last night as an addition.

The total county registration, 17,675, excluding Pasadena and Los Angeles, compiled by Registrar Lyons, is almost 6000 less than conservative estimates early in the week. Of these 14,001 were whites. Of the total of 136 negroes, seventy claimed exemption, or more than one-half. The bulk of white persons in the county asking exemption, outside the two main cities, referred to dependents upon them for support. There were 9326 making such claim.

Mr. Lyons's report was attested to by the Council of Defense, consisting of Chairman Judge J. Perry Wood, Supervisor Hamilton, J. Ross Clark and Dist.-Atty. Woolwine.

Many clerks started copying the records of the registration cards into a voluminous index system. This will require at least one week's work.

Speaking of the shortage in estimated registrations, Judge Wood stated that, so far as he had been able to ascertain, there had been but few defections in the county. Slackers are not numerous and the authorities from this week on, will begin arresting all those who willfully have evaded the law.

SALARY FIGHT LOST.

State Supreme Court Rules Against Sheriff Cline's Contention that He is Entitled to More Pay than He Got During Ten Months.

Holding that the ordinance passed by the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles county, August 1, 1914, fixing the salary of Sheriff Cline at $5000, was not in force until less than ninety days preceding the election of Mr. Cline as Sheriff, and that his salary for the current term is not to be measured by that ordinance, the State Supreme Court yesterday reversed the judgment of Superior Judge Works. The lower court had granted the demand of Sheriff Cline that a peremptory writ issue requiring the County Auditor to pay the Sheriff's salary at the rate of $5000 a year for the months from January to November, 1915. The finding of the Supreme Court fixes the salary at $4900 by the terms of the ordinance passed by the Supervisors, June 2, 1913.

After the decision of Judge Works in favor of Mr. Cline, an appeal was taken to the District Court of Appeal, and that court divided on the question. It was then certified to the State Supreme Court.

BATH IN GASOLINE.

Mexican Found Asleep in a Gutter Gets a Thorough Cleaning and Fresh Clothing Before He is Fit to be Placed in the City Jail.

Ramon Garcia was given a gasoline bath yesterday at Central Police Station. He was arrested while lying asleep in the gutter at Carolina and Palmetto streets, by Officer Whaples, and was charged with vagrancy. He is also a slacker, as he failed to register Tuesday. When this was explained to him he said he had not registered because he did not "savvy."

Garcia walked into the station. Officer Whaples saw to that. The cause of the safety-first method, or rather causes, was vermin.

That is why Ramon was given a gasoline bath. His clothes were burned and he was supplied by Acting Lieutenant Matuskiewis, property clerk, with clean garments.

Then Police Judge Chesebro sentenced Garcia to sixty days in jail.

SOCIALISTS IN LIVELY FIGHT.

Californians Refuse to Take Stand Against Draft.

Threaten to Bolt the Party if it Doesn't Recant.

Offensive Resolutions Being Voted on by Mail.

California Socialists, according to their leaders, are prepared to bolt from that party if anti-draft resolutions adopted April 7 at St. Louis are ratified by the mail referendum now under way. Yesterday this attitude was affirmed by Californians while eastern Socialists were attempting to make light of the stand assumed by their confreres in the Golden State, in favor of loyalty and patriotism.

Adolph Germer, secretary of the National Socialist party, stated in Chicago yesterday that N. A. Richardson of San Bernardino, who had threatened a withdrawal, does not represent the official branch of the party in California.

"I have received no such threat from Mr. Richardson," he said.

He was asked if the party contemplated a repudiation of the anti-draft resolutions.

"Not that I know of," he replied. "We are still voting on it by mail and the vote will not be complete until the end of the month."

Mr. Richardson, a member of the Executive Committee of the Socialist party of California, reiterated yesterday at San Bernardino his belief that the California branch will withdraw if the mooted resolutions are adopted.

In that case, he said, speaking unofficially, he will move for a referendum in this State on the question of withdrawal from the national organization, and he added that he believed his proposal would be upheld by California Socialists.

Mr. Richardson was candidate for Governor on the Socialist ticket in 1914.

Rev. T. W. Williams of this city, State secretary of the Socialist party of California, stated that he personally and, he believed, most California Socialists agree with Mr. Richardson. He said the California delegation to the St. Louis emergency convention, at which the offending resolutions were adopted, opposed them, he himself opposed them and seven of the eight members of the Executive Committee were against them. He had not heard from the eighth member, but believed he also objected.

ENGINEERS ARE ORDERED AWAY

Company Formed for Foreign Service Goes Sunday.

And then be Sent at Once to "Somewhere in France."

An order by long-distance telephone was given yesterday by Lieut.-Col. James B. Cavanaugh of the United States Engineering Corps, at San Francisco, to Capt. A. H. Acher, recruiting officer in Los Angeles, that the company of men enlisted here for the Eighth Regiment, Railroad Engineers, United States Army, leave Los Angeles Sunday night for American Lake, Wash.

After two weeks' sojourn at this concentration camp, for preliminary drill and for getting uniforms and equipment, the men will be sent on at once to "somewhere in France," for active service.

There are 110 men enrolled here. Most of them are residents of Los Angeles and the others come from communities in the immediate vicinity. The recruiting here has been done in record time, the experienced railroad men having been assembled within two weeks. It is said the number of men could readily have been doubled.

The task of this regiment in France will be to construct and maintain railways and telegraph and telephone lines in the war zone, to facilitate the moving of troops and the maintaining of lines of communication.

Following are the orders sent each man:

June 7, 1917.

Sir—You are hereby ordered to report at the Southern Pacific Railway station, Fifth street and Central avenue, Los Angeles, Cal., at 3 p.m., Sunday, June 10, 1917.

You will then be mustered into the service with the Eighth Regiment Reserve Engineers, and entrained for American Lake, Wash.

Transportation will be furnished you.

[Signed] CHARLES T. LEEDS,

BLAMES THE "DOLLAR."

Doesn't Buy as Much as it Used to, Say County Department Heads in Bolstering up Employees' Plea to Supervisors for Salary Increase.

A petition of the county employees for an increase of salaries was presented to the Board of Supervisors yesterday and taken under consideration. Heads of departments put in a plea for their men, pointing out hat the producing value of a dollar is much less now than it was several years ago.

The employees are willing to submit to a sliding scale of increase, those receiving the largest salaries being allotted a less percentage than those drawing a small salary. Members of the board seemed inclined to add something to the stipend the employees are receiving, and in making up the budget their petition will be considered.

Mr. Babcock died last May 24. He resided at No. 153 Fraser avenue, Ocean Park. A brother and two sisters live in Pennsylvania. The widow is named executrix of the estate.

MILLIONAIRE WINS GIRL MUSICIAN AS A BRIDE.

AFTER carrying in his memory during months devoted to foreign travel the picture of a pretty Los Angeles musician he met last New Year's Eve while staying at the Huntington Hotel in Pasadena, Oliver P. Johnston of Chicago, reputed to be a millionaire, returned from the Orient and yesterday won her for his bride, following a romantic trip to Ramona's wishing well. The bride was Miss Della B. Compton, the daughter of Robert Compton, of No. 921 West Fifty-fourth street.

He left the day after New Year's for a trip to the Orient. But while Mr. Johnston was away he spent much time and money buying costly presents for the Los Angeles girl. In the gift chest were wonderful pieces of oriental jewelry, old bits of brass that belonged to Chinese princes centuries ago, and rare, rich embroideries.

When he returned to Los Angeles a week ago he went straight to the girl whose face still haunted him and they renewed their acquaintance. He planned an automobile trip for Miss Compton, her friend, Mrs. Goldie McDonald, as a chaperon, and his friend, A. M. Sadlemire of New York, who returned from China with him. The party went to San Diego.

On their way back yesterday they stopped at Ramona's wishing well, and as they dropped coins of silver each made a wish. As they were speeding back to Los Angeles Miss Compton asked Mr. Johnston what he had wished. He replied:

"I wished that you would marry me. Now tell me what was your wish?"

"I wished you would ask me to marry you," she said. And so they stopped at Santa Ana and were married.

They will leave at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon for an extended honeymoon trip, going first to Chicago to visit the groom's sister. Then they will go to New York, and later will spend several months on the Great Lakes and in Canada, and will return in the winter to Pasadena.

Mr. Johnston is said to have inherited several millions from his father, who died in Chicago several years ago.

TAFT'S SISTER TO HELP RAISE FUND.

MRS. EDWARDS TO LEAD TEAMS OF RED CROSS WORKERS.

One Hundred Women Under Her Direction will Do Their Part in Forthcoming Campaign for a Million Dollars in this City—Organization is Being Perfected.

The war fund campaign of the American Red Cross in Los Angeles was given heavy impetus yesterday when Mrs. W. A. Edwards, sister of ex-President Taft, agreed to take over the management of the Women's Red Cross division for the million-dollar campaign, the 18th to 25th inst.

Mrs. Edwards announced last night that she will organize ten teams of ten women each, and that this corps of 100 will sweep the city for the women's contribution of this fund.

Yesterday's developments in the campaign were marked by the completion of the advertising programme and the receipt of reports from John B. Miller on the Portland and Denver meetings.

Both meetings were tremendously successful, and Mr. Miller reports that Lawrence C. Phipps of Denver will handle the intermountain campaign, while Henry L. Corbett of the Portland Chamber of Commerce and of the First National Bank of Portland and Charles R. Peabody of Seattle will handle the drive in the Northwest.

Arrangements were made yesterday for the placing of a Red Cross scoreboard in the form of a six-day clock at Sixth and Broadway, where the Premier Automobile Company has, through local Manager Leach, agreed to blanket its huge automobile sign during the campaign week in favor of the Red Cross.

Arrangements were also made yesterday for the distribution of 2500 window cards and 1000 larger posters. The Los Angeles Railway and the Pacific Electric will carry 1000 banners on their street cars, while the press of the entire Southwest has offered its unlimited support to the campaign.

From San Diego comes the acceptance of J. W. Sefton of the First National Bank as campaign manager in that city, and in order to consolidate the whole campaign throughout the West, President John J. Byrne of the local Red Cross chapter has gone to San Francisco for a final conference with representatives of San Francisco, Portland and Denver.

Convicted Store Robber, a Former San Francisco Official, Says Too Much Booze Started Him on Down Path. In Bad Health.

"Jim" Wilson was not "Jim" at all. He was Syl Carty, former San Francisco official, who told Judge McCormick that his troubles dated to the day on which he started to drink too much whisky. He and John Brooks were found guilty of robbing the store of Henry Goetz on San Pedro street near Second about a week ago.

At arraignment the two men asked for immediate trial on account of their health, both suffering from a serious disease. Judge McCormick listened to their plea, and so the jury was impaneled, witnesses were called and the case terminated within a few hours.

After hearing Carty's story, the court ordered an investigation of his past, and the probation officer will report on this next Monday, the date set for sentence.

Chinese Chamber of Commerce and Benevolent Association Ready to Pay for Convictions if Merchant Succumbs to Four Bullet Wounds.

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce and the Chinese Consolidated Benevolent Association yesterday offered a reward for the arrest and conviction of the two men who attempted to kill Ben W. Wing, a Chinese merchant, early Wednesday morning, the offer to be in effect if he dies of his wounds. He was shot four times when about to enter his shop at No. 1039 South San Pedro street. Two men were seen running away.

According to the terms of the offers made yesterday by the Chinese organizations, $700 will be paid if the men are found and convicted of murder in the first degree, and if a manslaughter charge is proved the Chinese will pay $800 to those who secure the conviction.

YET MORE WORK FOR SHIPYARDS

Specifications for Standard Vessels Received.

New Building Plants Planned at this Harbor.

The shipbuilding industry of Los Angeles is bound to become one of importance, and just now things are working rapidly to that end. The industrial bureau of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday received a telegram from a northern city inviting proposals for the building of four wooden ships, each to be 240 feet in length. It is expected these will be constructed in the local yards.

The chamber also received yesterday the first specifications for the 1000 wooden ships to be built for the government. These specifications will be available for all who contemplate submitting bids to the government. The indications are that a large number of wooden ships will be built here.

It is a matter of general knowledge that the shipyards of the United States have been, for some time working at their full capacity. The demand for an immense number of new vessels at the very earliest date they can be built means that there will be new shipyards opened. At the Los Angeles Harbor a big development in this line of industry is anticipated. Several corporations of local capitalists are understood to be making preliminary plans for organizing shipbuilding companies. Southern California has peculiar climatic advantages for this line of work. It is said that the timber used in wooden ships seasons naturally in this climate during the building of the vessels, and that an additional value of $10,000 accrues on each ship built here on this account.

Various good sites at the harbor are available for shipbuilding plants. Some of these are owned by the city and can be leased upon very favorable terms.

Work is well under way on the Los Angeles Shipping and Drydock Company plant, which has a government contract for building eight steel steamers to cost something over $10,000,000.

The Craig Shipbuilding Company of Long Beach is erecting buildings and filling in its property in preparation for building two 250-foot steel freighters, to cost nearly $500,000 each. It is also probable the Craig company will build a number of steel vessels for the United States government.

The California Shipbuilding Company of Long Beach has just completed a United States lighthouse tender and is at work on five submarines. It is reported this company will obtain the contract for building two steel steamers to cost $750,000 each.

The Fulton shipyard at Wilmington is understood to be negotiating with the United States Shipping Board for the construction of several wooden vessels in addition to the ones they are now building. They recently launched the Edna Christensen.

News of the recent marriage in Chicago of Miss Loraine Sloan of Los Angeles and Jack Main, an officer-to-be and member of Co. I, Officers' Reserve Training Camp, Fort Sheridan, brought to light a pretty romance that began last year on the Mexican border.

Young Main was on duty at the international line with a Cleveland regiment when he was introduced to Miss Sloan. They parted and did not meet again until last Monday, when the Los Angeles girl went to Chicago to visit her aunt, Mrs. W. J. McKone, of No. 4629 Magnolia avenue.

When a holiday of two days was declared at the training camp Mr. Main at once rejoined his sweetheart and they were married in the Memorial Presbyterian Church, No. 4301 Sheridan road.

The bridegroom is a member of the Michigan-Wisconsin Reserves, and is the first member of the unit to wed since the camp started. The bride is a daughter of a Los Angeles rancher.

Trolley Line Defendant in Woman's Damage Suit.

Mrs. Janalee Hitchings, whose late husband was the stepson of Gen. Stokes of New York, and who came to Los Angeles to appear in film plays, was in Superior Judge Taft's court yesterday asking for $50,850 damages for injuries received December 6 last. She was thrown while alighting from an Edendale car and seriously injured. She walked with difficulty when she entered the courtroom, and was forced to lie on the couch in chambers.

The accident was caused, Mrs. Hitchings alleges, by the carelessness of the crew in starting the car before she was safely on the ground. The Pacific Electric set up contributory negligence. Attorney E. B. Drake represents Mrs. Hitchings in the suit.

A Tribute to the Memory of Mrs. William B. Herriott.

A life rich in the best gifts, those of mind and heart, has passed into the beyond, leaving a memory fragrant with the peculiar charm and influence we call Personality.

An important factor in all that made for the best developments of the social life of this city in its formative period, Mrs. Herriott, vitalized, like a live wire, its educational, philanthropic and religious effort.

Especially in the Presbyterian Church which stood twenty-five years ago on Broadway and Second street, of which her honored husband was an elder, is her activity remembered in the organization of missionary enterprises which have passed beyond State boundaries in their wide influence.

But chiefly does she live in the hearts of her friends, many of whom lovingly called her "mother," for in a long life of eighty years her genius for friendship was the bright star which shines on those she loved in that higher, spiritual firmament to which, as before, it points the way.

A FRIEND OF HER FRIENDS.

Mrs. Walker was formerly Miss Margaret Locke, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Locke. From left to right are Mrs. Ralph Whitaker, Miss Dorothy Canaga, Mrs. William Benbow Thompson (matron of honor,) Mrs. Sydney Carr Walker, little Marion Marks, Mrs. J. W. F. A pink rose perched coquettishly on the edge of each dainty chapeau. Each bridesmaid carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweet peas, and a tiny green and white vanity case, gifts of the bride. The little flower girl was a dainty little miss in a white frock with a pink sash and hair ribbon, and from a silver basket she scattered pink rose petals before the bride.

After the ceremony the bridal party adjourned to the Locke residence, where a wedding supper was served. Shortly afterward the bride and groom departed on a wedding journey, the destination of which they refused to divulge. They will be at home after two weeks in Salina, Kan., the home of the groom.

The bride has been one of the most popular of the younger set and the groom is as well known in Los Angeles as in his own home town.

To Lead Grand March.

The stage is all set for the military ball, which will take place tomorrow evening at the Shrine Auditorium, and more than 1500 couples are expected to attend. The grand march will be led by Mrs. Anita Baldwin, in whose honor the ball is being given, and Col. Charles H. Hutchins of the Seventh California Infantry. Special features by well-known artists will be rendered during the intermission. The music of the grand march will be that composed by Mrs. Baldwin especially for the ball, and copies of an original patriotic song will be distributed to the guests. Many society women have taken a great interest in the ball, and the enlisted men who have planned it are sure that it will be a success from all standpoints.

Musical Tea as Farewell.

Miss Margaret Goets of No. 677 Valencia street will give a musical tea Wednesday afternoon in honor of Miss Sue McMenamy, a favorite of the Morosco stock company, as a farewell before she leaves for New York. Miss McMenamy has made many friends here and her departure will be regretted.

Compliments Bride-elect.

In honor of Miss Clara Schafer, whose marriage to Oscar Shock will take place the 19th of this month, a shower was given by Miss Katherine McKelvey and Miss Helen Parsons at the home of the former at No. 1422 South Norton avenue, Wednesday afternoon. The dining-table was decorated with yellow poppies, and yellow-shaded candles helped to carry out the pretty color scheme. Each guest presented the bride-to-be with a gift, and during the afternoon the girls sewed on dust cloths for the honoree. Those present were the Misses Clara Schafer, Marjorie Foote, Audrey Beatty, Bessie Davis, Mary Corbin, Esta Kite, Elsie Schafer, Rosamond Burgess, Jessie Van Wey, Melene McKelvey, Helen Parsons and Katherine McKelvey.

Leaves for Convention.

Miss Hazel I. Perdue, District Deputy Grand President of the Native Daughters of the Golden West, will leave Sunday morning for Del Monte to attend the Grand Parlor convention in the interests of the Native Daughters. Before arriving home Miss Perdue will visit Santa Cruz, viewing the big trees and points of interest along the route.

To Attend Sister's Wedding.

Miss Beatrice Bingham, daughter of Mrs. Linnie Bingham of No. 1627 Ingraham street, left last week for Boston to attend the marriage of her sister, Miss Frances Bingham, to Wesley Gordon, which will take place a week from tomorrow. Miss Beatrice will be one of the bridesmaids at her sister's wedding, as will Miss Dorothy Bingham, who is studying music in Boston. They will return to Los Angeles the first of August after visiting friends in eastern cities.

To Entertain Visitors.

Mrs. William Meade Orr of Alhambra will entertain at dinner Sunday for the Misses May and Eva Webb, of Skaneateles, N. Y., who are guests at the Darby, and are planning to spend several weeks here. They own a magnificent home in New York, but never fail to spend part of each year in Southern California. Many functions are being planned in their honor.

Wed in Tennessee.

Yesterday in the ancestral home of the Lexie Smith Parks family in Union City, Tenn., the marriage of Miss Ruth Edwards, a beautiful southern belle, and Spencer J. Millard, formerly of this city, was the culmination of a romance which began last winter when Miss Edwards was a visitor here. The groom is the son of Mrs. Ida H. Millard of No. 615 South Virgil avenue, and of the late Lieut.-Gov. Spencer J. Millard.

Mrs. Ida Millard and her daughter, Gertrude, left last week to attend the wedding, at which Miss Gertrude was a bridesmaid. Miss Claire Parks, the bride's sister, acted as maid of honor and Edward Parks attended the groom.

SALESMAN BANKRUPT.

Herbert L. Nelson, who states that he is a salesman, No. 1920 North Los Robles street, Pasadena, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court, yesterday, giving his liabilities as $101,373.25, all unsecured, and his assets as $754.44, mostly exempt. He has $44.92 in the bank. His creditors are business men in Orange and Los Angeles county, Portland, Or., Detroit, Mich., and a score of other places.

PINCH ONE OF EVERY HUNDRED.

Ninety and Nine Autoists Get by the Speed Cop—Which are You?

One out of every 100 autoists in Los Angeles was arrested last month by members of the motorcycle squad, according to reports to Chief Butler yesterday. The total number of speeders arrested was 640, and the total mileage 14,849.

The sixteen motorcycle men made an average of thirty-two arrests during the month. May was the biggest month in the history of that division.

The fines paid by speeders amounted to $2783; suspended fines imposed by the police judges were $1135, and days in suspended sentences 1385. Forty days in the City Jail were meted out to two men convicted of gross excesses of the speed limits. Of the 640 arrests 452 convictions were secured.

ON THE RADIANT RIALTO

IN AND OUT OF OUR BRILLIANT MARTS OF FASHION.

By Olive Gray.

Now is the time to buy:

The silks, silks, silks—for all phases of the summer wardrobe which is nothing if not silky, from outermost wrap to innermost lingerie. Such savings on by-the-yard silks will not soon again be obtainable.

Shoes at for-less prices. I cannot tell you the exactly where-of, but their advertisements will.

When the man knocks at your door and politely asks if your cooking gas is perfectly satisfactory, do not snap his head off and tell him it is none of his business, or words to that effect. He is trying to save you money! There are housewives who can believe nothing good of a gas company, but if you look at it logically it is quite to the company's interest that you receive satisfaction—that you get your money's worth. They want you for a friend, rather than an enemy.

The Good Housekeeper, who somehow manages to be courteous even to peddlers, treated the gas man with due respect and this is the reward she reaped: The man examined her gas range, after asking if the cooking utensils were at all blackened by the gas. She had been using much vitality in scrubbing kettles and frying pans, with the resigned thought that such evils must be accepted. "Not at all, Madame," said he. "There is something wrong with the mixtures if your pans are black. Let's see," and he turned a screw here, tightened a valve somewhere else, and behold! a cleaner, clearer blaze than the Good Housekeeper had ever seen above her range. "Now," said the gas expert, "if you will time the heating of a quart of water, first above this burner and then above the other ones, I am certain you will find a great difference." And she did. Moreover, she discovered that it took less time to get a pot of tea ready when a friend dropped in the afternoon after that; less time to get the breakfast, and also she made the important revelation that her gas bill was less for far more efficient service. "Why," said she, "it was as if that blessed man had presented me with several dollars—no telling how many—and had also given me a longer day! I shall hereafter be even more polite than ever to those weary people who visit the door in their rounds." The man told her about the necessity of having all pipes carrying gas or air of the same dimensions, rather than unequal, as several of hers were, and showed her how she was losing valuable heat units by reason of mistakes in plumbing, to say nothing of the annoyance of long waits for bath water and other inconveniences. "I regard his visit as one of the really important events in my housekeeping experience," said she in summing up.

That Irish Aristocrat.

When potatoes were cheap and common we paid them little respect, but now that they are scarce we are "making company of them." New and marvelous ways of cooking such delicacies are devised, and new implements for preparing them have come into use. The latest is a curler—a small instrument with which the potato is prepared by continuous paring, making it ready in ringlets for a novel sort of French frying. Potatoes are a strange vegetable, in that the manner of cutting them seems to lend to them a new and differing savor, even though they may be cooked in the same way.

Have You Seen It?

Have you paid your respects to that wonderful Chinese bed in that big furniture store? It is worth a visit, even though you motored several hundred miles for the especial purpose, or walked at least half as many. Each panel is a work of carved and lacquered art and such an air of mystery clings around the pagoda-like affair, whose history is wrapped in antiquity, that the imagination at once sets to work making stories about it.

Tales for Tads.

Spread for the delectation of little ones are those wee bed coverings of blue chambray, with outlined bunnies pictured upon them—bunnies with really-for-true cotton tails, fuzzing right up just like those appertaining to the rabbits in the back yard. These bunny folk are supposed to tell over again, for interested children, the story of "Molly Cottontail," with perky, pink ears. Anyhow, the spreads are pretty, and so also are the set of bags and other small conveniences needle-worked to match.

Dainty Basketry.

Just to look at them you would guess that dainty feminine fingers had fashioned them—those pretty baskets with long, artistic handles, and bearing upon their bodies the most delicately-tinted roses and other flowers, in plastic work. In fact, these baskets, carried in the art section of that popular store, are made by a little Angelene who has by these productions been earning her way through school.

Is it not a pleasure to buy beautiful things like those and at the same time to be helping someone who is really worth helping?

Your Vacation Bit.

"Steal away a day and play, 'midst birds and bees and flowers and trees." This injunction, at the opening of a small book of household advice, is one which we all might well take to heart. Even though we may be able to excerpt a real vacation, we may at least steal away a day or so now and then, to forget the cares and worries of every-day life.

Free!

The latest issue of the little book put out by that big grocery store on Broadway contains many useful hints to the housewife, and, best of all, a list of books and pamphlets containing recipes along many and various lines of cookery. These helpful volumettes are free for the asking, when a postage stamp accompanies the request.

Timely Preserving.

At the season when strawberries are at their best and when pineapples are plentiful, the following recipe for a delicious conserve will be appreciated by the housekeeper who is,this year as never before, preparing for the coming season. Three pinappies, an equal weight of strawberries, three-fourths as much sugar as fruit. Cut pineapples in slices crosswise, peel each slice and cut into small pieces. Add just enough water to cook the pineapple until tender. Wash, drain and hull an equal weight of strawberries, cook until soft and add to the pineapple. Measure the fruit, add three-fourths as much sugar as fruit and cook slowly until thick. Seal,in sterilized jars. The pineapple improves the rather too sweet strawberries.

Fashion's Fingerprints.

The separate coat will be just as important as it has been.

Blouses are now braided to match the suits they are worn with.

Fur will be worn this summer.

The chemise or smock finished blouse continues to be popular.

Evening dresses are apt to have a bodice of silk with a full skirt of lace or tulle, which gives a good opportunity to make over an old evening dress.

FOR DEPORTATION.

Under orders of the Commissioner General of Immigration, a party consisting of fourteen men and one woman were taken north yesterday on the steamer President to San Francisco, from whence they will be transported to various countries. Immigration Officer Garrety and Patrolman Workman of the harbor district were in charge of the party. There were nine Japanese, who will be taken to Mazatlan, three Japanese for Japan, one Chinese for China and one Mexican man and a Mexican woman for Mexico.

SOME SUMMER SHOWS.

NEW STARS MAY SHINE 'NEATH GOLDWYN BANNER.

By Grace Kingsley.

Once again a Morosco musical comedy is in process of incubation, and the Morosco automobile burns up Broadway between the Los Angeles Investment Building and the Little Theater, where the aforesaid musical comedy is rehearsing. And once more the anterooms to the Morosco holy-of-holies are filled with patient actors looking for engagements, with geniuses having plays to sell, and with Elmer Harris, whose girth life on a fox farm has not reduced.

Oliver Morosco having returned from New York, with an imposing armload of plays and a bunch of contracts, the signatures on which would be the envy of every theatrical fan in the country, Los Angeles is now the center of theatrical production, and the most brilliant summer season the city ever has had will shortly be under way.

Among other plays, "Pamela" will be staged at the Morosco, with Eleanor Painter in the leading role. Norman Trevor, famous leading man of the East, will play the leading male role, and the celebrated English director, Clifford Brooke, will come and supervise the presentation.

"Lombardi, Ltd.," by Frederick and Fanny Locke Hatton, authors of "Upstairs and Down," will serve as a starring vehicle for Leo Carrillo.

Emily Stevens will shortly come West to appear in a new play. Louis Anspachers's "That Day" will also be produced.

Another Los Angeles favorite actor, Charles Ruggles, one of the stars of "Canary Cottage," will come West for the production of a new play in which he will be featured, entitled "Just a suggestion."

Janet Dunbar arrived yesterday and awaits rehearsal in a new play.

An important item of interest to all true first-nighters is the fact that Blanche Ring will appear in "What Next" in full-length tights.

Daily Triangle Bulletin.

Rumor which appeared well founded was rife yesterday regarding the future of the Triangle Film Corporation. The latest bulletin has it that Thomas H. Ince is to identify himself with the Goldwyn Pictures Company, and that he will take with him to the Goldwyn organization some of the best Triangle stars, including William S. Hart, Charles Ray, Dorothy Dalton and Enid Bennett. Miss Dalton, it is asserted, is now enjoying a popularity in some parts of the country almost equalling that of Mary Pickford and other stars.

Mabel Normand is also reported to have signed with Goldwyn.

Further details have it that numerous Triangle exchange men throughout the country have gone over to the Goldwyn standard.

Reproduction Note.

"Red Cross Rosie" was born the other day, and Ethel MacDonough, at the Orpheum, is the mother. There is no scandal connected with the event, however, as Red Cross Rosie is only a little red yarn dollie with beady eyes, dressed like a Red Cross nurse. The family of Red Cross Rosies has reproduced so fast as to make the w.k. guinea pig look like an old maid on a desert island.

Everybody in the feminine contingent at the Orpheum this week is making and selling the dolls for the benefit of the Red Cross, and already more than $100 has been realized.

Hurrah for Muggins!

Inside Information.

Carl, Too?

When our soldiers go marching away to war will that precocious youth, Carl Walker, infant theatrical manager, fall into step with them? In other words, has that cruel and ferocious animal known as a jinx at last succeeded in getting past Carl Walker's magic horse shoe down at Pantages? Several Rialtoites were displaying their registration cards today, and it developed that Walker drew No. 13, while Eyre Powell, also of Pantages, is labelled with the mystic "23" in the draft lottery.

Fountain of Youth Note.

Has Donald Bowles enlisted in his country's service? He has. Reason? Donald was perfectly willing to go to war, he declares, rather than have anybody think for a minute he was over 31.

Inspiration Stuff.

When Mr. Cohn, manager of the Burbank Theater, was asked the other day to take charge of a meeting for the encouragement of enlistment in the United States Army, he opened proceedings by leading in the singing of "Onward Christian Soldier."

From Missouri, Too!

While it may be necessary, according to some authorities, to "show" a Missourian, sometimes the Missourian himself does the showing. Take Frank, of Frank and Tobin, at the Orpheum. This talented young gentleman understands a lot of other things beside mere frivolous dancing. As a matter of fact, he graduated from the University of Missouri in 1912. Dramatic genius seemed to matriculate in chunks, that year, as there were graduated at the same time four other Thespians whose names have been on Broadway in New York during the past year.

APPOINTMENT FOR COLTON TEACHER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

COLTON, June 9.—Appointment for a term of three years to a teacher's position in Panama by the Methodist Missionary Board is the honor recently conferred upon Miss Mary Ethel Oakes, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. I. L. Oakes of Grand Terrace. Miss Oakes has received her degree from the college of liberal arts, University of Southern California, in Los Angeles. The last of July she will leave for Panama. Of all candidates recommended to the missionary board, Miss Oakes stood the highest in qualifications.

VENTURA MASON DIES SUDDENLY.

VENTURA, June 7.—George Cook, one of the best-known residents of this community, died suddenly this morning at his home a few miles east of town. He had resided in this county for over thirty-five years. He was born at Marshall, Mich., in 1849, and was married at Winfield, Iowa, to Ella Smith. Mr. Cook was one of the oldest Masons in Ventura lodge. He had held high Masonic offices. He leaves a widow and three daughters, Mrs. Fred Pidduck, Celia and Marjorie Cook.

BONDS VOTED FOR SEWER SYSTEM.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

UPLAND, June 9.—Upland citizens Tuesday declared themselves in favor of a city sewer system when they went to the polls and voted in favor of bonds in the amount of $24,000 for the construction of an outfall sewer to connect with the Ontario system.

A total of 478 votes was cast, 360 yes and 118 no, the two-thirds majority mark being passed by forty-two votes. The bond money will be used for the construction of the outfall only, the laterals to be put in under the Vrooman act.

AT THE THEATERS.

Superba.

Henrik Ibsen's domestic drama, "A Doll's House," is proving an unqualified success at the Superba this week and Dorothy Phillips is scoring a new triumph as Nora Helmer.

Next week the Superba management will present Ella Hall in an H. O. Davis story called "The Little Orphan."

Symphony.

Ethel Barrymore is proving a fine drawing card, and she has captured all the hearts in the dock, or rather in the audiences at the Symphony this week in "The Call of Her People."

The photoplay beginning next Sunday will be "The Beautiful Lie," starring Frances Nelson.

REALTY MEN GREET THEIR PRESIDENT.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT ANNUAD MEETING OF BOARD.

New Executive Pledges Utmost Efforts to Equal Record of Predecessor, Who is Presented with Embossed Resolutions Expressing Appreciation for Services.

The members of the Los Angeles Realty Board assembled almost to a man yesterday noon at the Broadway Department Store cafe to greet Herbert L. Cornish, the newly-elected president of that organization. The space set aside for the realty men's luncheon, in fact, was so overcrowded that several were unable to find places at the tables.

The occasion was the annual meeting of the board and was marked by reports of the various officers. W. W. Mines, the retiring president, gave a history of the past year's activities, reciting the various proceedings carried on by the organized realty men, culminating in the securing of the long-agitated legislative measure by which all those engaging in the handling of real estate on a brokerage basis will henceforth be compelled to take out a State license. J. M. Best, secretary of the board, read a report, as did also Roy C. Sealey, the treasurer.

Philip D. Wilson, predecessor in office to Mr. Best, paid a high tribute to Mr. Mines as the retiring executive and on behalf of the board presented him with a set of embossed resolutions setting forth the esteem in which the organization had held him. James R. H. Wagner, a former president of the board, then presented Mr. Mines with a gold watch in token of the appreciation of the realty men for his three years of faithful service.

Mr. Cornish pledged his utmost efforts to the successful conduct of the board's business during the year to come and expressed the hope that he might make a record somewhat approaching that of Mr. Mines. He spoke optimistically of the business outlook and expressed the belief that the realty license bill will place the real estate business in California on a higher plane than ever before.

Tracy L. Becker, deputy District Attorney, spoke at length on the working of the new license bill and explained its many provisions. Lester Henry of Pasadena appealed to the realty men to do everything in their power to promote the sale of the Liberty Bonds.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) General price advances marked the day in Wall street, industrial issues being in especial demand. The character of trading was of such exceptional breadth as to heighten the impression of growing public participation. United States Steel maintained its leadership, being closely rivaled by Bethlehem. A new low record of 25 for Russian exchange, concurrent with further heaviness of Russian government bonds, excited little interest. In the bond market there was heavy buying of Anglo-French Fives.

THE NEW COUNCIL.

It is predicted that the new City Council will be called to order with an ax instead of a hammer. Gentlemen, the way to go for evils is to go for them hard. Yes, the ax is the thing! It is what the voters used.

AN APT QUOTATION.

Nineteen centuries ago Saint John the Evangelist with prophetic vision looked upon Los Angeles of the future and said: "I know thy Works. I have not found thy Works perfect." (3 Revelations, verse 1, 2.)

LIKE OLD TIMES.

A dispatch from Brawley says: "Two deputy sheriffs, in pursuit of horse thieves here tonight, captured two suspects, recovered the horse and also took into custody two men who were fighting a pistol duel, all in five minutes, in the same block in Sonoratown." That Brawley correspondent has no words to waste. He has too much to tell.

STRIKERS NOT EXEMPT.

When the copper miners—or those who before the strike were copper miners—in Jerome, Ariz., apply for exemption from conscription on the ground that they are engaged in an industry which is necessary for the production of war measures, they will be asked where they are working. They will reply that they are not working at present, they are striking for the sacred right of labor to dictate to capital who shall be employed. And the board will answer "exemption denied; we are not exempting idlers. Since you will not wield & pick you must take your chances of being required to carry a gun."

UNFAIR EXEMPTION.

One of the eccentricities of the proposed income-tax law is that which exempts "the compensation of all officers and employees of a State or any political subdivision thereof." In California the State, county and city officials as a rule do less work for more money than any other men. Is it quite fair to tax the $3000 income of a hard-worked book-keeper or foreman of an industrial establishment and allow the $5000 and $10,000 commissioners and the State officials and the sheriffs and county clerks and recorders and treasurers and mayors and controllers and district and city attorneys to escape taxation?

A CHESTNUT? YES.

The Supreme Court of Tennessee, in a recent decision, incurred the hostility of friends of soul-destroying tobacco. The plaintiff bought a plug of tobacco, bit a "chew" therefrom and within a few moments his mouth and lips began to smart. Examining the remnant of the plug he found therein a large black bug which he had just bitten in two. A recovery against the manufacturer was denied on the ground that tobacco is not a food.

"All tobacco chewers in this Legislature," said an Arizona statesman, "may claim to be socially and politically equal. Whatever surface differences may appear, they expect to rate with each other."

REGISTRATION FIGURES.

The returns thus far received show that the five Pacific States of Arizona, California, Nevada, Washington and New Mexico and the six Intermountain States of Utah, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, North Dakota and South Dakota show a registration 15 per cent. greater than that allotted to them by the estimates. The sixteen Southern States exceeded their allotment by 10 per cent. Kansas, Missouri and Nebraska exceeded their allotment 4 per cent.; New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania exceeded it one-fifth of 1 per cent., and the registration in the six New England States was 10 per cent. less than the allotment. Later returns may change these figures and the real results will appear after the exemptions are passed upon.

RECONSTRUCTION OF GERMANY.

The German Reichstag, as a legislative body, "leaves very much to be desired." It is, says the New York Herald, "a shadow, a mockery of parliamentary government; a body which neither governs nor controls, in which no minister is responsible in any shape or form, which the Kaiser may dissolve whenever and as often as he likes and which has no effective powers except to obey the throne."

To the discard with it. Give the German people a parliament with the same powers as those possessed by the British Parliament or the French Chamber of Deputies or the American Congress. Give them an executive—call him kaiser, king or president—who will receive as salary about 1 per cent. of the $6,000,000 which Mr. Hohenzollern annually wrings from the German people. Relieve them of the vast expense of an army and navy and then watch them prosper.

AN AMERICAN VICTORY.

There is a mighty heart-beat for America in the official statement that the United States ship Silver Shell has sunk a U-boat. The loss of one U-boat more or less does not affect the status of the war ordinarily, but the loss of that one has materially destroyed the hope of Germany.

The Silver Shell, an American merchantman, owned by a California company, was the first to sail with a gun crew after the declaration of war; and she sank the first submarine that attacked. That has greatly heartened American merchantmen in every port. It has given a new thrill to the resolution of shipping men. It has helped to show that the terror of the seas is vulnerable, quite vulnerable; in fact, so vulnerable that the submarine has become almost negligible.

For some three months Germany has been carrying on her desperate campaign. At first the U-boats were a frightful menace. They dragged down as many as fifty-nine ships in a week; but week by week their torpedoes have become less and less effective; and the number of sinkings has so rapidly decreased that the British Admiralty's official report for the week ending June 6 shows the total loss to have been but eighteen vessels out of more than 5000 that sailed to or from English ports.

Confidence has been almost wholly restored in shipping circles. The U-boat is no longer regarded as a "terror." It has become a kind of a pirate, annoying rather than seriously affecting the decisions of war. In the beginning the Kaiser drew a circle of death for all neutrals around England. He was determined to starve the island. He cast the dice for his biggest throw, hoping to either destroy or to bluff commerce with England. And the Silver Shell has been a great factor in blasting German hope and expectation; for it has shown that Americans cannot be bluffed and are not to be destroyed.

Political quacks are beginning to discover that maybe they have worn their welcome out in Los Angeles. Our people seem to have grown weary of patent nostrums, weary of chasing after utopias and desirous of returning to a system under which the government protects the public health and public safety, but interferes as little as possible with private industry and individual liberty.

Tuesday's city election will stand as a milestone on the road to real progress. The Socialist ranters and municipal traders fared worse than at any other election in recent years. Both in the choice of public officials and in separating the wheat from the chaff in the eight regulatory propositions on the ballot the majority of the electors displayed commendable discrimination. They opposed further expenditures for public ownership of an electric light and power plant; but they favored, in supporting strict jitney regulation, the public ownership of the city streets.

While the city administration was chasing an ignis fatuus of municipal trading it permitted the control of the public thoroughfares in the retail districts to drift into the hands of a private association of jitney-bus operators whose members pay little taxes, but whose machines blockaded the streets and deprived the State of thousands of dollars in revenue by reason of the decrease in the receipts of the street railway companies. During the same period the encroachments of the billboard trust were permitted to increase until many residence sections of the city are disfigured by long lines of flaring advertisements that jeer at the efforts of our citizens toward a city beautiful, while they afford shelters for crime and vice.

Repeated protests were made by tens of thousands of citizens against these twin nuisances; but a majority of the members of the Council were too busy devising new and untried experiments in municipal trading and municipal regulation to listen to these complaints. Provided the city secured its own municipal distributing plant for an electric light and power system, the rest didn't matter.

Some may regard the action of the electorate as unfeeling. Its rebuke to the Council and to the Public Utility Commission and to those who were shaping their policies for them is deeply humiliating. Some of those rebuked are already asserting that they are martyrs to the cause of the people. It is possible that they were sincere in their attitude; there are martyrs to the cause of error as well as to that of truth. But the result of the election has proved that they were not acting in accordance with the wishes of the great majority of the electorate. The policy, not the individual, was rebuked.

Friends of one Councilmanic candidate assert that he owes his defeat to his loyalty to former Gov. Johnson and the Progressive party. It is true that he supported the Johnsonian policies in the State Senate, including a vote for the anti-injunction, picketing bill, and that these policies are not popular in Los Angeles. His public record certainly proved a handicap; a man who would vote for picketing and sabotage in the State Senate would be expected to pursue a similar policy in the City Council. The electorate is to be congratulated on his repudiation.

It is gratifying to note that another member of the Legislature, one who declined to sign the Johnson patronage pledge or to vote for picketing and sabotage, is numbered among the successful Councilmanic candidates. His legislative record was his chief asset. The public listened to an "appeal to reason" in this instance which did not issue from a Socialist press.

Plainly the reign of terror for private capital and private industry in Los Angeles is nearing its end. Future administrations will not receive absolution for squandering money on fatuous legislative experiments because its members fought at Armageddon. Citizens are beginning to come to a realization that a public service corporation is a public necessity, and that no public interest is served by harassing these corporations through unnecessary legislative restrictions. They will no longer vote bonds to enable a municipal corporation to invade a field already served adequately by existing companies.

Possibly John R. Haynes, Marshall Stimson, Meyer Lissner and Senator Brown are deeply grieved at the action of the voters on Tuesday; but there are tens of thousands of taxpayers who will give sighs and chuckles of relief as they view a bit of blue sky, indicating that the storm of high taxes and legislative folly is slowly but surely abating.

The First to Come Down.

WE RESIST—OF COURSE!

If Germany had lived up to the promises she made on five different occasions and had contented herself with destroying American property without extending her "campaign of frightfulness" to the destruction of American lives she could not have forced us into this war.

It was apparent when the war broke out that the United States, with other neutral nations, would be compelled to suffer injuries inflicted upon the property of their citizens. These alone would not have justified war. We could protest and demand indemnity and there would come a time when the protest would be made good in some international tribunal competent to sit in judgment and award payment. But there is no compensation that can compensate for the loss of human life. When more than 200 American citizens following the peaceful pursuits of life were ruthlessly murdered contrary to all international law, and when Germany, after a few months' abstention from murdering Americans on the high seas, without notice proclaimed to us and to the world her purpose to resume her practice of destroying American life, there was absolutely no course left for us to pursue except that of declaring war against the murderer.

President Wilson voiced the sentiments of the nation when he said in an address to the House of Representatives, "I am thinking of fundamental human rights, chief of all the right of life itself. I am thinking not only of the rights of Americans to go and come about their proper business by way of the sea, but also of something much deeper, much more fundamental than that. I am thinking of those rights of humanity without which there is no civilization."

In declaring that a state of war exists between Germany and the United States and in making preparations to carry on that war we defend ourselves against murder and piracy. Germany declared her purpose to continue the destruction of all ships, neutral as well as belligerent, including peaceful merchant ships traveling upon the high seas on necessary errands.

In making this declaration and in following it with acts of destruction Germany set herself up against the whole world. She made of herself an outlaw of nations and forfeited all respect, as would an outlaw standing on the highway, revolver in hand, threatening to take the lives, and actually taking the lives, of all who attempted to pass along that road.

Said Congressman Steenerson: "We have the right to defend ourselves against such aggression at all hazards; let us remember that we often overlook the fact that these ships upon the high seas are a part of our country over which the Stars and Stripes float. The Constitution itself provides that Congress shall have power to define and punish piracy and felonies committed upon the high seas and offenses against the laws of nations, and to make rules for the government and regulation of the military and naval forces. There is not any place on the high seas where one of our ships may be that is not a part of the United States. The men and women on that ship are just as much within our jurisdiction as if they were living in the city of Washington, and their rights are as sacred, and the duty rests on this government to protect them in all those rights."

If we were to submit to the threats and offer no resistance to the acts of Mr. Hohenzollern the products of our farms could not be exported. We could get no imports. The people of the Allied nations would not be the only sufferers. There are neutral countries that are dependent for food supplies on free access to the ocean, and neither Spain, Holland, Norway, Sweden nor Belgium could exist for a long time without importation of foodstuffs.

DEMOCRATIC DILEMMAS.

Our Democratic statesmen are in a dilemma over their latest revenue bill. They have discovered that the government cannot penalize excess profits and at the same time collect surtaxes on them. Just as they had builded their hopes highest on the surtaxes they discover that they have passed other laws for the punishment of the rich which would make the payment of a surtax practically the confession of a crime.

One wing of the administration is planning new methods of attack on Wall street; but another wing is fearful lest the profits of Wall street should diminish; for it is through a division of these profits that the administration is hoping to raise a goodly part of the new war tax. No profits, no revenue! One-half the Democratic party demands that no profits shall be permitted to accrue to combinations of capital; the other half is demanding that the new revenue bill shall tax corporation profits to the limit and that the rest of the country shall go tax free. The Democratic donkey is vacillating, like its progenitor, between two bales of hay.

John Barleycorn is resting in smug security behind the same war revenue bill. There has been a clamor from the latest followers of William Jennings Bryan, one time member of a Wilson Cabinet, for a national prohibitory act as an efficiency measure. The "drys" have spent much time and money collecting data showing how many million bushels of cereals are withdrawn from the food supply of the nation annually to be converted into alcohol. They have discovered that 107,781,415 bushels of grain were consumed last year in the manufacture of alcohol. This means almost a bushel, or a sixty days' supply, for every man, woman and child in the country. Think what a saving in food, what an elimination of waste prohibition offers!

But just as this great moral and efficiency measure was about to be reported favorably from committee a peremptory protest came from no less person than Secretary of Agriculture David F. Houston. If no alcohol were to be manufactured there would be no liquor revenue; besides, at least 7500 deserving Democrats in the revenue service would be without employment. Herbert C. Hoover, President Wilson's hand-picked food expert, made a personal appeal to Congress. He asked that the proposed amendment forbidding the use of grain for manufacturing alcohol be not adopted. He favored food conservation, but he did not desire to see any prohibitory amendment tacked to the administration pure food bill. Secretary of Agriculture Houston politely added: "Them's my sentiments, too."

Here is another dilemma. The attempt to assimilate the "dry" vote of the doubtful States is doomed to dismal failure if some restriction is not placed on the use of grain in the manufacture of alcohol; but if there is no liquor there will be no liquor tax and the Democratic politicians fear a loss of prestige if they force a direct war tax on the laboring classes. They are not concerned about an indirect tax; for they reason that anyone astute enough to figure that out is too astute to vote the Democratic ticket, with or without war taxes.

The cables report that the United States is to make an offer for the Dutch island of Curacao. It includes five other small islands containing a combined area of 436 square miles and a population of 54,000 people. There is one good harbor in the island Curacao.

It has been suggested that the United States prohibit the further manufacture of white flour and compel the milling of whole wheat flour. By so doing a saving of 30 per cent. waste of food could be prevented. And a more nutritious bread could be secured.

Do you know that when you make a dinner of string beans it is just about the same as taking a bath? The bean contains 83 per cent. of water.

OPENED LETTERS.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

To Mr. J. Armour Swift:

Dear Sir—Doubtless you have noticed that you are not selling me as much bacon as you did in former and rosier days. Because of it you have probably wondered what was the matter with your business, and in your despondent moods have been tempted to end the struggle.

But do not place the blame entirely on me. It is really your own fault. The trouble can really be dated from that moment when your butcher man began to charge me 3 cents an ounce for your mill-run bacon that he used to sell me by the yard or hundredweight—I forget which. When a man can carry a dollar's worth of bacon in his hat band and still pull the lid down over his ears smoked meats become the playthings of the rich and not the accustomed fodder of common millionaires.

Why don't you raise another pig and thus aid us in lowering the lofty table charges?

So long as you persist in asking me 3 cents for an ounce of measly bacon so long will I be impelled to take my breakfast eggs without their bacon companion. Why, a man with a husky and healthy appetite could take on ten dollars' worth of your soggy bacon and then go out in the desert and starve to death over night.

Just because Shakespeare's writings were inspired by Bacon is no indication that there is no other diet for mind-building. Look what came from the Diet of Worms. Our esteemed government is attempting to prove to us the great virtues of alfalfa as a brain, bone and brawn builder. Consider John Hay, for instance. Well, if we get so we can thrive on pasturage we will not care whether you keep hogs at your place or not.

When your man charged me 7 cents an ounce for veal sweetbreads the last tie between us parted. I can remember the time when you almost asked me to take them away, and now to find you reaching out after my dough in this grasping and heartless manner is sufficient to smother any love I might have felt for you in other days. While it is true that there is a great deal of nutriment in the wares I have bought of your man from time, and I have derived considerable satisfaction from their acquirement, I feel that I am not entirely dependent upon them as the price of existence. I can take a chemist and a botanist and go out in the brush and find as many calories as there would be in a whole flock of your Berkshires. This feeding business is largely a matter of chemistry, anyhow. If you don't believe it ask Dock Wiley. We have seen a beetle-browed scientist who could take a chemical formula, a vacuum cleaner and a bale of hay and create enough heat units to keep a Unitarian on Easy street for the rest of his natural life. We are making bread out of sawdust, and porterhouse steaks from protose. Maybe we can make clams out of rubber, and pretzels from barbed wire.

At any rate, we are getting to that point when we can register our independence from the conscienceless party who would pinch us for 3 and 4 cents an ounce for a bunch of bacon that is not much more filling than a mess of redwood shavings cooked with spinach.

The next time you come to our house I will not be at home. I will be in the patch of Peruvian alfalfa across the road.

THE FIGHTER.

Our Uncle Sam is slow to fight, no warlike bluff he tenders; he first makes sure that he is right, then busts his best suspenders. So loath is he to mix in scraps, he is so mild a fellow, that Bill and other bonehead chaps imagined he is yellow. "We'll sink his ships," said Kaiser Bill, "we'll drown his gents and ladies; he is too ladylike to kill or start in raising hades." But when our uncle sees that peace won't dovetail well with glory, he sharpens up his trusty creese and things are looking gory. Since first our starry flag arose, by war-worn soldiers greeted, our uncle's met all kinds of foes and never been defeated. For when he draws his shining blade defeat must never dim it; and though in carnage he may wade, he'll always go the limit. That's what his shining sword is for, to knock a feeman silly, and this will be no wrist-tap war; write that down, Kaiser Willie. Oh, there'll be grief in German lands, and dark and gloomy weather, now Uncle Sam spits on his hands and cracks his heels together. WALT MASON.

Luke McLuke Says:

[Minneapolis Tribune:] And the man who knows it all puts mighty little of it into practice.

Every man is afraid of germs—unless they happen to be on a roll of greenbacks or a girl's lips.

Add it all up and you'll find that you have to pay pretty dearly for the things that you get for nothing.

A fat man would rather be fat than go hungry. But it is different with a fat woman.

The trouble with the man who is pleased with himself is that he is usually displeased with everybody else.

A man may have other troubles that a boy hasn't. But he doesn't have to worry for fear there won't be enough pie and ice cream in the world to go around.

Anyway the old maid has the consolation of knowing that she doesn't have to take in washing to support some worthless man.

Don't expect any sympathy when you jump out of the frying pan into the fire. People will merely ask what the Hek you were doing in the frying pan.

STREAKS OF WIT.

Earned His Title.

[Birmingham Age-Herald:] "If you have never had any military experience, how did you happen to get the title of colonel?" asked the inquisitive stranger.

"Well, if you must know," replied the old-fashioned southern gentleman, "early in life I gave $5 to a colored head waiter and I've been a colonel ever since."

Misplaced Sympathy.

"I am sorry," said the man, "to see that you have a black eye, Sammy."

Whereupon Sammy retorted:

"You go home and be sorry for your own little boy—he's got two!"

Where the Loss Came In.

[Indianapolis News:] "Time is precious," said the parson.

In no Position to Learn.

[Washington Star:] "What is the latest news?"

"I don't know," replied Mr. Meekton. "The newspapers are all censored and Henrietta has quit going to teas."

A Good Reason.

[Boston Transcript:] "Why do you call Sherman a bad egg?"

"Oh, it's so unpleasant to have him around when he's broke."

Cow Conversation.

[New York Sun:] First Cow: It is going to be an awful summer for us.

Second Cow: Yes, it will probably be treason to kick the farm help.

Fatal Mistake.

Smirks: And why?

Burks: I told him that I bossed my wife and he went and told her.

They'll Reform.

[Kansas City Star:] The Fort Riley correspondent says ukulele music is very popular around the officers' training camp. But, of course, the men have been there only about two weeks, and their training is hardly started yet.

Wronged Mother-in-law.

"Oh, dear, oh, dear!" moaned wifey, in tears. "I wish I'd taken poor mother's advice and never married you!"

Safety Secure.

[Richmond Times-Dispatch:] "Don't you know you will be punished for fishing on Sunday?" asked the shocked minister of the little boy on the river bank.

"Not on your life!" replied the young angler. "Dad's fishing himself a little way down the stream."

Deep-laid Scheme.

[Washington Star:] "I fancy I'll get rid of that parrot at last," said Mr. Meekton.

"But your wife won't let you hurt him."

"I'm not going to hurt him. I'm going to teach him to sing the 'Wacht am Rhein,' and then hang him out of the window when the boys are going home from school."

STORYETTES.

Quite Right.

[San Francisco Chronicle:] The Old Timer looked up from his ricky and asked:

"Well, so is this," said the Old Timer, "and it happened down in Texas by the Rio Grande. I used to live down that way for a while, and in the village which I graced with my presence a certain old horse doctor was elected justice of the peace. What he didn't know about the law was sufficient. He knew nothing; he should have made an ideal justice of the peace.

Old Stuff.

[Judge:] The boss looked at the clock. It was half past 3. The "Golf Special" left at 3:06; he would have just time to catch it.

Before him stood the office boy. He rose and closed the door. Suddenly he started.

Before him stood the office boy. He looked at the boss. The latter felt vague qualms. Was he suspected?

"Whar'll I tell Mr. Smithers if he comes in this afternoon?"

The boss stood nonplussed. Suddenly inspiration came to him. He was saved!

"Tell him," he said with simple dignity, "tell him that my grandmother died yesterday, and I must attend her funeral."

George Ellery Hale of the solar observatory has received honorary degree of Doctor of Science from Columbia University. The honor is well bestowed.

It is announced that Germany will pursue a policy of "frightfulness" with respect to conditions in Russia. Maybe the Emperor reserves the right to change his mind at any time.

The tide of gold has been flowing into the United States for more than two years without ebb. We had noticed a slight decrease in the personal visits of Mr. Gold.

The question whether democracy won in Russia has been fully determined at last. Judge Bean also agrees with the contention of Germany that a land office experiencing applications for 2 years should be disregarded.

There were no allegations of fraud in the suits nor in the case of the North America Oil Consolidated, nor others, involving the sections 2, 23-23. In this case Judge Bean held that the Pierce Oil Company was an innocent bona fide claimant at the time of the withdrawal order and was properly engaged in prospecting.

The suit against the Thirty-Oil Company and others, involving the whole of Section 23, and was charged by the Government. The court says that the testimony, who made the declarations, did not retain title to the land in good faith and that all of the other locators had a right to make a miss of 16 we have no right to note it.

What a name that Admiral Crowder has! How appropriate! In Civil War days, what a provost marshal was the name to strike fear to.

Ah, ha, we know it all now. There is a man in the claims to have found oil on behalf of the Standard Oil Company and some of the election. Why not have a lottery ticket with each run of luck is on?

The courts have held that the action of Congress in declaring war can be enjoyed by the courts. It would be a lot easier to get rid of life if we could not be pleased about Congress.

The fact that two million men registered for war in America this week gives King George another excuse to sing a few stanzas of "The Jingled Bannar" in Mesopotamia.

San Diego will have a Panama-Pacific Friendship Festival on the 24th and 25. Among the attractions of the city will be Gov. Stephens, the man who is fitting Lower California out of the morass of graft and constant agitation.

Official Washington is surprised by the rush made to the call of the colors for military registration. The tremendous figures indicate the willingness of the nation to a man is for the prosecution of the war to the end.

We used to think that the war was the one big battle of the ages. It was in 1863, but the one that is now raging in France is the high tide of the revolution. It will appear like a skirmish in the style of fighting before the Civil War completely stole the Old Man's thunder.

Lord Northcliffe, the famous editor, is coming to the United States to take Arthur J. Balfour's place at the head of the British Commission. Now if Northcliffe will only tell us what he thinks of how the Allies have managed this war he will make a hit in the right course.

THE KAISER'S PRAYER.

Almighty and Most Humane!
I humbly pray to Thee
That Thou will sink each battleship
And Thou will give my armies
And victory to me.

Oh, sanctify my prayer!
That sacred plea I make
My grand imperial aims.
May the Risen One advance

Come Thou and set my cities in flames
And Paris before me bow.
Oh, doubly damn the men who
That keeps me from my vow.
Then Deutschland shall be
And Thou shalt reign with me.

Triumvirate Linked by Dissension.

Mrs. Florence Sprage (top) is alleged by Mrs. Grace Nye (right) to have stolen her husband's affections. Mrs. Nannie T. Bartlett (left) was one of Mrs. Nye's witnesses yesterday. Incidentally, Mrs. Sprage is suing Mrs. Bartlett for malicious prosecution growing out of a totally different affair.

Unusual.

HOLD ONE, FREE OTHER FROM MARITAL BONDS.

"FOR the sake of the eight living children and out of respect for the two who have passed away, I am not going to hand down a decree finding him guilty of misconduct. But I will make this statement, and the record won't show it, that it does not take a very large stretch of imagination to come to the conclusion that things were not as clean as the defendant would like to have me believe. If cruelty has not been done in this case from start to finish, I don't know what cruelty is."

Judge Thomas, by this comment, parted Jasper N. Nye from his wife, Grace Nye, yesterday, awarded her the custody of their five minor children, and ordered him to pay $20 a month for their support. The decree was granted to Mrs. Nye only on the ground of extreme cruelty.

Both Mr. Nye and Mrs. Sprage were in court, defending their good names from the charge of love making. Mrs. Sprage not only emphatically denied any affection existed between them, but testified that Mr. Nye was employed on the farm she leased; that her husband was with her except for a week or so.

Furthermore, she stamped the testimony of Mrs. Nye's witnesses, with reference to Mr. Nye having been seen with his arm around her, as lacking truth. This caused Judge Thomas to declare, after hearing Mrs. Nannie T. Bartlett of Calabasas, that she was the character of woman who would not perjure herself. He said he believed Mrs. Bartlett's evidence, as she was not an interested party to the suit.

Mr. Nye, it seems, left his wife and went to Mrs. Sprage's farm. He took with him stock from his own farm, which Mrs. Nye claimed was community property. The first cloud on the matrimonial horizon arose, previously, when he told his wife that he was going out, and wanted supper served in a hurry.

A suit is pending between Mrs. Sprage and Mrs. Bartlett, growing out of Mrs. Sprage's arrest on the charge of assaulting Mrs. Bartlett with a deadly weapon. Mrs. Sprage was acquitted at the trial, and sued Mrs. Bartlett for malicious prosecution, asking $25,000 damages. This case is pending. Mr. Sprage is said to own a large tract of land near Seattle. He was not in court. Mrs. Nye was represented by Attorney Crail; Mrs. Sprage by Attorney John Monro, and Mr. Nye by Attorney Packard.

ACTRESS LOSES SUIT.

Cleo Ridgley, motion-picture star, lost $205 by her failure to appear and contest the action of Dr. L. D. Hollingsworth. The latter sued her in the justice court for $205 due for professional services. These followed an accident in which Miss Ridgley was thrown from a horse. After hearing details of the case, Justice Hinshaw awarded the physician the full amount.

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

Woman Saved From a Serious Surgical Operation.

Louisville, Ky.—"For four years I suffered from female troubles, headaches, and nervousness. I could not sleep, had no appetite and it hurt me to walk. If I tried to do any work, I would have to lie down before it was finished. The doctors said I would have to be operated on and I simply broke down. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the result is I feel like a new woman. I am well and strong, do all my own housework and have an eight-pound baby girl. I know Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation which every woman dreads."—Mrs. Nellie Fishback, 1521 Christy avenue, Louisville, Ky.

Everyone naturally dreads the surgeon's knife. Sometimes nothing else will do, but many times Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved the patient and made an operation unnecessary.

If you have any symptom about which you would like to know, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for helpful advice given free.

Fifty-two Graduates from the Osteopathic College.

State Association's Meeting is Also in Progress.

Enthusiasm Evoked by Speech of Dr. Meacham.

Commencement exercises of the College of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons were conducted last night in the Gamut Club auditorium. There were fifty-two graduates and the school closed one of the most successful years in its history.

Addresses were given by Dr. W. Banks Meacham of Asheville, N. C., president of the American Osteopathic Association; Dr. C. E. Robinson of Oakland, president of the State Osteopathic Association; Dr. Daniel Farnham of San Francisco; Dr. C. J. Gaddis of Oakland; Dr. Harry W. Forbes, president of the college; and Dr. Dain L. Tasker of this city. The diplomas were presented by President Forbes.

In conjunction with the commencement, the State association is holding its annual sessions here. Yesterday forenoon, after organization and business details, there was an open parliament for the discussion of diagnosis and treatment of diseases. In the afternoon Dr. Meacham gave a stirring address on the work that is being performed by the osteopathic physicians and he also presented the subject of steps that are being taken to permit physicians of this school to practice in the army and navy or other branches of government service. Much enthusiasm was aroused by Dr. Meacham's address.

This was followed by several short papers on the treatment of special diseases and an open parliament for the discussion of various phases presented.

The sessions will continue in the Gamut Club auditorium today and tomorrow and the convention will close with a banquet Saturday night at the Beverly Hills Motel.

FOUR BELLES FOR SAN DIEGO.

Mayor to Name Them to Represent City at Big Fiesta.

Four pretty Los Angeles maids will be appointed by Mayor Woodman to represent this city in one of the special events of the Friendship Fiesta at San Diego June 22-24. The Mayor received a letter yesterday from Arnold Kruchman, managing director of the fiesta, requesting him to make the appointments.

The object of the celebration, according to Mr. Kruchman, is "to draw the Southwest together in bonds of better friendship and understanding."

acres are much too small, but there is only about five miles between these two properties, and, if the government can secure a sufficient space for a right of way these properties could be joined. The Dominguez reservoir was pronounced satisfactory, both as to the quality and quantity of the water. It has a capacity for supplying 3000 gallons of water per minute, has a thirty-three-inch main reaching a distance of eleven miles and two laterals 14x16 inches. If from twenty to thirty thousand more acres of the Palos Verdes Hills can be secured the representatives of the Chamber of Commerce were given to understand by the army officers that the site will be chosen. The fact that a third site will be chosen was made plain.

THE ADVANTAGES.

The advantages that would accrue to the government through this site is very evident. There is plenty of good level land for parade purposes, and the hills are exactly what is wanted for maneuvers and artillery practice. This the officers admitted. In addition the site would border the Harbor boulevard, which offers an excellent road for hauling back and forth to the city. Facilities for water transportation could not be better, since two ports would be available, the city harbor and Redondo Beach. The whole question solves itself into the fact of whether Mr. Vanderlip will allow the use of more of his Palos Verdes Hills. Henry W. O'Melveny, who secured the offer of the Dominguez, Huntington and part of the Palos Verdes Hills, said he does not expect to encounter any difficulty in securing as much of the hills as is needed.

The following are the officers who composed the board of inspection: Col. Joseph P. O'Neill, Twenty-first Infantry; Col. William L. Kenly, Field Artillery; Lieut.-Col. Charles Lynch, Medical Corps; Lieut.-Col. Thomas H. Slavens, Medical Corps, and Capt. Richard Park, Corps of Engineers. The party left at midnight for San Diego.

THE SEVENTH DAY.

Public Services at Jewish Temple and Synagogue.

Dr. Sigmund Hecht will speak on "Conscription" at the 8 o'clock services tonight in Temple B'nai B'rith, Ninth and Hope streets. At the 10:30 o'clock services tomorrow morning Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin will speak on "Prof. Hollander's Vision."

In Synagogue Sinai, Twelfth and Valencia streets, at the 8 o'clock services this evening Dr. David L. Liknaitz will speak on "The Only True Motto." His subject at the 9:30 o'clock services tomorrow morning will be "Greed."

FOR FIRE PROTECTION.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

SAN LUIS OBISPO, June 7.—Extra precautions to guard against forest and brush fires are being urged by the State Council of Defense, which has sent a letter to the Chamber of Commerce asking co-operation of business men and farmers to prevent loss of grain, dry forage for cattle and sheep, and wood and timber.

CHILDREN TO BOOST BONDS.

Pupils will Take Appeals to Parents for Funds.

Only Few Days Left and Huge Drive is Necessary.

Saturday is Children's Subscription Day to the Liberty Loan. Every school child will be given a card to take home to his parents. This card will give succinct reasons why every parent should purchase a war bond to insure the future of their children. A simple table will be appended showing the amount of interest that will accumulate on a $50, $100, $500 and $1000 bond during the course of ten, fifteen and twenty years.

This is to drive home to the masses the fact that the new government bonds are an exceptional investment for savings. It also will be a lesson in thrift for the future citizens of our country. Those who have not yet subscribed for a Liberty Loan can scarcely refuse to do so when their own children bring home reasons why they should share in the obligations of the nation.

Excluding next Sunday, there are only six days left before the subscriptions close for the first $2,000,000,000 of the Liberty Loan. The Executive Committee in charge of the drive for funds in Southern California announced yesterday that more than $1,000,000 a day must be subscribed from now on if the allotted $20,000,000 is to be raised in the Southland.

Subscriptions have not been coming in as rapidly as had been anticipated and a great many people appear to be very backward, to say the least, in doing their bit for Uncle Sam. Every effort will be made by the bond salesmen to round up the financial "slackers" during the few remaining days.

Some of the really big subscriptions were reported to the local committee late yesterday afternoon. The Santa Fe Railroad System has contributed $5,000,000 to the Liberty Loan bonds, according to Assistant Treasurer Godfrey Holterhoff, Jr., and $1,000,000 of this amount will come from the California division.

The officers of the Security Trust and Savings Bank have subscribed for $50,000 of the bonds and 150 employees of the financial institution have pledged themselves to buy one $100 bond apiece, making a total contribution of $65,000 from this one bank. The Bank of Italy reports that every employee of every branch in the State, from the president to the janitor, has subscribed for at least one bond. The Guaranty Trust and Savings Bank is checking up the extent of its subscriptions and will announce the total amount in a day or so. Other banks and financial concerns are doing the same and by Saturday all these returns should be in.

Yesterday morning the produce market was invaded by the Liberty Loan salesmen, who found a hearty welcome from the handlers of our foodstuffs. Many of the larger houses already have subscribed substantial amounts, including M. A. Newmark & Co., Rivers Bros. Company, Klein-Simpson Fruit Company, etc., and the smaller houses and individual brokers are expected to add at least another $100,000 to the subscriptions already secured in this quarter.

The produce men of the city have been exceptionally prosperous during the past two years, and as they are an intensely patriotic body of citizens, every one of them can be expected to contribute handsomely to the financial burdens of the nation.

Members of the Los Angeles Realty Board met yesterday noon at the Broadway Department Store banquet room to listen to speeches by three members of the local distributing committee, Leslie B. Henry, Robert E. Hunter and Clifford Horne. As the local realty board consists of the livest business men in the city, their co-operation with the bond salesmen during the closing days of the campaign should boost subscriptions tremendously. It appears that, so far, the realty board has confined its efforts to a committee of three who have been circulating among the members to secure subscriptions. After the meeting yesterday it was decided that every member of the board would hereafter consider himself a committee of one to round up the listless ones.

At Symphony Hall Mrs. Willoughby Rodman addressed the Los Angeles Women's Parent-teacher Association on the part women can take in the present drive for capital. Great enthusiasm was shown by practically all in attendance, the only dissent being heard when an unknown woman arose and remarked, "thou shalt not kill." However, there were very few of the same trend of mind in the audience and a large number of those present pledged their help to the cause.

Gives Exceptional Honors to Several Students.

With simple but impressive ceremonies, the largest class of graduates ever turned out by the University of Southern California passed into history. The Bible Institute auditorium was filled to capacity, and warmly applauded as the long lines of students, clad in caps and gowns, filed up to the platform and received medals, degrees and teachers' certificates at the hands of President Bovard and the deans of the various colleges.

Exceptional honors were won this year by several students. The Lottie Lane prize for the highest average in scholarship throughout the four-year liberal arts course was awarded to Miss Emma Reynolds Hutchinson. Joseph Franklin Eshelman, graduate of the college of law, was awarded the alumni medal for similar attainments. John Sancock, Egbert Moody and Robert Ramsay were respectively awarded the faculty medal, Seymour medal and the Dr. Charles W. Bryson medal for notable work in the college of physicians and surgeons.

Marie Sprole Clark and Florence Simpson won degrees of bachelor of fine arts from the college of fine arts, while the rare degree of bachelor of music was bestowed by the college of music upon Clyde Collison, the young pianist and composer.

Seven candidates received the degree of master of laws. The graduate department of the college of liberal arts, through Dr. Rockwell D. Hunt, chairman of the graduate council, presented nearly 150 candidates for the high school teachers' certificate, and forty for the degree of master of arts.

STRIKING PROCESSION.

The long academic procession, headed by the graduates, with the faculty, deans of the various colleges, and President Bovard and Bishop Leonard bringing up the rear, marched from the First Methodist Church to the Bible Institute. Four militiamen in khaki uniforms preceded the marchers, carrying the flag of the United States and the banner of the university. Within the auditorium the ceremonies began and ended with bugle calls.

Dr. James Allan Francis, who last Sunday delivered the baccalaureate sermon, led the assemblage in prayer. The huge audience arose and sang "America" and the "Star Spangled Banner."

"Taps," sounded on the bugles, indicated that college days had ended, and "reveille," immediately afterward, told that the new life of the college graduates had begun.

BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

Bishop Adna W. Leonard of San Francisco was the speaker. In his address to the graduates Bishop Leonard said in part:

"This is the hour that is crucial, because we must fight for those liberties which were purchased for us by the sacrifices of body and blood in years gone by.

"The day dawns when again our boys will come back from the battle—not all of them—but some of them will come back, with the trophies of humanity filling their arms. They will lay those trophies at the feet of our government. Linked more closely than ever with all the nations of the earth, the United States will have spoken her word, and that word will be heeded—that there shall be peace in all the world.

"The history of the future will reveal the fact that this country is engaged in a righteous war. We join our hands to those of the other nations to defend that which shall never again be tredden down under the foot of autocracy—the rights of all the people in all the nations of this round world.

WORD TO PACIFISTS.

"War is upon us. If there are those who are yet pacifists I say to them: Inasmuch as we could not keep out of war, inasmuch as the President went beyond the point of criticism to prevent it, it is now our sacred privilege to establish on earth the brotherhood of man, the fatherhood of God and the reign of perpetual peace."

As a final word to the university graduates Bishop Leonard said:

"These times demand a higher type of educated, Christian manhood than ever before. Let us not try to evade our responsibility, you men and women who are going out into the most awful hour of the world's history. Be brave, be true, be loyal, and may God bless every one of you with the riches of His blessing."

HACKS BURGLAR WITH CLEAVER.

Butcher Chases Prowler Far and Practices Fancy Chops en Route.

Detectives Houston and Davidson yesterday searched for a man who had been mistreated with a cleaver. Chris Lowell, a butcher, rooming at No. 123 North San Pedro street, reported to the detectives yesterday morning that a burglar had attempted to hold him up. He added that he secured a cleaver and chased the man down two flights of stairs and along a city block. The butcher told the officers he practiced various chops on his attempted assailant en route.

Juice of Lemons Creates A Clear, Soft, Rosy Skin

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quarter pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as sallowness, freckles and tan and is the ideal skin softener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of Orchard White at any pharmacy or toilet counter and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quarter pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It naturally should help to soften, freshen, bleach and bring out the roses and beauty of any skin. It is wonderful to smoothen rough red hands.

Genuine Orchard White bears the name, Edward Wesley Co., Cincinnati, Ohio.

APPOINTMENT FOR DERYEE.

Mayor Probably will Name Him as Playground Board Member.

The appointment of Harvey H. Deryee as a member of the Playground Commission is being favorably considered by Mayor Woodman. The position was made vacant by the resignation of Bessie D. Stoddart, who was elected to the Board of Education.

The Mayor said yesterday he would appoint Mrs. Harriet W. Myers a member of the Humane Animal Commission, vice Mrs. Rosemonde Wright, resigned.

WOUNDED PATROLMAN AIDED.

More Than Three Hundred Dollars for Victim of Burglar.

A total of $318 was turned over to H. J. Wambold, secretary to Chief Butler, yesterday, for Patrolman Chester A. Lloyd, who was shot by a burglar November 22, 1914. The money was donated largely by the patrolmen to their unfortunate fellow-worker, who has been operated on five times. Several donations also were received from people who had read in yesterday's Times of Lloyd's heroic fight for life. He is at the California Hospital.

The charming Matildita, Of Mission Play fame, who will give dances of old Spain at the formal opening of Selvas de Verdugo (Verdugo Woodlands) Sunday.

Appealing.

IN WOODLAND WILL RECALL OLD DAYS.

ART OF SPANISH SONG AND DANCE TO BE SHOWN.

The Romance of the Early Days will be Revived at Selvas de Verdugo on Sunday When Charming Artists and Silver-tongued Speakers will Appear.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDALE, June 7.—To music lovers and those interested in the art of Spanish song and dance and to whom the romance of the early Spanish days in California has a meaning, the programme announced for the formal opening Sunday of Selvas de Verdugo. (Verdugo Woodlands,) will have a strong appeal. The programme has been arranged by the F. P. Newport Company and is said to conform in every essential detail to the Spanish fiestas which formed a part of the California life of the early days.

Listed on this programme are the names of the charming Matildita of Mission Play fame; Madame Estelle Dreyfus, who has elicited enthusiastic comment not only in America, but in music centers abroad by her sympathetic interpretation of Spanish songs, and Senor Luis Perrazzano, baritone, and formerly star of the Buenos Aires Grand Opera Company.

Addresses will be made, dealing with the early history of Southern California and will be given by men who possess a wealth of quaintly interesting experiences gained at first hand. Among the speakers will be former Senator R. F. Del Valle, father of Lucretia Del Valle, Charles F. Lummis, president of the Southern California Landmarks Club; J. S. Thompson, Mayor of Glendale, and J. McDowell Mathews, lecturer and student of Southern California development.

Pepito and Leola Ferrando, whose names are familiar to Orpheum Theater patrons and who are recognized as two of the foremost exponents of the Spanish dance, will give for the first time in the United States their charming "La Malaguena y Torero." The Selvas de Verdugo band, under the direction of J. W. Havener, will render an appropriate musical programme.

PHYSICIANS OFFER THEIR SERVICES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, June 7.—The services of every member of the Tulare County Medical Society, including more than forty of the best-known physicians, were pledged to the government at the close of a general meeting at the auditorium.

Dr. Thomas W. Huntington, president of the American Surgical Association and chief surgeon of the Western Pacific Railroad, made the principal address. He said: "The war will not be over in a day and probably not in a year," and urged that physicians of experience give "ungrudgingly of their knowledge" to organization of the medical service for the great new draft army.

BEER IS "ARRESTED" AND PUT IN JAIL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BRAWLEY, June 7.—Twenty-six barrels of beer, in a wagon unattended on the main street, were "arrested" by the City Marshal and taken to the City Jail last night. The beer was consigned to E. Endo, Japanese cantaloupe grower, and was confiscated under a city ordinance prohibiting the storage or keeping of beer in the city. The Japanese melon growers import four or five carloads of beer a week during the height of the cantaloupe picking season, for their pickers. They have been warned by the city authorities to have their beer shipped to Imperial and haul it to their ranches.

CHINO GRADUATES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CHINO, June 7.—Twelve young people will be graduated from the High School here Friday evening. The members of the senior class are Fauren Allen, Marguerite Barnes, Russell Curry, Florence Butterfield, John Daniels, Arthur Democas, L. C. Hammond, Donald Hendrixson, Etta Parker, Gilbert Pine, Lorraine Pine and Thera White. The class day exercises will take place Tuesday evening and there will be a musical programme on Wednesday evening. Grammar school graduation occurs on Thursday night.

ARMY TO GET CANNED FISH.

Quartermaster Calls Canners North for Conference.

Pack of Tuna and Sardines is Expected to be Big.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, June 7.—Representatives of six fish-canning concerns located on Long Beach Harbor left today for San Francisco, where a meeting will be held Friday of the Canners' League of California with Col. John T. Knight, depot quartermaster of the Western Division of the United States Army, who has wired to the local canners that a part of the local pack had been requisitioned by the government.

Local packers estimate that it is more than likely that Long Beach will supply 50 per cent. of the total fish product requisitioned by the government.

The total pack of Southern California during the coming season is expected to reach 400,000 cases of tuna and 1,000,000 cases of sardines, or a grand total of 1,400,000 cases of fish containing forty-eight cans each.

The Canners' League of California was recently organized to co-operate with the Federal government to meet the food situation.

WOMEN OF WOODCRAFT.

Concluding their quadrennial business session in this city tonight the Women of Woodcraft of Southern California elected the following officers: Elizabeth Liggens, Vernon, Circle, Los Angeles, guardian neighbor; Ida Johnson, Whittier, adviser; Lizzie Crosby, San Diego, magician; Mabel Mills, Norwalk, clerk; Mayme Murphy, Ventura, banker; Mary Hoppie, San Bernardino, captain of guard; Eva Butz, attendant; Mrs. I. F. Fellows, Palms, inner sentry; Carrie Atkins, Anaheim, outer sentry; Carrie Bennet, Long Beach, musician; S. A. Phillips, Santa Ana; Nell Johnson, Riverside, and Emma Long, Lompoc, managers.

It was decided to hold the next session at San Bernardino. The name of the organization was changed to Neighbors of Woodcraft.

BLAZING MACHINE SETS GRASS AFIRE.

VENTURA STAGE LINE AUTO BUS CONSUMED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, June 7.—Fire on an auto stage running between here and Santa Barbara started another blaze beside the road and a considerable area of grass was burned over. A bus belonging to the Pickwick Stage Line caught fire near the Rincon Hotel and was destroyed. There was only one passenger in the car and he escaped uninjured. The brush fire caused by the other blaze got so strongly under way before it was noticed that it required considerable effort to put it out.

AUTOMOBILE DITCHED.

While riding in an automobile along Telegraph road Tuesday, C. C. Stevens of Fillmore and Miss Hattie Young of El Rio were injured. The machine ran into a ditch and overturned. Stevens was badly cut by glass and Miss Young was severely bruised when she was thrown clear of the car.

CLAIM EXEMPTION.

Reports from all the registration districts of the county are to the effect that the official mark of 2000 was far surpassed. There are approximately 1450 between the ages of 21 and 30 on the Great Register of the county.

The city of Ventura registered about 100 more than was anticipated. Oxnard had the greatest registration, totaling 517, due largely to the aliens who registered there.

Those who claimed exemptions in this city were about 50 per cent. of the total.

The Red Cross pageant and ball given at Armory Hall last evening was attended by a large crowd from many points in the county. The "Spirit of '76" prevailed. Banners and flags of all the Allied nations, with Old Glory, lent befitting decorative effects. Under the leadership of Mrs. W. F. Sittell, who conceived the pageantry plans, the following members took leading parts in the entertainment: Mrs. J. J. MacGregor, Mrs. Leon Garnier, Mrs. Frank Dennis, Mrs. W. H. Hoffman, Mrs. Nick Hearne, Mrs. H. M. Gabbert, Mrs. E. R. Dunn; Misses Renee Canet, Cecelia Pierano, Zelta Duval, Minnie Daly, Mildred Foster; Messrs. M. J. Rogers, R. M. Sheridan, Ernest Jones, M. H. Gabbert, Frank Dennis, James Blackstock, Joe and Johnnie Blackstone, M. F. Burdick, John Behn, Leo Nogues, Grant Chaffee; Masters George and Arthur Moore, William Sittell, Bruce McDonnel, Charles Cook, Mannie Paquette, Shirley Mercer; Dorothy McDonnel, Jean Rogers, Lorena Sittell and Gertrude Streets.

A RED CROSS DRIVE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, June 7.—George G. Murray, a local attorney, who was chosen as chairman of the Porterville chapter of the National Red Cross, announces that with the charter roll of 225 of the local organization as a nucleus a great drive is to be made to increase the membership to 2000 within the next sixty days.

PALA INDIANS WANT TO SERVE.

Some Even Hire Automobiles to Take Them to Place of Registration.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PALA, June 7.—Registration of the mission Indians under the jurisdiction of the Pala agency was successfully carried out at the four registration precincts, Pala, Pechanga, Rincon and La Jolla. All the Indians of registration age presented themselves voluntarily for enrollment in the potential armed forces of the United States. Some of the young Indians working on near-by ranches even hired automobiles to take them to the registration precincts.

In a number of instances those who have dependents waived the request for exemption provided on the blanks and evinced a strong desire to serve the country in its crisis. A total of sixty-one registered at the agency, while several were away from home and registered at their places of employment. The day was a red-letter day to the Indians, as it gave them an opportunity to prove by the spirit of patriotism that they have been benefited in large measure by the efforts of the government in their behalf.

WHITTIER COLLEGE HOLDS EXERCISES.

CLASS OF TWENTY-THREE GETS ITS SHEEPSKINS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, June 7.—At the sixteenth annual commencement of Whittier College, held yesterday, a class of twenty-three was graduated. The address was made by Rev. J. Clarence Pinkerton, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles. In addition to the B.A. degrees conferred upon the members of the graduating class, the degree of LL.B. was conferred upon Gilbert Bowles, a missionary of the Friends Church to Japan, whose work with government officials there has been of marked note. The address of Dr. Pinkerton was on the theme of "Investments." A delightful feature of the programme was a group of Indian love lyrics from the "Garden of Kama," sung by Miss Lelah Coffin of the graduating class.

With the close of this academic year Whittier College enters on a new era. The completion of the first phase of the campaign for $250,000, with $111,000 assured, marks the beginning of the Greater Whittier College.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HUNTINGTON PARK, June 9.—This city voted Monday in favor of a bond issue of $78,000 for grammar school purposes. The vote was as follows: Yes, 423; no, 128. This is one of the few cities to vote bonds for school purposes recently.

tonic time

Many people are run down and debilitated at the end of winter. They are pale, tired, have no appetite, do not sleep well, have headache and backache. All these are symptoms of thin blood.

Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People are a non-alcoholic tonic. They build up the blood, strengthen the nerves, tone up the digestion and soothe aching muscles. They are especially good for growing girls and tired women who worry.

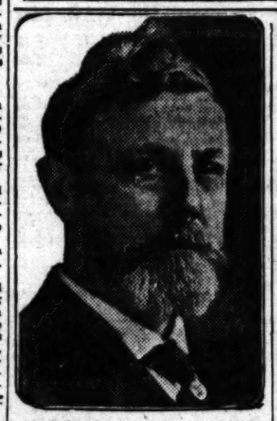
Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.



The Doctor's Advice

Dr. Lewis Baker.

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College Elwood streets, Dayton, Ohio, enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious names will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesalar.

Answer: A good tonic, soothing and neutralizing medicine for such complaints is balmwort tablets. Try them and continue a few weeks and I am sure you will write me of your recovery.

• • •

Mrs. C. W. B. asks: "I suffer greatly owing to too much fat. Can you advise me of a good reduction remedy?"

Answer: Any well stocked pharmacy can supply you with 5-grain arbolone tablets, packed in sealed tubes with full directions for use. These tablets have proven wonderfully effective in reducing abnormal fat.

• • •

Mrs. X asks: "My scalp itches terribly, is feverish and a great amount of oily dandruff is present. What is good for this?"

Answer: First shampoo the hair and then apply plain yellow mirvel about once a week as per directions. This relieves the itching, overcomes the dandruff and makes the hair beautifully glossy and vigorous. Obtain in 4 oz. jars of druggists.

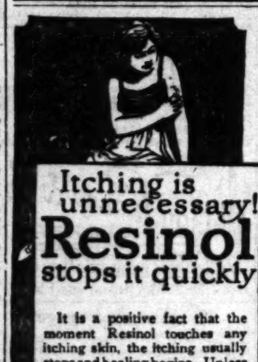
NOTE: For many years Dr. Baker has been giving free advice and prescriptions to millions of people through the press columns, and doubtless has helped in relieving illness and distress more than any single individual in the world's history. Thousands have written him expressions of gratitude and confidence, similar to the following:

Dr. Lewis Baker, Dear Sir:—I feel it as a duty to write you. Four years ago my husband had a bad cough and found no relief from all cough medicines we could try. We finally tried the mentho-laxene prescription and made it up as cough medicine and it quickly cured him. Now this last winter my two boys had a fearful cough, and again it has cured them. It also gives me great relief from asthma, from which I suffer in winter time, as you know here in Oregon we have it so rainy instead of snow. I send stamps and coupon for your great "Guide Book, Health and Beauty." Thanking you, I am

Truly yours,
MRS. M. H. VAN WART.
Lents, Oregon.



Itching is unnecessary!

Resinol stops it quickly

It is a positive fact that the moment Resinol touches any itching skin, the itching usually stops and healing begins. Unless the trouble is due to some serious internal condition, it quickly clears away all trace of eczema, ringworm, pimples, or similar tormenting, unsightly, eruption, leaving the skin clear and healthy. Doctors prescribe Resinol widely, so when you try it, you are using a remedy of proven value.

Resinol is sold by all druggists.

EXCEPTIONAL BREADTH MARKS ACTIVE TRADING.

Impression of Growing Participation is Heightened as General Advances are Made in Many Issues, with United States Steel Maintaining Leadership—New Low Record for Russian Exchange.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, June 7.—Subject to persistent profit taking, which became too strong in the later dealings to be ignored, today's extremely active market registered further general advances, especially among the industrials. The character of the trading was of such exceptional breadth as to heighten the impression of growing public participation. United States Steel maintained its leadership, rising 2¼ to 134¾, this being equal, adding recent dividends of 4¼ per cent., to 138¾, exceeding its previous maximum by 1¾ points. Steel's contribution to the day's huge total of 1,320,000 shares was fully 25 per cent. Bethlehem Steel rivaled the leader, and surpassed it in point of actual gains, the new stock advancing 3¾ to 151, and the old 4s to 154. On the basis of five shares of existing shares for one of the old, Bethlehem Steel far surpassed the record price of $700 per share, made last year. Other conspicuously strong industrials and specialties, all of which yielded to later pressure, included oils, shippings, leathers, and metals. Motors displayed temporary improvement, but fell away at the end. Rails failed to throw off their recent lethargy. A new low record of 25 for Russian Exchange, concurrent with further heaviness of Russian government bonds, excited little interest, roubles improving slightly in the latter part of the session. Heavy buying of Anglo-French 5s at a slight advance features the bond market. Total sales, par value, $8,875,000. United States registered 4s were ¾ per cent. lower on call.

Going Up.

PRICES ADVANCE ON LOCAL EXCHANGE.

SENSATIONAD JUMP RECORDED IN UNION.

General Petroleum After Opening Higher Sells off a Half. Demand Improves for Home Telephone Preferred — Active Call for Metal Issues.

Led by the high-priced oil securities, prices moved up sharply at yesterday's session of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Union appeared to be a prime favorite, and under a strong buying power the quotation for the sensational petroleum issue jumped to a high of 135.50, closing at 134.62½ bid, 135.00 asked. General Petroleum opened up a half at 102.50, but was offered freely at the end of the meeting at 101.50. The excellent showing that the oil stocks have made of late can be attributed to the wonderful earnings that they are piling up. The advance in the price of crude oil which went into effect the day before yesterday will add millions of dollars to the revenues of the producing companies of California. Among these big producers Union should benefit the most, and the stock at the moment looks like it might be on the way to 150.00 a share.

Home Telephone Preferred was very active Thursday, a total of 150 shares changing hands at 92.50 to 93.00. Los Angeles Investment was dull, and only a few hundred shares were sold at the lower quotation of .67. A strong demand was noticed for the metal shares of the better companies than has been seen on the local board in months. Yellow Pine was traded in freely at prices ranging from 1.70 to 1.71. Tom Reed was steady at 1.86, and there was a splendid call for the issue at all times. Boss was about the only metal stock to weaken, sales being registered at 1.10.

SWIFT JUDGMENT OVERTAKES THIEF.

RIVERSIDE, June 7.—Swift judgment overtook D. Hernandes of Nuevo yesterday. His faithful horse drew up at the ranch home at 5 o'clock with the dead body of his master lying prostrate on the hay with which the wagon was loaded. Sheriff Wilson later discovered that the hay had been stolen from a neighbor. Death is attributed to heart failure.

"TRUE OIL"

A gas blowout this week at a depth of 2700 feet, in the heart of well No. 1, means that a big well may be coming in. In our JUNE MARKET LETTER we survey "True Oil" fully and objectively. Ask for it. This is a good prospect, now selling at 10c per share. BUY IT.

Prices of crude oil advanced a barrel in the Coalinga field yesterday. Buy stock in a California oil company that pays dividends. They will go to almost daily, for the demand is undoubtedly going to exceed the supply. Ask us for our recommendations.

SHARP PRICE BREAK IN NERVOUS MARKET

Reports of Improved Growing Conditions also Factor in Leveling Values—First Bales of the New Texas Crop Expected Next Week, and this Exerts Influence.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 7.—The cotton market today was nervous and irregular, and there was a sharp break in the late trading. After selling at 22.40, October contracts declined to 21.98, a loss of 36 points from Wednesday's closing figures, and of 48 points from the high record. That delivery closed at 21.98, with the general list closing steady at a net decline of 28 to 35 points. The reactionary impulses, natural after such a rapid advance as that of the past several days, were strengthened by talk of an easier spot basis in the Southwest, and reports of improving crop conditions. In the late trading selling also seemed stimulated by reports from New Orleans that the first bales of the new Texas crop were expected in the Southwest next week. The date of the first bale is not generally considered of particular importance, but it had some sentimental influence, owing perhaps to the fact that the crop has been considered an extremely late one, and there was probably a disposition to couple the talk of a new bale with reports of increased offerings in that section. No change was reported in the export situation, with continued complaints of scarcity of tonnage. Liverpool reported further trade calling, with the advance checked by realising largely from the continent. Exports for the day were 100 bales.

FELL SHORT ON FUNERAL CROP.

Death Toll Misrepresented, is His Allegation.

Defendant Counters by Claim of Contract Breach.

Harry Hanson and J. E. Patterson were members of the same fraternal orders in Pomona. Because of this, and also because Mr. Patterson was a member of the Pomona Baptist Church and sometimes preached, Mr. Hanson states in his suit for $3250 damages against his fellow lodge member, he relied on his word, and, with his brother, Davis Hanson, invested $10,000 in an undertaking business.

It was represented, it is alleged, that the business had handled from 110 to 130 funerals a year for several years previously. This looked like a good investment. But after taking over the place Harry Hanson claims that the business proved to be much less. Owing to Mr. Patterson's standing in the church, he asserted that he did not think at the time that the business had been misrepresented, but attributed it to the fact that he was a newcomer in the city. But on investigating the books he found, he stated, that the business would not exceed forty funerals a year.

The suit went to trial in Judge Houser's court yesterday. Mr. Patterson defended the suit, contending that he had not misrepresented the volume of business. He further alleged that Mr. Hanson broke an alleged agreement to rent the premises, and that when Mr. Hanson moved from Mr. Patterson's building he violated a contract under which Mr. Patterson had agreed not to enter the undertaking field in Pomona. This going back into business on the part of Mr. Patterson was one of the allegations of Mr. Hanson's complaint.

ADMITS BAD RECORD.

Prisoner, Accused of Circulating Fictitious Checks, Stops His Trial to Confess and Also to Tell Court of His Prison Sentence.

Edward A. Helden stopped proceedings in Judge Craig's court yesterday to plead guilty to the charge of passing a fictitious check. He also told the judge of his previous incarceration in Folsom on a similar charge.

Helden's change of heart came after a conference with Deputy District-Attorney Doran at noon. Up to that time he had maintained his innocence. Judge Craig will sentence him on the 21st inst.

TEN TEAMS TO RAISE REDLANDS' SHARE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, June 8.—Redlands will raise $25,000 of the national fund of $100,000,000 for the American Red Cross. This was decided Tuesday at a meeting of the local chapter when E. S. Graham, chairman, reported the work done at the meeting in Los Angeles last Thursday and said that Redlands had been asked to raise $25,000. It was decided to do this at a campaign to be held soon and E. M. Lyon was placed in charge of the teams. There will be ten teams of ten men each.

The local chapter, which was organized a few weeks ago, now has 1040 members in good standing. The chapter has established headquarters in the building formerly occupied by the Citizens' National Bank and there bandages are being made and other work done. The rooms are open all day.

FOURTH OF JULY PLANS FORMING.

Mayor Woodman yesterday conferred with the Playground Commission on plans for a general Fourth of July celebration.

J. D. Radford, president of the commission, was appointed chairman of the Arrangements Committee and soon will announce his assistants.

Mayor Woodman said the principal celebration will be held at Exposition Park. There will be no fireworks at any of the parks.

"We want a home."

This little girl is 10 years old and the baby 4 months. They are of an excellent family. The mother died in child bed and the father, after a long struggle, has decided that he must let two of his seven children be adopted in order that he may better care for the rest. The home must be a good one and it is desired that the two children be kept together if possible. The Los Angeles Humane Society for Children has charge of the case. They are at No. 208 Tajo building, First and Broadway, telephones A4639 or Main 3723.

SWEDISH LUTHERAN PASTOR RESIGNS.

WILL LEAVE ANGELICA CHURCH FOR CHARGE IN IOWA.

Two Years of Highly Successful Service in this Field are to Close September First—Committe is Named to Secure a Successor to Important Post.

Rev. Theodore S. Johnston has resigned the pastorate of the Angelica Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Church, Seventeenth and Hope streets, after two years of highly-successful service, during which time he has received more than 200 new members and has built up all departments of church work.

This resignation is to take effect September 1. Pastor Johnston resigns this charge to assume the pastorate of the Swedish Lutheran Church at Burlington, Iowa, one of the historical old churches of the Middle West and considered one of the most important pastorates of this denomination.

The work of Angelica parish has grown to such dimensions that provision has been made for the services of an assistant pastor. Rev. C. G. Engdahl, a student at Augustana College, Rock Island, will fill this position during the summer. Besides assisting in the general parish work, he will conduct a parochial vacation school, beginning July 1, in which there will be daily instruction in the elements of religion and in the Swedish language.

A special committee has been appointed by Angelica Church to look over the field with a view to securing a successor to Pastor Johnston. Angelica Church is considered one of the most important of the Swedish Lutheran denominations on the Pacific Coast.

Daughter in Los Angeles Receives Word of Sudden Death in Santo Domingo of Mother, Mrs. Wallis-Thomatis — Ill Only One Week.

Miss Ellen F. M. W. Wallis-Thomatis, No. 1316½ Wright street, has received news of the death of her mother, Mrs. Rachel Ellen Wallis-Thomatis, wife of Dr. David Thomatis.

Ill only a week, Mrs. Wallis-Thomatis died suddenly on May 7, and was buried the following day on the family planttaion by special permission of the Governor of Santo Domingo.

Mrs. Wallis-Thomatis is a native of Sydney, Australia, and was the daughter of a wealthy and aristocratic English family. She was not yet 60 years old. Both she and her husband had traveled very extensively, and for a time were in Los Angeles.

Dr. Wallis-Thomatis originated the Caravonica tree cotton, which he is growing in Santo Domingo. Only he and their only son John Cassio Wallis-Thomatis were with Mrs. Wallis-Thomatis at her death. The other three children are in California. Two of them, Misses Blanche R. V. and Diane O. V. J. Wallis-Thomatis, are in San Francisco, while the other, Miss Ethel Ellen F. M. W. Wallis-Thomatis, is studying music in Los Angeles. She is also taking an active part in Red Cross work here.

HE QUITS COLD.

Expected Drawing for Land Claim Simply Matter of Take Property.

The drawing for 160 acres of land near Warner Springs, which was claimed by Fred Max Haufe and James A. Ashby by virtue of simultaneous filings, did not occur in the office of the local Land Office yesterday, as expected. Haufe dropped out of the contest, and the entry of Ashby was ordered. Why Haufe quit after he had as good an opportunity as Ashby to get the land is not known. The land is located in what was once a part of the Cleveland National Forest, and the fight for its possession has been prosecuted before the local Registrar and Receiver, the Commissioner of the General Land Office and the Secretary of the Interior.

PAY THAT TAX, NOW!

Collector of Internal Revenue Carter yesterday issued an appeal for the early payment of the income tax in the Sixth Internal Revenue District. Those liable for the tax have responded nobly, and the collections so far made amount to $1,000,000, but there is that much that must be paid on or before the 15th inst., in order to avoid the payment of penalties.

Government Calls Meeting of State's Cannery Men.

Increase in Pack Urged by Army and Navy Men.

All the cannery concerns of California—every plant that puts up food products in any form—will have representatives at a meeting at 10 o'clock this morning at the Canners' Exchange in San Francisco. This is in response to telegraphic summons issued by Col. John T. Knight, department quartermaster, of San Francisco.

The object of this assemblage, it is understood, is to ascertain just what packs will be available this year for the subsistence of the United States Army and Navy, and to give instructions to the canners as to what may be expected in the way of demands from the government.

It is probable that every cannerx in California will have to run to its full capacity for the packing season. Canned food in the camps and aboard ship is one of the absolute essentials, and the California canneries are in a position to take a very material part in feeding the men who are to go into service by the hundreds of thousands.

WHO THEY ARE.

Among the Southern California canning and packing concerns that will be represented at the San Francisco meeting today are the F. T. Stetson Company, the California Sanitary Canning Company, the East Side Canning Company, and the Los Angeles branch of the California Fruit Canners' Association, all of Los Angeles; Tallor Canning Company, Anaheim; Pasadena Canning Company, Pasadena; Bonner Fruit Company, Lankershim; Golden State Canning Company and Harvey & Brown, Ontario; G. W. Waters Cannery, Pomona; Gregory Fruit and Canning Company, Colton; Hemet Canning Company, Hemet; Banning Canning Company, Banning; J. K. Armsby Company, Royal Packing Company, Calima Packing Company, Sawtelle; Sunset Canning Company and the Pomona Valley Cannery, Pomona; J. E. Taylor & Co., Santa Ana; Belleflower Canning and Preserving Company, Belleflower; Minner & Lander, Huntington Park; Monets Cannery, Puente Rancho Packing Company, Puente; Vanomar Cannery, Van Nuys; Van Nuys - Owensmouth-Marion Growers' and Canners' Association, Van Nuys; San Gabriel Valley Canning Company, El Monte; Placentia Canning Company, Placentia, and possibly others who represent concerns packing fruits and vegetables.

The olive packers will be represented by officials from the O. C. Curtis Company, Long Beach; American Olive Company, Los Angeles Olive Growers' Association and C. P. Grogan, Los Angeles; Gifford & Sons, San Diego; J. C. Kubis, Redlands; J. C. Randall, Elsinore; Charles Pratt, Fallbrook; Ackerman & Tuffley, San Diego, while the fish canners and packers will be fully represented.

WE HAVE GOODS.

The advantage Southern California offers in providing for large army supplies is indicated by the results of the pack in 1916. This shows that the total pack had a valuation of $5,825,000. There were 650,000 cases of canned fruits, valued at $2,500,000; and 350,000 cases of vegetables. The fish pack was 367,000 cases, valued at $3,500,000. The dried fruits had a value of $775,000.

The vast amount of canned foodstuffs required may be slightly indicated by the fact, as stated at the quartermaster's office in Los Angeles yesterday, that a camp of 5000 men use 216,000 cans of tomatoes in three months.

Suit.

ASSAULT IS ALLEGED.

Woman Declares Agent for a Local Investment Company by Force Dragged Her from Home; Asks for Ten Thousand Dollars Damages.

The story of an alleged assault is told in the complaint filed yesterday against John Doe Reynolds and others by Alice and William Gladwin. The assault is said to have been committed by Mr. Reynolds, stated to be an agent of a local investment company.

Mrs. Gladwin says that during the absence of her husband, Mr. Reynolds entered the house, seized her violently by the arm, dragged and shoved her out of the house, threatened her with his fist and told her: "Get down from this place in ten days and don't touch anything on this place or I will fix you like I did the old Jew."

Mr. Reynolds exposed a shield, Mrs. Gladwin states. The result of the attack is said to be that she has fainting spells and is nervous. Damages are asked in the sum or $10,000, $5000 of which are actual and $5000 exemplary.

ELECT OFFICERS.

CONWELL CHOICE FOR PRESIDENT.

PROBABLY WILL BE ELECTED HEAD OF COUNCIL.

Newly-chosen Members Said to Favor Elevation of Colleague Who was Returned by Tuesday's Election—His Long Experience in Public Affairs is Cited.

With no avowed candidates for the honor there was some question yesterday at the City Hall as to who will be the next President of the Council. Everything, however, apparently pointed toward Councilman Conwell as the logical choice of the newly-elected members. Slight opposition to him developed yesterday morning but politicians were of the opinion that no other man can muster a majority in his support.

Arguments in favor of Mr. Conwell were based upon his experience in the Council and his many other qualifications. Mr. Conwell said he is not a candidate for the position, but indicated he would willingly accept the honor.

Lighting Contracts.

The Board of Public Works yesterday prepared for street lighting in the San Pedro, Hollywood and East Hollywood districts. It was decided to let contracts with the provision that they may be terminated at any time by giving the contractor thirty days' notice in writing. The board asks the Council to authorise the awards.

Sidewalk for Bridge.

If the owners of lots adjoining Brooklyn avenue bridge will agree to pave the sidewalks in front of their property with cement, the Board of Public Works is willing to make a similar improvement to 2800 square feet of walk on the bridge. The cost to the city will be $320 and the Council was asked to make the appropriation.

City Hall Briefs.

The Board of Public Works yesterday recommended that the Council appropriate $1500 to be used by the City Engineer for inspection and cleaning of lots.

A resolution was adopted by the Council authorizing the condemnation of certain land in the San Fernando Valley as a reservoir site, in connection with the general water and aqueduct system.

Councilwoman Lindsey did not make her appearance at the City Hall yesterday. It was reported that she was suffering from illness.

LAND DEALS SCANNED.

Grand Jury Investigates Alleged Real Estate Swindles.

The county grand jury occupied itself yesterday afternoon with the investigation of alleged real estate swindles in near-by ranch lands.

In the morning further inquiries into recent escapes from the psychopathic and prison wards of the County Hospital were conducted. No action was taken or suggestions offered officially. It is understood the jury will advise a change of system in the handling of prisoners at the hospital in the future.

TO FIRE JANITORS.

The mechanical department to which was transferred the janitors of the Hall of Records and the Courthouse reported to the Board of Supervisors that the service would not be crippled if five janitors were let out. This action was taken yesterday, following out the line of retrenchment in the financial policy.

At the Courthouse.

TRUNK HIT HIM; WINS BIG DAMAGES.

COLLISION'S AFTERMATH TOLD IN COURT.

High School Boy Awarded Fifteen Thousand Dollars as Recompense, as Result of Injuries Sustained in Peculiar Accident. One Defendant Exonerated.

A verdict of $15,000 damages was awarded Charles Grant, a High School boy of 16 years, by a jury in Judge Hauser's court yesterday. The damages claimed were for injuries received when he was struck by a trunk, which was hurled from a truck of the Los Angeles Transfer Company when a Pacific Electric car collided with it, at Ninth and Los Angeles streets.

The suit was against both the railroad and the transfer company, but the jury exonerated the former and returned a verdict against the transfer company. The lad asked $25,000 damages.

COURT GRIST.

IN LAW'S REALM.

SADDER AND WISER. Mrs. Minne F. Kent told Judge Thomas in divorce proceedings yesterday that she knew her husband, Albert C. Kent, drank before she married him. The result was that she stated she had to work to support herself during most of their married life of seven years. She admitted she had not succeeded in reforming him. The decree was granted.

INCORPORATIONS. The First Spiritualist Church of Divine Inspiration, incorporators, Carry M. Carrol, Mary Sundberg and Nellie M. Morris.

MUST AVOID WIFE.

Absence to be Penalty for Threats by Husband.

Isadore Handler was given six months during which he is not to go near or talk to his wife. Failure to do this will mean a continuance of the prosecution started yesterday before Justice Brown. Handler is charged with having threatened to kill Mrs. Handler. This followed the institution of a divorce action. After that is decided, Justice Brown stated, he will consider dismissal of the criminal charges in the event Handler has not in any way molested his wife.

Let Science Safeguard Your Home

When the United States Government waged scientific war against Yellow Fever infesting Cuba and the Panama regions, it went to the source of the disease, the swamps where the fever germs bred and where also bred the carriers of the germs — mosquitoes. When these swamps were drained and cleaned, the country round about was freed from the disease.

In every home there are sinks, drain-pipes, defective plumbing, garbage palls, damp woodwork and dark corners of rooms where disease germs may breed as rapidly as in swamps. One germ lodged there may start an epidemic in your very home. Soap and water does not rid these places of the disease germs. The danger will still exist.

Lysol is made in three sizes: 25c. 50c and $1.00 and is sold everywhere.

There is only One True Lysol, but there are many ineffective substitutes. Be sure you obtain Lysol in the sealed yellow package marked with the name in red, written thus—

Lysol Disinfectant

Lysol Toilet Soap

Lysol Toilet Soap contains Lysol, and therefore protects the skin from germ infection. It is refreshingly soothing and healing and helpful for improving the skin. Ask your dealer. If he has none, ask him to order it for you.

Lysol Shaving Cream

Lysol Shaving Cream also contains Lysol, and kills germs on razor and shaving-brush (where germs abound) guards the tiny cuts from infection, and gives the antiseptic shave. If your dealer has none, ask him to order a supply for you.
